This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

The next seminary year will begin on Wednesday, September 17th, 1902. Applicants for admission should present themselves for examination in Sherred Hall on that day, at 9.30 A.M., provided with pen and ink. If they wish rooms reserved for them, they must send their full names, with their testimonials, to the Dean before that date. The rooms cannot be occupied until the day before the Seminary opens, and, except by special arrangement, they will not be reserved after the day of the Annual Entrance Examination.

The requirements for admission as regular students are as follows:

I. Evidence of having been admitted as a Candidate for Priest's Orders, with full qualifications, according to the Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States; or,

Evidence that they are graduates in Arts of some recognized University or College, in which the learned languages are duly studied, with satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for the Holy Ministry.

These testimonials must be presented to the Dean at or before the time of the entrance examination.

II. To pass a written examination in the following, or their equivalents:

i. S. G. Green's Hand-book to the Grammar of the New Testament.
ii. The first twelve chapters of the Acts of the Apostles in the original.
iii. Maclear's Class Books of the History of the Old and New Testaments.
iv. An English Essay (to be written in the presence of the examiners on a subject to be assigned at the time).

 These books are kept on sale by E. P. Dutton & Co., New York.

Applicants for admission to the Middle or Senior Classes, except students with an honorable dismission from another Theological Seminary of the Church, are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the studies which have been pursued by the class to which they seek admission.

 Clergymen are not admitted to the Junior, Middle, or Senior Classes.

SPECIAL STUDENTS.

The Faculty may receive Clergymen and Candidates for Orders as Special Students in the Seminary, to pursue such studies as they can profitably engage in, without being members of any of the three Classes. This privilege shall be granted only to persons who have pursued studies equivalent to those they wish to omit, or who are unable to keep up with the regular studies of the Classes. They are required to give evidence that they are sufficiently prepared to enter on the studies which they desire to pursue. Such students shall not be allowed to compete for any prize. The Faculty may award to them certificates of proficiency in any departments of study upon which they have sustained an examination.

GRADUATE COURSE.

Open to the Alumni of this Seminary, or of any incorporated Theological School of the Church, vide page 61 of this Catalogue.

Applications for admission, and for further particulars, should be addressed to the Very Rev. the Dean, 1 Chelsea Square, New York.

Seminary Telephone number, 1456 18th Street.

DEPARTMENT OF THE HEBREW AND GREEK LANGUAGES.

Junior Class.

A thorough study is made of the elements of Hebrew Grammar, with exercises in Translation and Composition, and ten or twelve chapters from one of the Historical Books are read.

An Advanced Course is offered to Juniors, who have already mastered the elements of Hebrew, consisting of the critical reading of some one of the Historical Books, with Commentary.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Davidson's Introductory Hebrew Grammar; Hebrew Bible; Hebrew Lexicon (Davies recommended as the best available); Harper's Hebrew Vocabularies.

MIDDLE CLASS.

Selected portions of the Historical and Poetical Books of the Old Testament are read, illustrative of the lectures in the Department of Biblical Learning.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Gesenius-Kautzsch Hebrew Grammar (Collins and Cowley translation); Davidson's Hebrew Syntax; Driver's Hebrew Tenses.

The Greek Language as such is not taught in the Seminary, but some coaching is given to the students who need it. Seminars may be arranged for the reading of Patristic Greek.

DEPARTMENT OF THE EVIDENCES OF NATURAL AND REVEALED RELIGION.

JUNIOR CLASS.

Butler's Analogy, as supplying a stable foundation for the entire superstructure of Apologetics, is made the subject of thorough study. Its text is minutely examined, and its difficulties, as far as possible, cleared up; frequent lectures upon topics directly illustrative of it, or suggested by it, are given; additional applications of the argument are indicated; and its immediate pertinency and living force, as respects contemporaneous unbelief, are insisted upon.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Pynchon's Bishop Butler a Religious Philosopher for all Time; Gladstone's Studies in Butler's Works; Bruce's Apologetics, Book I., Chaps. V. and VI.; Pfleiderer's Philosophy of Religion, Vol. I., Chap. IV.; Hooker's Ecclesiastical Polity, Book I.; and, as the main deistic work to which the Apology is an answer, Tindal's Christianity as Old as the Creation.

Middle Class.

Four courses of lectures are given by the Professor. The first is on Psychology, in so far as certain of its truths and facts enter into the foundation, or furnish certain features, of the Theistic argument; the second is a full and systematic presentation of the various and cumulative proofs of Theism, with especial reference to the objections made to them in recent years; the third takes up the subject of Evolution, and points out in what ways and to what extent, in its modern scientific and philosophical forms, it is consistent or inconsistent with Holy Scripture and Catholic Truth; and the fourth passes in review the several systems contradictory or opposed to Theism—Atheism, Materialism, Positivism, etc.

Books of Reference.

Liddon's Elements of Religion; Flint's Theism and Anti-Theistic Theories; Illingworth's Personality, Human and Divine; Paley's Natural Theology; Bishop Cotterill's Does Science aid Faith?; Aubrey Moore's Science and the Faith, Lux Mundi, Essay II., The Christian Doctrine of God; Jevons's Introduction to the History of Religion.

Senior Class.

The Positive Evidences of Christianity are placed before the students in a systematic and logical form by means of lectures.

I. The Presumptions in Favor of Christianity, such as its Reasonableness, its Desirableness, or Inherent Attractiveness, etc., are exhibited.

II. The Direct Proofs of Christianity are next drawn out in the following order:

a. The Need of Revelation; the a priori Probability of its gift; the Nature of the existing Revelation; the Bible's Intrinsic or Self-contained Evidences of its Divine Origin, etc.

b. The Inspiration of the Scriptures, its Nature, Quality, Area, etc.; the various Theories concerning it.

c. The Authenticity and Genuineness of the Books comprising the Canon of Scripture, and especially the Authenticity and Genuineness of the Four Gospels.

Corroborations of the preceding direct proofs:—"The Undesigned Coincidences" discoverable in the Bible; the Material supplied by St. Paul's "undisputed" Epistles; the recent Discoveries of Monuments, Inscriptions, etc., in the East; the contemporary Recovery of lost Manuscripts and Treatises.

d. Miracles, their Nature, their Teleological Character, their appearances in Groups, the characteristic Differences between those in the Old Testament and those in the New; and pre-eminently, the Miracle of Christ's Resurrection, and also the miraculous Conversion of St. Paul.

e. The Prophecies of the Bible—Individual Prophecies and their Fulfilment, and great Prominent Lines or Fields of Prophecy and their Historic Accomplishment.

f. The Character of Christ, as proving not only the uniqueness of His Humanity, but also His Divinity.

FOURTH YEAR COURSE.

The year will be divided into two terms, to be known as the Michaelmas and Easter terms. Graduates in good standing of any Theological School may be admitted to it.

The choice of subjects of study is left optional with the student, except that he will be required to take one or more subjects under the direction of the Professor, in at least three departments each term, and to notify the Dean in writing before the beginning of each half year, with a statement of the subjects he has elected to pursue.

He will be required to pass an examination at the end of each term in the subjects he has studied, and will receive from the Seminary at the end of the year a certificate of the work he has done if he reaches the prescribed standing.

He will be under the same general rules as to discipline and attendance at chapel as other students.

The following scheme of studies for the year 1901-2 has been approved and will be offered in the several departments:

PRIZES

THE McVICKAR PRIZES.

There are two Annual Prizes of Thirty Dollars and Twenty Dollars, founded in 1850 by the late Rev. John McVickar, D.D., and the late Rev. Henry McVickar, to be awarded by the Executive Committee of the Associate Alumni, among the members of the Senior Class during the Easter recess in each year, under such an arrangement of time and place as may be agreeable to the Faculty of the Seminary, namely:

1. Of Thirty Dollars,* being known as the "Greek Alumni Prize."† to be tested in open competition, by oral and written examinations (though as far as may be by the pen, after the manner of the English University Examinations for Honors) on the Greek Scriptures generally, including the Septuagint, and if oral, "ad aperturam libri;" also in one or more of the Greek Fathers—such authors being designated, to those competing for the prize, at least six months before.

2. Of Twenty Dollars,* to be known as the "Alumni Prize in Ecclesiastical History,"‡ the examination in the same to be conducted as above—in part at least by the pen; and to have special reference to the early history and canonical independence of the Church of England, as being "sui juris," in all Ecclesiastical matters, a distinct and independent branch of the Church of CHRIST.

Those intending to compete for the above prizes are to give their names as candidates to the Dean, or other presiding officer, at least a month before the Easter holidays; and between such only the competition is to be held, and each prize awarded.

The above prizes are to be paid over annually, before the Commencement, by the Treasurer of the Seminary, to the Students to whom they have

---

* The Alumni Association has promised to increase these prizes, this year, to Fifty dollars each.

† Subjects for the examinations, 1902. New Testament—I. and II. Corinthians. Septuagint—The Prophecy of Hosea. Greek Fathers—St. Polycarp's Epistle to the Philippians.

‡ History of the English Church to the Eleventh Century, with special reference to the claims of the Church of Rome.

been respectively awarded by said Committee, as certified by its Chairman; but in case, from any cause, the distribution of the above prizes should not take place, then the interest of the fund is to be paid over to the Dean, or other presiding officer of the Seminary, to be distributed by him, at his discretion, among necessitous and deserving Students.

The names of students receiving prizes are entered on record in a book kept in the Library for that purpose, entitled "The Alumni Prize Record," and are also entered in the Annual Report made by the Faculty to the Trustees.

THE SEYMOUR PRIZE.

(Next competition, 1902.)

This prize, for the encouragement of extemporaneous preaching, and the committing to memory of certain portions of the Book of Common Prayer, was founded by an unknown Benefactor of the Seminary, in the year 1874, and was named by him, in honor of the Rev. George F. Seymour, D.D., LL.D., then Professor of Ecclesiastical History, "The Seymour Prize."

The Prize, as at present arranged, is a gold watch of the best American manufacture, with the inscription engraved on the inside, "Instant in season, out of season," the name of the prize, the year in which it was gained, and the full name of the person to whom it is awarded.

The competition shall take place every second year, beginning with 1876, on the third Saturday in January, and is open to matriculated students of the Senior and Middle Classes.

In order to be qualified to contend for this prize, the founder prescribed that the student must be able to recite from memory the entire service for the Burial of the Dead, except the rubrics, inasmuch as the clergy are frequently called upon to perform this office when it is impossible to use the book.

The Judges who shall award the prize shall be three in number, Presbyters, not Professors nor Instructors in the Seminary, to be selected by the Dean, or Acting Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition.

The Judges shall assign the theme to be discussed, in the form of a proposition or text of Scripture, not more than one hour before the exercises begin.

The order in which the speakers are called shall be determined by lot, the Judges drawing the names of the competitors, and calling them in the order in which their names are drawn.

Each competitor, when he has concluded his sermon or address, shall immediately retire from the room where the exercises are held, nor shall he be allowed to be present at any time while his fellow-contestants are speaking. The time allowed the several speakers shall be the same for all, and shall be determined on each occasion by the Judges.

The Judges shall meet immediately after the exercises are ended, and award the prize. In case they decide that no one of the efforts is of sufficient merit to deserve the prize, then the interest which has accrued shall be added to the principal, and go to enlarge the endowment.

THE PIERRE JAY PRIZE.

Miss Elizabeth Clarkson Jay provided an annual prize of $100 to be given to the student of the Seminary who writes the best essay on "The Motives for Foreign Missions." The essays must be signed with a nom de plume, with the name of the writer enclosed in a sealed envelope, and handed to the Dean before January 1st in each year; they must be type-written and not exceed three thousand words in length. The Judges are the Dean of the Seminary, the Rev. Morgan Dix, D.D., D.C.L., and the Hon. Seth Low, LL.D.

DEGREES.

BACHELOR IN DIVINITY.

The degree of Bachelor in Divinity is held to represent a scholarly acquaintance with the three languages: Hebrew, Greek, and Latin.

The following persons are eligible for the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity:

I. The members of the Graduating Class in each year who shall have attained an average grade of not less than ninety per cent. in their studies during their entire Seminary course, and whom the Faculty may recommend as being, in their judgment, worthy to receive that distinction.

II. Graduates of any incorporated Theological School of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have attained an average grade of not less than eighty-five per cent. during their entire Seminary course, and who shall pass a satisfactory examination in the higher branches of at least two departments of Theology, to be selected by the Faculty.

All candidates for the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity must present, one month before the degree is to be conferred, a theological thesis satisfactory to the Faculty.

The Degree of Bachelor in Divinity will not be conferred upon anyone who is not in Priest's Orders and in good standing, nor will it, in any event, be conferred honoris causa.

DOCTOR IN DIVINITY.

The degree of Doctor in Divinity will be conferred upon Alumni of the General Theological Seminary in Priest's Orders and upon Clergymen in Priest's Orders of the Protestant Episcopal Church in good standing, who shall have presented to the Dean evidence of their having received the degree of Bachelor in Divinity from some incorporated Theological Institution of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and who shall give evidence satisfactory to the Faculty of advanced study in various departments of Theology, including one major and two minor subjects, approved by the Faculty, with the presentation of a thesis showing such originality of thought or extent of research as shall, in the opinion of the Faculty, justify it in recommending the candidate for the Degree. The Faculty shall have power to accept, for either or both of the minor subjects, such departments cognate to the study of Theology as may be approved by the Faculty.

Applications to become a candidate for this degree must be sent in to the Dean not later than October 1st in any Academical year. Each application must specify fully the nature of the course of study proposed under the prescribed major and minor divisions. Such applications will then be submitted to the Faculty for revision and approval.

Intending candidates should bear in mind the following general principles:

The course of study must in all cases be such as to represent capacity for original work. It must be the equivalent of from two to three years' continuous study. Candidates are advised to spend, if possible, at least one year in study in the Seminary.

The two minor subjects taken together should represent about one-third of the work,

Among subjects cognate to Theology from which selection may be made, the following are suggested: Philosophy, Anthropology, Ethics, Sociology, Biblical Archæology. Comparative Religions, Semitic Languages, Patristic Latin and Greek.

The Degree of Doctor in Divinity may be conferred by the Board of Trustees, without examination, for the authorship of some published theological work, which, in the judgment of the Faculty, furnishes a sufficiently important contribution to Theological Science to be rewarded by this distinction; such judgment to be certified in writing in each case to the Board of Trustees by the Faculty. The Board may also confer the Degree, in their discretion, upon the Dean or any Professor of the Seminary, or upon any Alumnus thereof elected to the Episcopate, whose election shall have been confirmed.

The Faculty may, for sufficient reasons, at any time when the Board of Trustees is not in session, recommend to the Standing Committee of the Board of Trustees, the name or names of any clergymen, who, in their judgment, ought to have the Degree of Doctor in Divinity conferred upon them, and if the Standing Committee approve the recommendation, it may thereupon authorize the Dean to confer the Degree in the presence of the Faculty, at such time and place as he may select.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

Candidates for degrees who are unable, on account of residence at a great distance from the Seminary, or for other sufficient cause, to present themselves for examination in person, may be examined by commission, according to such a system as may be devised and approved by the Faculty.

Any clergyman upon whom this Seminary has conferred a degree is entitled to wear the hood pertaining to his degree; and when he is formally admitted to his degree at an Annual Commencement, the form of admission will include vesting him with the appropriate hood, which shall be provided by the Seminary.

The Hood of the Bachelor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of black ribbed silk, lined with purple silk.

The Hood of the Doctor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of scarlet cloth, lined with purple silk.

The fees for degrees (excepting those conferred honoris causa) are Fifteen Dollars in the case of a Bachelor and Twenty-five Dollars in the case of a Doctor. These fees must be paid to the Treasurer of the Seminary previous to the degree being conferred, and shall cover the cost of the appropriate hood.

All graduates of the Seminary who have not received a degree in Divinity, are entitled, after ordination, to wear a black stuff hood, with a purple border, not more than one inch wide, of the pattern known as the Literate's hood in England.

These hoods can be procured from the Bursar, for Five Dollars each.

THE BISHOP PADDOCK LECTURESHIP.

This Lectureship was founded in 1880, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, by Mr. GEORGE A. JARVIS, of Brooklyn, moved thereto by gratitude to God for the goodness and mercy that had followed him all the days of his life, and impressed by a deep sense of the good which would, with God's blessing, grow out of an endowment for the encouragement of "the defence and confirmation of the Gospel" by godly and well-learned men.

He named it after his former beloved pastor and ever-endeared friend, the Right Rev. Benjamin Henry Paddock, D.D., Bishop of Massachusetts.

The Lecturer is to be appointed by the Dean of the General Theological Seminary, the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Bishop of Connecticut, and the Bishop of Long Island, and their successors in office, or such of them as may accept such trust, who are designated and constituted "THE BOARD OF APPOINTMENT." He must be an ordained minister in good standing of this Church, or of some Church in communion with it; and shall deliver, at such time and place as may be required, a Course of Lecture Sermons, in number not less than four, nor more than seven. And no previous Lecturer shall be eligible unless at least seven years shall have intervened between the two courses.

The subjects of the Lectures are to be such as appertain to the defence of the religion of Jesus Christ, as revealed in the Holy Bible and illustrated in the Book of Common Prayer, against the varying errors of the day, whether materialistic, rationalistic, or professedly religious; and also to its defence and confirmation in respect of such central truths as the Trinity, the Atonement, Justification, and the Inspiration of the Word of God; and of such central facts as the Church's divine order and Sacraments, her historical Reformation, and her rights and powers as a pure and national Church. And other subjects may be chosen, if unanimously approved by the Board of Appointment as being both timely and also within the true intent of this Lectureship.

LECTURERS.

1881. The Rt. Rev. JOHN WILLIAMS, D.D., LL.D., "The English Reformation."

FELLOWSHIPS.

THE JOHN H. TALMAN FELLOWSHIP.

This Fellowship was founded in 1881, by Miss Caroline Talman, of New York, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of her father, "The John H. Talman Fellowship."

The entire income of the endowment, after keeping the Talman room in the Seminary properly furnished, is to be paid to the holder of the Fellowship in quarterly payments, excepting that, during a vacancy in the said Fellowship, it is to be added to the endowment or paid by order of the Dean of the Seminary to some necessitous student thereof, who on Sundays and Holy Days shall assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

This Fellowship may be held for five years, and no longer, by any unmarried Graduate of the Seminary in Holy Orders, who shall be appointed by the Faculty, with the approval or on the nomination of the Rector, if there be one, of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in this city; but such appointment must be renewed from year to year on evidence that the holder of the Fellowship is fulfilling the purposes of the endowment.

The holder of the Fellowship is to have access to the Library, admission to all the lectures, and free use of the Talman room, with the understanding that he shall leave the furniture in as good condition as he received it, ordinary wear and tear alone excepted. He must remain unmarried, reside in the Seminary buildings, pursue, under the supervision of the Faculty, such studies as meet their approval, and be subject to be called upon from time to time to give such evidence of his fidelity and proficiency in his studies as the Faculty may require. He shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour a day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; and on Sundays and Saints' days assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

If he shall pursue any profession or employment otherwise than by permission of the Faculty and Standing Committee of the Seminary, or shall fail at any time to comply with its Rules and Regulations, he shall forfeit his right to the benefit of the Fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty.

THE EMMA C. MAYO FELLOWSHIPS.

Three Fellowships were founded by a legacy of Miss Emma Carrington Mayo, of Elizabeth, N. J., amounting to twenty-four thousand dollars.

The incumbents must be alumni of the Seminary, and be appointed by the Provincial Superior in America of the Society of Mission Priests of St. John the Evangelist, of Cowley, England, subject to the approval of the Faculty of the Seminary. They shall have access to the Library, and to all the lectures of the Seminary; shall remain unmarried; shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour each day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; may reside in the Seminary, in rooms rented from the authorities at their own expense, or elsewhere, as they may prefer; shall pursue a course of study under the direction of the Faculty for the term of five years, at the end of which period the incumbency shall expire by limitation in each Fellowship, and a successor in each, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof; except that the term of either one of the Fellowships may be extended by the said Provincial Superior with consent of the Faculty.

The holders of the Fellowships may be permitted by the Faculty to pursue their studies abroad for such part of their incumbency as the Faculty shall approve and direct. If either of the incumbents of the Fellowships shall violate any of the foregoing conditions, or pursue any profession or employment inconsistent with the full, fair, and faithful performance of his duties and obligations as above set forth, he shall forfeit his right to the benefits of the Fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty, and a successor, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof.

THE SALLIE EIGENBRODT FELLOWSHIP.

This Fellowship was founded by the Rev. William E. Eigenbrodt, D.D., by legacy in 1894, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of his sister, "The Sallie Eigenbrodt Fellowship."

The nomination to be always in the hands of the Dean of the Seminary.

In case of a vacancy in the Fellowship the income to be added, under the direction of the Dean, to the principal, or applied by him to assist indigent students in the Seminary.

THE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The object of this Society is to gather information concerning the Missions of the Church, and to further a missionary spirit among the Students.

It holds monthly meetings, at which addresses on missionary topics are given by missionaries. It also has the oversight of one of the City Mission Clubs for Boys.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

THE General Theological Seminary was founded in 1817, for the education of Candidates for Holy Orders, as an institution which should "have the united support of the whole Church in these United States, and be under the superintendence and control of the General Convention," with a Board of Trustees representing all the Dioceses.

LOCATION.

The Seminary buildings are situated on Chelsea Square, bounded by Ninth and Tenth Avenues, between Twentieth and Twenty-first Streets. They are built of stone and brick, in the most solid and substantial manner, and will accommodate one hundred and seventy-five students with rooms. There is no more healthy location in the city. The advantages which a large city presents for the training of young men for the sacred ministry are not less numerous and important than those which invite hither such large numbers to prepare for the professions of Law and Medicine. They are here brought into contact with the best forms of Church life and work, and are surrounded by influences which broaden their minds, refine their manners, and elevate their characters. Engaging in varied forms of work, which contribute largely to their support, they have, under the direction of wise and faithful pastors, the opportunity of adding to sacred, solid learning, the teachings of acknowledged experience.

ADMISSION.

Persons applying for admission as regular students must be Candidates for Priests' Orders, with full qualifications, in the Protestant Episcopal Church, or graduates in Arts of some University or College, in which the learned languages are duly studied, and must produce satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for the Holy Ministry. For forms of Testimonials and subjects of entrance examination, see second page of cover.

To be admitted to the Middle or Senior Classes, applicants must pass a satisfactory examination in the studies which have been pursued by those classes.

Students from other Theological Seminaries of the Church may be admitted ad eundem, on presenting a certificate of honorable dismission and good standing.

Clergymen can be received only as Special Students or as Graduates.

Special Students.

Students who have already studied portions of the Seminary Course, or their equivalents, or who have a dispensation from Hebrew, or who are unable to keep up with the regular studies of the classes, may be admitted as Special Students. They are under the same rules in regard to attendance and examinations in the departments they are pursuing as the regular students. At the conclusion of their studies they are given a Testimonial for the work they have done.

Seminary Year.

The Seminary year begins on the Wednesday in the September Ember Week, and ends with the exercises of the Commencement, which are held on the Wednesday before Whitsun Day. There is a suspension of lectures and recitations from Christmas Eve to the Feast of the Epiphany, both inclusive, and from the Thursday before Easter to the Saturday after Easter, both inclusive, also on Ash Wednesday, and on all days of Thanksgiving or Fasting appointed by the Ecclesiastical or Civil authority.

Chapel Services.

The Morning Prayer is said at 9 A.M. every day except on Sundays, the Litany on Wednesdays and Fridays at 12 M., and the Evening Prayer at 5.30 P.M. every day throughout the Seminary year. Upon these services each student is required to attend, unless specially excused by the Dean. The Holy Communion is administered on every Sunday at 7.30 A.M. and on every Thursday, Saint's Day and Holy Day, and on Tuesdays in Lent, at 7 A.M.

In Memoriam.—The Trustees, in perpetual memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Verplanck Hoffman, to whom the Seminary owes the chapel, have ordered that its bells be appropriately rung, under the direction of the Dean, on the days when they entered into the rest of Paradise, viz.: on the sixth day of October and the eighteenth day of February in every year.

Examinations.

The students are examined by the Professors at the end of each term. The examinations are in writing, except that for reasons of weight the Faculty may, in special cases or subjects, otherwise direct. At the close of the Academic Year, the questions and answers are submitted to a Committee of the Board of Trustees for such examination and consideration as they may deem proper. A grade of seven (7) must be attained.

Testimonials.

Students who have satisfactorily completed the full course of study receive a Diploma, signed by the Dean and Faculty and countersigned by the Secretary of the Board of Trustees. This Diploma is conferred by the Senior Bishop present at the Commencement.

Scholarships.

There are forty-four endowed Scholarships, granting about one hundred and seventy-five dollars a year each, to aid necessitous Students.

The Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New York also gives annual scholarships varying from seventy-five to two hundred and twenty-five dollars, the amount depending for the first year on the grade of the entrance examination, and for the second and third years on the student's grade for the preceding year. They are not given to any whose grade falls below seven. It should be remembered that they are intended to assist only those students who have no other available means of support. Printed forms of application for these scholarships can be procured from the Bursar, in the latter part of September in each year.

Graduate Course.—Instituted in 1883.

This course is designed to meet the wants of those who wish to pursue an advanced course of general theological study, or to apply themselves to special subjects of reading and investigation in any of the departments of Theology, or of any question—whether critical, practical, or philosophical, —which may engage the attention of Christian scholars or pastors, under the personal advice and direction of the Professors, and with the advantages of the large library of the Seminary and other libraries in the city.

It is open to the Alumni of the Seminary, and to graduates of other Theological Schools of the Church, who shall present testimonials of their fidelity and proficiency in study from the School from which they have been graduated, and who express the purpose to remain through the year, unless unexpectedly or unavoidably prevented.

The instruction will be given by the Faculty, and by Lecturers who have made a specialty of the subjects which they are invited to discuss. Special facilities are afforded for private reading and research.

Graduate students will, at the beginning of each Academical year, arrange with the Dean as to the studies they propose to pursue during the year.* Those not attending lectures by the Professors are required to make a semi-annual report to the Dean, at the close of each term, of their progress in the studies they have selected. They are also required to present to him, before the end of the Seminary year, a thesis on some subject in Divinity connected with their special studies.

These students will be, as far as the funds permit, given Scholarships, and permitted to reside in the Seminary buildings under the same rules as other students. The Library and certain lectures of Columbia and New York Universities are open to them free of charge.

Fellowships.

Five Fellowships have been endowed to encourage the pursuit of higher Theological knowledge. See pages 56 and 57. No one will be appointed a Fellow who has not made such proficiency in the original languages of the Bible and in general Theological scholarship, as fit him to improve the opportunities which these Fellowships offer. Each Fellow is required to pursue the study of one major and at least one minor subject in Theology, to be selected or approved by the Dean, and to present to him, at or before the end of the year, a report of his progress in each main department.

Library.

The Library occupies the new fire-proof building, Hobart Hall. It is especially complete in some departments of Theology, and is admirably arranged with a Card Catalogue of authors and subjects, so as to render its very valuable collection of books available for consultation and use by the students. The number of volumes, according to the last report submitted to the Trustees in May, 1901, was 30,281.

It is open daily (Sundays excepted) from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M., for the consultation and delivery of books. It is supplied with most of the American and some of the English Church periodicals and papers.

No books can be taken from the Library except by the Professors and students of the Seminary; but it is accessible for consultation of the books to all persons who may desire the privilege, under the direction of the Librarian.

The students have also the privilege of using the Astor, Lenox, Columbia University, and New York Historical Society Libraries.

⁂ Copies of Diocesan Journals, and of any pamphlets pertaining to the history of the Church, Dioceses, or Parishes, if sent to the Library, will be preserved with care for future reference.

⁂ The Alumni are earnestly requested to send copies of everything they may publish.

Rooms and Expenses.

The tuition is free. The rooms are furnished with the exception of bed-clothing. The charge for board, coal, light, and care of room is two hundred and twenty-five dollars a year, payable in advance semi-annually, in September and January. No deduction is made except for absence caused by sickness prolonged for more than a month. Students living out of the Seminary are charged twenty-five dollars a year, payable in advance in September. Other expenses of students are personal and will vary, according to the habits of the individual, from one to three hundred dollars a year. Each student is required to provide himself with an academical black gown and Oxford cap.

Provision for the Sick.

There are two free beds and two free rooms in St. Luke's Hospital to which the Dean has the right to nominate any person connected with the Seminary.

OF THE

GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

The next seminary year will begin on Wednesday, September 16, 1903. Applicants for admission should present themselves for examination in Sherred Hall on that day, at 9.30 A.M., provided with pen and ink. If they wish rooms reserved for them, they must send their full names to the Dean before that date. The rooms cannot be occupied until the day before the Seminary opens, and, except by special arrangement, they will not be reserved after the day of the Annual Entrance Examination.

REGULAR STUDENTS.

The requirements for the admission of regular students are as follows:—

I. (a) Evidence of having been admitted as Candidates for Priest's Orders, with full qualifications, according to the Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States; or

(b) evidence (1) that they are graduates in Arts of some recognized University or College in which the learned languages are duly studied, and (2) satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for the Holy Ministry.

These testimonials must be presented to the Dean at or before the time of the Entrance Examination.

Students admitted under provision (b) are expected to become Candidates for Priest's Orders at the earliest possible date.

II. To pass a written examination in the following, or their equivalents:

i. S. G. Green's Hand-book to the Grammar of the New Testament.
ii. The first twelve chapters of the Acts of the Apostles in the original.
iii. Maclear's Class Books of the History of the Old and New Testament.
iv. An English Essay (to be written in the presence of the examiners on a subject to be assigned at the time).

Applicants for admission to the Middle or Senior Classes, except students with an honorable dismission from another Theological Seminary of the Church, are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the studies which have been pursued by the Class to which they seek admission.

 Clergymen are not admitted to the Junior, Middle, or Senior Classes.

SPECIAL STUDENTS.

The Faculty may receive Clergymen and Candidates for Orders as Special Students in the Seminary, to pursue such studies as they can profitably engage in, without being members of any of the three Classes. This privilege shall be granted only to persons who have pursued studies equivalent to those they wish to omit, or who are unable to keep up with the regular studies of the Classes. No entrance examination is required of Special Students, but they must give evidence that they are sufficiently prepared to enter on the studies which they desire to pursue. Such students shall not be allowed to compete for any prize. The Faculty may award to them certificates of proficiency in any departments of study upon which they have sustained an examination.

FOURTH YEAR AND GRADUATE COURSES.

For information regarding these courses, vide pages 33–35 of this catalogue.

Seminary Telephone number, 1456, 18th Street, New York.

The Very Reverend Eugene Augustus Hoffman, D.D. (Oxon.), D.C.L., LL D.
Dean of the General Theological Seminary, 1879-1902.
Rested from his Labors, June 17, 1902.

The Greek language, as such, is not taught in the Seminary, but some instruction is given to the students who need it. Seminars may be arranged for the reading of Patristic Greek.

DEPARTMENT OF THE EVIDENCES OF NATURAL AND REVEALED RELIGION.

(FOR THE PRESENT YEAR.)

JUNIOR CLASS.

Butler's Analogy, as supplying a stable foundation for the entire superstructure of Apologetics, is made the subject of thorough study. Its text is minutely examined, and its difficulties, as far as possible, cleared up; frequent lectures upon topics directly illustrative of it, or suggested by it, are given; additional applications of the argument are indicated; and its immediate pertinency and living force, as respects contemporaneous unbelief, are insisted upon.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Pynchon, Bishop Butler a Religious Philosopher for all time; Gladstone, Studies in Butler's Works; Bruce, Apologetics, Book I., Chaps. V. and VI.; Pfleiderer, Philosophy of Religion, Vol. I., Chap. IV.; Hooker, Ecclesiastical Polity, Book I.; and, as the main deistic work to which the Apology is an answer, Tindal, Christianity as Old as the Creation.

MIDDLE CLASS.

Four courses of lectures are given by the Professor. The first is on Psychology, in so far as certain of its truths and facts enter into the foundation, or furnish certain features, of the Theistic argument; the second is a full and systematic presentation of the various and cumulative proofs of Theism, with especial reference to the objections made to them in recent years; the third takes up the subject of Evolution, and points out in what ways and to what extent, in its modern scientific and philosophical forms, it is consistent or inconsistent with Holy Scripture and Catholic Truth; and the fourth passes in review the several systems contradictory or opposed to Theism—Atheism, Materialism, Positivism, etc.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Liddon, Elements of Religion; Flint, Theism and Anti-Theistic Theories; Illingworth, Personality, Human and Divine; Paley, Natural Theology; Bishop Cotterill, Does Science aid Faith? Aubrey Moore, Science and the Faith; Aubrey Moore, Lux Mundi, Essay II., The Christian Doctrine of God; Jevons, Introduction to the History of Religion.

SENIOR CLASS.

The Positive Evidences of Christianity are placed before the students in a systematic and logical form by means of lectures.

I. The Presumptions in Favor of Christianity, such as its reasonableness, its desirableness, or inherent attractiveness, etc., are exhibited.

II. The Direct Proofs of Christianity are next drawn out in the following order:

a. The Need of Revelation; the a priori probability of its gift; the nature of the existing Revelation; the Bible's intrinsic or self-contained evidences of its Divine origin, etc.

b. The Inspiration of Holy Scripture, its nature, quality, area, etc.; the various theories concerning it.

c. The Authenticity and Genuineness of the Books comprising the Canon of Scripture, and especially the authenticity and genuineness of the Four Gospels.

Corroborations of the preceding direct proofs:—"The Undesigned Coincidences" discoverable in the Bible; the material supplied by St. Paul's "undisputed" Epistles; the recent discoveries of monuments, inscriptions, etc., in the East; the contemporary recovery of lost manuscripts and treatises.

d. Miracles, their nature, their teleological character, their appearances in groups, the characteristic differences between those in the Old Testament and those in the New Testament; and pre-eminently, the miracle of Christ's Resurrection, and also the miraculous Conversion of St. Paul.

e. The Prophecies of the Bible—Individual Prophecies and their fulfilment, and great prominent lines or fields of Prophecy and their historic accomplishment.

f. The Character of Christ, as proving not only the uniqueness of His Humanity, but also His Divinity.

g. The Existence of Christendom, and its historical achievements.

III. The Verification of Christianity, as demonstrated by the consciousness or interior experience of believers in it.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Fisher, Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief, Chaps. XIII. and XIV.; Christlieb, Modern Doubt and Christian Belief, Lecture II.; Lee, Inspiration of Holy Scripture; Trench, Hulsean Lectures; Paley, Evidences and Horæ Paulinæ; Blunt, Undesigned Coincidences; Westcott, Introduction to the Study of the Gospels; Salmon, Introduction to the Study of the Books of the New Testament; Wynne, Fragmentary Records of Jesus of Nazareth; Trench On the Miracles, Introduction ; Davison, Prophecy; Bushnell, Nature and the Supernatural, Chap. X.; Row, Bampton Lectures; Garbett, Bampton Lectures, Lecture VI.; Storr, Divine Origin of Christianity indicated by its historical effects; Stearn, Evidence of Christian Experience.

THE McVICKAR PRIZES.

There are two Annual Prizes of Thirty Dollars and Twenty Dollars, founded in 1850 by the late Rev. John McVickar, D.D., and the late Rev. Henry McVickar, to be awarded by the Executive Committee of the Associate Alumni, among the members of the Senior Class during the Easter recess in each year, under such an arrangement of time and place as may be agreeable to the Faculty of the Seminary, namely :

1. Of Thirty Dollars,* being known as the "Greek Alumni Prize," † to be tested in open competition, by oral and written examinations (though as far as may be by the pen, after the manner of the English University Examinations for Honors) on the Greek Scriptures generally, including the Septuagint, and if oral, "ad aperturam libri ;" also in one or more of the Greek Fathers—such authors being designated, to those competing for the prize, at least six months before.

2. Of Twenty Dollars,* to be known as the "Alumni Prize in Ecclesiastical History," ‡ the examination in the same to be conducted as above—in part at least by the pen ; and to have special reference to the early history and canonical independence of the Church of England, as being "sui juris," in all Ecclesiastical matters, a distinct and independent branch of the Church of CHRIST.

Those intending to compete for the above prizes are to give their names as candidates to the Dean, or other presiding officer, at least a month before the Easter holidays ; and between such only the competition is to be held, and each prize awarded.

The above prizes are to be paid over annually, before the Commencement, by the Treasurer of the Seminary, to the Students to whom they have been respectively awarded by said Committee, as certified by its Chairman; but in case, from any cause, the distribution of the above prizes should not take place, then the interest of the fund is to be paid over to the Dean, or other presiding officer of the Seminary, to be distributed by him, at his discretion, among necessitous and deserving Students.

* The Alumni Association has promised to increase these prizes, this year, to Fifty dollars, each.

† Subjects for the examinations, 1903. New Testament—II. Corinthians; Septuagint—Ecclesiastes. Greek Fathers—St. Clement's Epistle to the Corinthians.

‡ History of the English Church to the Eleventh Century, with special reference to the claims of the Church of Rome.

The names of students receiving prizes are entered on record in a book kept in the Library for that purpose, entitled "The Alumni Prize Record," and are also entered in the Annual Report made by the Faculty to the Trustees.

SOCIOLOGICAL PRIZES.

The Class of 1891 of the General Theological Seminary offers three annual prizes of $100 each, open to all undergraduate students of the Seminary in good standing, to be awarded to the author of the best original essay on some sociological subject, such subject to be selected by a committee appointed by the Class, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary. No student who has been awarded one of the prizes shall be eligible to compete for the subsequent prizes. The judges to determine the merits of the various essays shall be appointed every year by the Committee of the Class of 1891, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary. The judges for the ensuing year are:

Prof. T. N. Carver, of Harvard University.
Prof. F. W. Giddings, of Columbia University.
Prof. A. W. Small, of the University of Chicago.

The dates upon which the essays are to be submitted and awarded are as follows:

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1903.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1903.

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1904.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1904.

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1905.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1905.

The subject for the essay for 1903 is "The Social Value of the Biblical Idea of the Kingdom of God;" and the subject for subsequent years will be announced by the Faculty of the Seminary.

Each essay is to contain at least 20,000 words, and no prize will be awarded if, in the opinion of the judges, the work does not attain their standard of excellence. This standard is to take into consideration research and originality. The essays should be in manuscript or typewritten on one side only of sheets eight by ten inches, and there should be left a sufficient margin on the left side for binding.

The essays submitted become the property of the General Theological Seminary; and the Committee of the Class of 1891 reserves the right of publishing the prize essay, or any of the other competing essays.

The Committee of the Class of 1891 consists of

The Rev. Frank S. Spalding, M.A., B.D., President,
The Rev. Willis Hatfield Hazard, Ph.D.
The Rev. Paul F. Swett, Secretary.

THE SEYMOUR PRIZE.

(Next competition, 1904.)

This prize for the encouragement of extemporaneous preaching, and the committing to memory of certain portions of the Book of Common Prayer, was founded by an unknown benefactor of the Seminary, in the year 1874, and was named by him, in honor of the Rev. George F. Seymour, D.D., LL.D., then Professor of Ecclesiastical History, "The Seymour Prize."

The Prize, as at present arranged, is a gold watch of the best American manufacture, with the inscription engraved on the inside, "Instant in season, out of season," the name of the prize, the year in which it was gained, and the full name of the person to whom it is awarded.

The competition shall take place every second year, beginning with 1876, on the third Saturday in January, and is open to matriculated students of the Senior and Middle Classes.

In order to be qualified to contend for this prize, the founder prescribed that the student must be able to recite from memory the entire service for the Burial of the Dead, except the rubrics, inasmuch as the clergy are frequently called upon to perform this office when it is impossible to use the book.

The Judges who shall award the prize shall be three in number, Presbyters, not Professors nor instructors in the Seminary, to be selected by the Dean, or Acting Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition.

The Judges shall assign the theme to be discussed, in the form of a proposition or text of Scripture, not more than one hour before the exercises begin.

The order in which the speakers are called shall be determined by lot, the Judges drawing the names of the competitors, and calling them in the order in which their names are drawn.

Each competitor, when he has concluded his sermon or address, shall immediately retire from the room where the exercises are held, nor shall he be allowed to be present at any time while his fellow-contestants are speaking. The time allowed the several speakers shall be the same for all, and shall be determined on each occasion by the Judges.

The Judges shall meet immediately after the exercises are ended, and award the prize. In case they decide that no one of the efforts is of sufficient merit to deserve the prize, then the interest which has accrued shall be added to the principal, and go to enlarge the endowment.

THE PIERRE JAY PRIZE.

Miss Elizabeth Clarkson Jay provided an annual prize of $100 from the year 1886 to 1902, to be given to the student of the Seminary writing the best essay on "The Motives for Foreign Missions."

DEGREES.

BACHELOR IN DIVINITY.

The degree of Bachelor in Divinity is held to represent a scholarly acquaintance with the three languages, Hebrew, Greek, and Latin.

The following persons are eligible for the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity:

I. The members of the Graduating Class in each year who shall have attained an average grade of not less than ninety per cent. in their studies during their entire Seminary course, and whom the Faculty may recommend as being, in their judgment, worthy to receive that distinction.

II. Graduates of any incorporated Theological School of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have attained an average grade of not less than eighty-five per cent. during their entire Seminary course, and who shall pass a satisfactory examination in the higher branches of at least two departments of Theology, to be selected by the Faculty.

All candidates for the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity must present, one month before the degree is to be conferred, a theological thesis satisfactory to the Faculty.

The Degree of Bachelor in Divinity will not be conferred upon anyone who is not in Priest's Orders and in good standing, nor will it, in any event, be conferred honoris causa.

DOCTOR IN DIVINITY.

The degree of Doctor in Divinity will be conferred upon Alumni of the General Theological Seminary in Priest's Orders and upon Clergymen in Priest's Orders of the Protestant Episcopal Church in good standing, who shall have presented to the Dean evidence of their having received the degree of Bachelor in Divinity from some incorporated Theological Institution of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and who shall give evidence satisfactory to the Faculty of advanced study in various departments of Theology, including one major and two minor subjects, approved by the Faculty, with the presentation of a thesis showing such originality of thought or extent of research as shall, in the opinion of the Faculty, justify them in recommending the candidate for the Degree. The Faculty shall have power to accept, for either or both of the minor subjects, such departments cognate to the study of Theology as may be approved by the Faculty.

Applications to become a candidate for this degree must be sent in to the Dean not later than October 1st in any Academical year. Each application must specify fully the nature of the course of study proposed under the prescribed major and minor divisions. Such applications will then be submitted to the Faculty for revision and approval.

Intending candidates should bear in mind the following general principles:

The course of study must in all cases be such as to represent capacity for original work. It must be the equivalent of from two to three years' continuous study. Candidates are advised to spend, if possible, at least one year in study in the Seminary.

The two minor subjects taken together should represent about one-third of the work.

Among subjects cognate to Theology from which selection may be made, the following are suggested: Philosophy, Anthropology, Ethics, Sociology, Biblical Archæology, Comparative Religions, Semitic Languages, Patristic Latin and Greek.

The Degree of Doctor in Divinity may be conferred by the Board of Trustees, without examination, for the authorship of some published theological work, which, in the judgment of the Faculty, furnishes a sufficiently important contribution to Theological Science to be rewarded by this distinction; such judgment to be certified in writing in each case to the Board of Trustees by the Faculty. The Board may also confer the Degree, in their discretion, upon the Dean or any Professor of the Seminary, or upon any Alumnus thereof elected to the Episcopate, whose election shall have been confirmed.

The Faculty may, for sufficient reasons, at any time when the Board of Trustees is not in session, recommend to the Standing Committee of the Board of Trustees, the name or names of any clergymen, who, in their judgment, ought to have the Degree of Doctor in Divinity conferred upon them, and if the Standing Committee approve the recommendation, it may thereupon authorize the Dean to confer the Degree in the presence of the Faculty, at such time and place as he may select.

EXAMINATION FOR DEGREES BY COMMISSION.

Candidates for degrees who are unable, on account of residence at a great distance from the Seminary, or for other sufficient cause, to present themselves for examination in person, may be examined by commission, according to such a system as may be devised and approved by the Faculty.

HOODS.

Any clergyman upon whom this Seminary has conferred a degree is entitled to wear the hood pertaining to his degree; and when he is formally admitted to his degree at an Annual Commencement, the form of admission will include vesting him with the appropriate hood, which shall be provided by the Seminary.

The Hood of the Bachelor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of black ribbed silk, lined with purple silk.

The Hood of the Doctor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of scarlet cloth, lined with purple silk.

The fees for degrees (excepting those conferred honoris causa) are Fifteen Dollars in the case of a Bachelor and Twenty-five Dollars in the case of a Doctor. These fees must be paid to the Treasurer of the Seminary previous to the degree's being conferred, and shall cover the cost of the appropriate hood.

All graduates of the Seminary who have not received a degree in Divinity, are entitled, after ordination, to wear a black stuff hood, with a purple border, not more than one inch wide, of the pattern known as the Literate's hood in England.

These hoods can be procured from the Bursar, for Five Dollars each.

THE BISHOP PADDOCK LECTURESHIP.

This Lectureship was founded in 1880, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, by Mr. GEORGE A. JARVIS, of Brooklyn, moved thereto by gratitude to God for the goodness and mercy that had followed him all the days of his life, and impressed by a deep sense of the good which would, with God's blessing, grow out of an endowment for the encouragement of "the defence and confirmation of the Gospel" by godly and well-learned men.

He named it after his former beloved pastor and ever-endeared friend, the Right Rev. Benjamin Henry Paddock, D.D., Bishop of Massachusetts.

The Lecturer is to be appointed by the Dean of the General Theological Seminary, the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Bishop of Connecticut, and the Bishop of Long Island, and their successors in office, or such of them as may accept such trust, who are designated and constituted "THE BOARD OF APPOINTMENT." He must be an ordained minister in good standing of this Church, or of some Church in communion with it; and shall deliver at such time and place as may be required, a Course of Lecture Sermons, in number not less than four, nor more than seven. And no previous Lecturer shall be eligible unless at least seven years shall have intervened between the two courses.

The subjects of the Lectures are to be such as appertain to the defence of the religion of Jesus Christ, as revealed in the Holy Bible and illustrated in the Book of Common Prayer, against the varying errors of the day, whether materialistic, rationalistic, or professedly religious; and also to its defence and confirmation in respect of such central truths as the Trinity, the Atonement, Justification, and the Inspiration of the Word of God; and of such central facts as the Church's divine order and Sacraments, her historical Reformation, and her rights and power as a pure and national Church. And other subjects may be chosen, if unanimously approved by the Board of Appointment as being both timely and also within the true intent of this Lectureship.

FELLOWSHIPS.

THE JOHN H. TALMAN FELLOWSHIP.

This fellowship was founded in 1881, by Miss Caroline Talman, of New York, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of her father, "The John H. Talman Fellowship."

The entire income of the endowment, after keeping the Talman room in the Seminary properly furnished, is to be paid to the holder of the Fellowship in quarterly payments, excepting that, during a vacancy in the said Fellowship, it is to be added to the endowment, or paid by order of the Dean of the Seminary to some necessitous student thereof, who on Sundays and Holy Days shall assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

This fellowship may be held for five years, and no longer, by any unmarried Graduate of the Seminary in Holy Orders, who shall be appointed by the Faculty, with the approval or on the nomination of the Rector, if there be one, of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in this city; but such appointment must be renewed from year to year on evidence that the holder of the Fellowship is fulfilling the purposes of the endowment.

The holder of the Fellowship is to have access to the Library, admission to all the lectures, and free use of the Talman room, with the understanding that he shall leave the furniture in as good condition as he received it, ordinary wear and tear alone excepted. He must remain unmarried, reside in the Seminary buildings, pursue, under the supervision of the Faculty, such studies as meet their approval, and be subject to be called upon from time to time to give such evidence of his fidelity and proficiency in his studies as the Faculty may require. He shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour a day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; and on Sundays and Saints' days assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

If he shall pursue any profession or employment otherwise than by permission of the Faculty and Standing Committee of the Seminary, or shall fail at any time to comply with its Rules and Regulations, he shall forfeit his right to the benefit of the Fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty.

THE EMMA C. MAYO FELLOWSHIPS.

Three Fellowships were founded by a legacy of Miss Emma Carrington Mayo, of Elizabeth, N. J., amounting to twenty-four thousand dollars.

The incumbents must be alumni of the Seminary, and be appointed by the Provincial Superior in America of the Society of Mission Priests of St. John the Evangelist, of Cowley, England, subject to the approval of the Faculty of the Seminary. They shall have access to the Library, and to all the lectures of the Seminary; shall remain unmarried; shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour each day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; may reside in the Seminary, in rooms rented from the authorities at their own expense, or elsewhere, as they may prefer; shall pursue a course of study under the direction of the Faculty for the term of five years, at the end of which period the incumbency shall expire by limitation in each Fellowship, and a successor in each, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof; except that the term of either one of the Fellowships may be extended by the said Provincial Superior with consent of the Faculty.

The holders of the Fellowships may be permitted by the Faculty to pursue their studies abroad for such part of their incumbency as the Faculty shall approve and direct. If either of the incumbents of the Fellowships shall violate any of the foregoing conditions, or pursue any profession or employment inconsistent with the full, fair, and faithful performance of his duties and obligations as above set forth, he shall forfeit his right to the benefits of the Fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty, and a successor, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof.

THE SALLIE EIGENBRODT FELLOWSHIP.

This Fellowship was founded by the Rev. William E. Eigenbrodt, D.D., by legacy in 1894, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of his sister, "The Sallie Eigenbrodt Fellowship."

The nomination to be always in the hands of the Dean of the Seminary.

In case of a vacancy in the Fellowship the income to be added, under the direction of the Dean, to the principal, or applied by him to assist indigent students in the Seminary.

THE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The object of this Society is to gather information concerning the Missions of the Church, and to further a missionary spirit among the Students.

It holds monthly meetings, at which addresses on missionary topics are given by missionaries. It also has the oversight of one of the City Mission Clubs for Boys.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

THE General Theological Seminary was founded in 1817, for the education of Candidates for Holy Orders, as an institution which should "have the united support of the whole Church of these United States, and be under the superintendence and control of the General Convention," with a Board of Trustees representing all the Dioceses.

SITUATION.

The Seminary buildings are situated on Chelsea Square, bounded by Ninth and Tenth Avenues, between Twentieth and Twenty-first Streets. They are built of stone and brick, in the most solid and substantial manner, and will accommodate one hundred and seventy-five students with rooms. There is no more healthy site in the city. The advantages which a large city presents for the training of young men for the Sacred Ministry are not less numerous and important than those which invite hither such large numbers to prepare for the professions of Law and Medicine. They are here brought into contact with the best forms of Church life and work, and are surrounded by influences which broaden their minds, refine their manners, and tend to elevate their characters. Engaging in varied kinds of work, which contribute largely to their support, they have, under the direction of wise and faithful pastors, the opportunity of adding to sacred, solid learning, the teachings of personal experience in parochial activities.

ADMISSION.

Persons applying for admission as regular students must be Candidates for Priests' Orders, with full qualifications, in the Protestant Episcopal Church, or graduates in Arts of some University or College, in which the learned languages are duly studied, and must produce satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for the Holy Ministry. For forms of Testimonials and subjects of entrance examination, see second page of cover.

To be admitted to the Middle or Senior Classes, applicants must pass a satisfactory examination, in the studies which have been pursued by those classes.

Students from other Theological Seminaries of the Church may be admitted ad eundem, on presenting a certificate of honorable dismission and good standing.

Clergymen can be received only as Special Students or as Graduates.

Special Students.

Students who have already studied portions of the Seminary Course, or their equivalents, or who have a dispensation from Hebrew, or who are unable to keep up with the regular studies of the classes, may be admitted as Special Students. They are under the same rules in regard to attendance and examinations in the departments they are pursuing as the regular students. At the conclusion of their studies they are given a Testimonial for the work they have done.

Seminary Year.

The Seminary year begins on the Wednesday in the September Ember Week, and ends with the exercises of the Commencement, which are held on the Wednesday before Whitsun Day. There is a suspension of lectures and recitations from Christmas Eve to the Feast of the Epiphany, both inclusive, and from the Thursday before Easter to the Saturday after Easter, both inclusive, also on Ash Wednesday, and on all days of Thanksgiving or Fasting appointed by the Ecclesiastical or Civil authority.

Chapel Services.

The Morning Prayer is said at 9 A.M. every day except on Sundays, the Litany on Wednesdays and Fridays at 12 M., and the Evening Prayer at 5.30 P.M. every day throughout the Seminary year. Upon these services each student, unless specially excused by the Dean, is required to attend. The Holy Communion is administered on every Sunday at 7.30 A.M. and on every Thursday, Saint's Day and Holy Day, and on Tuesdays in Lent, at 7 A.M.

In Memoriam.—The Trustees, in perpetual memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Verplanck Hoffman, to whom the Seminary owes the chapel, have ordered that its bells be annually rung, under the direction of the Dean, on the days when they entered into the rest of Paradise, viz.: on the sixth day of October and the eighteenth day of February; and also on the twenty-first day of March, the birthday of the Very Rev. Eugene Augustus Hoffman, D.D. (Oxon.), LL.D., D.C.L. (died June 17th, 1902), in commemoration of his munificent benefactions to the Seminary, and of his twenty-three years of efficient administration as its revered Dean.

Examinations.

The students are examined by the Professors at the end of each term. The examinations are in writing, except that for reasons of weight the Faculty may, in special cases or subjects, otherwise direct. At the close of the Academic Year, the questions and answers are submitted to a Committee of the Board of Trustees for such examination and consideration as they may deem proper. A grade of seven (7) must be attained.

Testimonials.

Students who have satisfactorily completed the full course of study receive a Diploma, signed by the Dean and Faculty and countersigned by the Secretary of the Board of Trustees. This Diploma is conferred by the Senior Bishop present at the Commencement.

Scholarships.

There are forty-four endowed Scholarships, granting about one hundred and seventy-five dollars a year each, to aid necessitous Students.

The Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New York also gives annual scholarships varying from seventy-five to two hundred and twenty five dollars, the amount depending for the first year on the grade of the entrance examination, and for the second and third years on the student's grade for the preceding year. No scholarship is given to any student whose grade falls below seven. It should be remembered that these scholarships are intended to assist only those students who have no other available means of support. Printed forms of application may be procured from the Bursar, in the latter part of September in each year.

Graduate Course.—Instituted in 1883.

This course is designed to meet the wants of those who wish to pursue an advanced course of general theological study, or to apply themselves to special subjects of reading and investigation in any of the departments of Theology, or of any question—whether critical, practical, or philosophical,

—which may engage the attention of Christian scholars or pastors, under the personal advice and direction of the Professors, and with the advantages of the large library of the Seminary and other libraries in the city.

It is open to the Alumni of the Seminary, and to graduates of other Theological Schools of the Church, who shall present testimonials of their fidelity and proficiency in study from the School from which they have been graduated, and who express the purpose to remain through the year, unless unexpectedly or unavoidably prevented.

The instruction will be given by the Faculty, and by Lecturers who have made a specialty of the subjects which they are invited to discuss. Special facilities are afforded for private reading and research.

Graduate students will, at the beginning of each Academical year, arrange with the Dean as to the studies they propose to pursue during the year.* Those not attending lectures by the Professors are required to make a semi-annual report to the Dean, at the close of each term, of their progress in the studies they have selected. They are also required to present to him, before the end of the Seminary year, a thesis on some subject in Divinity connected with their special studies.

These students will be, as far as the funds permit, given Scholarships, and permitted to reside in the Seminary buildings under the same rules as other students. Certain lectures of Columbia and New York Universities are open to them free of charge.

Fellowships.

Five Fellowships have been endowed to encourage the pursuit of higher Theological knowledge. See pages 55 and 56. No one will be appointed a Fellow who has not made such proficiency in the original languages of the Bible and in general Theological scholarship, as shall fit him to improve the opportunities which these Fellowships offer. Each Fellow is required to pursue the study of one major and at least one minor subject in Theology, to be selected or approved by the Dean, and to present to him, at or before the end of the year, a report of his progress in each main department.

Library.

The Library occupies the new fire-proof building, Hobart Hall. It is especially complete in some departments of Theology, and is admirably arranged with a card catalogue of authors and subjects, so as to render its very valuable collection of books available for consultation and use by the students. The number of volumes, according to the last report submitted to the Trustees in May, 1902, was 31,737.

It is open daily (Sundays excepted) from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. and from 7 P.M. to 10 P.M. for the consultation and delivery of books. It is supplied with most of the American and some of the English Church periodicals and papers.

No books can be taken from the Library except by the Professors and students of the Seminary; but it is accessible for consultation of the books to all persons who may desire the privilege, under the direction of the Librarian.

The students have also the privilege of using the New York Public, the Columbia University, New York University, and New York Historical Society Libraries.

⁂ Copies of Diocesan Journals and of any pamphlets pertaining to the history of the Church, Dioceses, or Parishes, if sent to the Library, will be preserved with care for future reference.

⁂ The Alumni are earnestly requested to send copies of everything they may publish.

Rooms and Expenses.

The tuition is free. The rooms are furnished with the exception of bed-clothing. The charge for board, coal, light, and care of room is two hundred and twenty-five dollars a year, payable in advance semi-annually, in September and January. No deduction is made except for absence caused by sickness prolonged for more than a month. Students living out of the Seminary are charged twenty-five dollars a year, payable in advance in September. Other expenses of students are personal and will vary, according to the habits of the individual, from one to three hundred dollars a year. Each student is required to provide himself with an academical black gown and Oxford cap.

Provision for the Sick.

There are two free beds and two free rooms in St. Luke's Hospital, to which the Dean has the right to nominate any person connected with the Seminary.

The Association was organized in October, 1832.

It is designed to embrace all the Graduates of the Seminary. Its objects are :—To cherish a spirit of mutual interest and union among its mem- bers; to advance the cause of theological learning and evangelical truth and piety, and to promote the advantage of the Institution with which it is connected.

The Annual Meeting is held on the day before the Commencement, when an essay is delivered. A triennial meeting is also held during the Session of the General Convention, when a sermon is preached before the Alumni.

General Theological Seminary

Founded 1817

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

The next seminary year will begin on Wednesday, September 21, 1904. Applicants for admission should present themselves for examination in Sherred Hall on that day, at 9 A. M., provided with pen and ink. If they wish rooms reserved for them, they must send their full names to the Dean before that date. The rooms cannot be occupied until the day before the Seminary opens, and, except by special arrangement, they will not be reserved after the day of the Annual Entrance Examination.

REGULAR STUDENTS.

The requirements for the admission of regular students are as follows:—

I. (a) Evidence of having been admitted as Candidates for Priest's Orders, with full qualifications, according to the Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States; or

(b) evidence (1) that they are graduates in Arts of some recognized University or College in which the learned languages are duly studied, and (2) satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for the Holy Ministry.

These testimonials must be presented to the Dean at or before the time of the Entrance Examination.

Students admitted under provision (b) are expected to become Candidates for Priest's Orders at the earliest possible date.

II. To pass a written examination in the following, or their equivalents:

i. S. G. Green's Hand-book to the Grammar of the New Testament.
ii. The first twelve chapters of the Acts of the Apostles in the original.
iii. Maclear's Class Books of the History of the Old and New Testament.
iv. An English Essay (to be written in the presence of the examiners on a subject to be assigned at the time).

Applicants for admission to the Middle or Senior Classes, except students with an honorable dismission from another Theological Seminary of the Church, are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the studies which have been pursued by the Class to which they seek admission.

Clergymen are not admitted as regular students to the Junior, Middle, or Senior Classes.

SPECIAL STUDENTS.

The Faculty may receive Clergymen and Candidates for Orders as Special Students in the Seminary, to pursue such studies as they can profitably engage in, without being members of any of the three Classes. This privilege shall be granted only to persons who have pursued studies equivalent to those they wish to omit, or who are unable to keep up with the regular studies of the Classes. No entrance examination is required of Special Students, but they must give evidence that they are sufficiently prepared to enter on the studies which they desire to pursue. Such students shall not be allowed to compete for any prize. The Faculty may award to them certificates of proficiency in any departments of study upon which they have sustained an examination.

FOURTH YEAR AND GRADUATE COURSES.

For information regarding these courses, vide pages 32–34 of this catalogue.

Seminary Telephone number, 1456, 18th Street, New York.

DEPARTMENT OF THE EVIDENCES OF NATURAL AND REVEALED RELIGION.

The work of this department is carried on by means of lectures and discussions, and the students are required to do a considerable amount of reading on the subjects outlined in the lectures, and to prepare papers on assigned topics. In considering various systems that are opposed to Christianity reference is made to the works of their most notable exponents, and also to the common and crude forms in which they appear.

JUNIOR CLASS.

The nature of Christian faith as it appears in the lives of believers. The character of Christ and its claim upon men's allegiance.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Among the books referred to are various biographies, and also the following: Walpole, Vital Religion; Latham, Pastor Pastorum; Robbins, A Christian Apologetic; Stearn, Evidence of Christian Experience; James, The Varieties of Religious Experience.

Opportunity will be given for a careful reading of Butler's Analogy under the guidance of the professor.

MIDDLE CLASS.

Religion as an essential factor in human nature and in the development of history.

The classical arguments for the existence of God considered as attempts at the analysis and rational justification of our religious consciousness.

An examination of the doubts as to the validity of our knowledge of God raised in various forms by Hume, by the critical philosophy of Kant, and by modern agnosticism and positivism.

Materialism and pantheism examined, and compared with the Christian view of nature and man.

Some problems of evolution. Evolution and design.

The problem of pain and evil in relation to the moral argument.

The Ritschlian theology examined, and the theory of knowledge on which it is based.

Faith in God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, as made manifest in the personal revelation of the Logos, shown to be consistent with knowledge and to be the highest act of man's reason.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Among the books referred to are: Illingworth, Personality Human and Divine, and Reason and Revelation; Fisher, Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief; essays in Lux Mundi; Bruce, Apologetics; Flint, Theism, and Agnosticism; Martineau, A Study of Religion; J. Caird,

Senior Class.

The Resurrection of Christ. Immortality. Miracles and answers to prayer. Revelation and inspiration. The achievements of Christ's kingdom.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Among the books referred to are, in addition to some of those named above: Milligan, The Resurrection of our Lord; Sanday, article Jesus Christ in Hasting's Dictionary of the Bible; Worlledge, Prayer; Lee, The Inspiration of Holy Scripture; Sanday, Inspiration; Westcott, Introduction to the Study of the Gospels.

DEPARTMENT OF THE HEBREW AND GREEK LANGUAGES.

Junior Class.

A thorough study is made of the elements of Hebrew Grammar, with exercises in translation and composition, and ten or twelve chapters from one of the Historical Books are read.

Juniors, who have already mastered the elements of Hebrew, are offered a more advanced course or allowed to enter the courses of the middle year.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Middle Class.

Selected portions of the Historical and Poetical Books of the Old Testament are read, illustrative of the lectures in the Department of Biblical Learning.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.

Gesenius-Kautzsch Hebrew Grammar (Collins and Cowley translation); Davidson, Hebrew Syntax; Driver, Hebrew Tenses.

The Greek language, as such, is not taught in the Seminary, but some instruction is given to the students who need it. Seminars may be arranged for the reading of Patristic Greek.

DEPARTMENT OF ECCLESIASTICAL MUSIC.

Junior Class.

Voice production. The Grammar of Music: Notation, Intervals, Scales, Keys, Sight-singing, Ear-training. Gregorian chanting. The elements of Plain Song. The choral portion of Merbecke's Plain Song Communion Service.

Text-book: The Rudiments of Music, Cummings.

Middle Class.

The Chapel music. Voice culture. Grammar of Music, reviewed. Sight-singing. Part-singing. Lectures on the History of Ecclesiastical Music.

Senior Class.

The Chapel music. Lectures on Musical Liturgics, "Anglican" chanting, the training of boys' voices, Choir technique, Congregational singing. The Priest's part in Choral Morning and Evening Prayer, Litany, and Holy Communion.

DEPARTMENT OF ELOCUTION.

Junior Class.

Training and development of the voice, including:

1. Drill in proper breathing, and in the use of the muscles involved in voice production.

2. Placing the voice so as to avoid throatiness and fatigue, and to secure power and purity of tone. In this practice the singing of single notes and of the scale is employed to give the standard for a pure speaking tone.

3. Drill in articulation, inflection and thorough control of expression.

4. Correction of natural defects and false habits of utterance.

5. Application of the foregoing to the reading of the Services and especially of the Lessons; also to public speaking, with outline and practice of gesture.

Middle Class.

Constant review of the work of the Junior Year. Thorough study of the proper rendering of the Church Services, with criticism, by the instructor, of the reading of each student in individual lessons.

Senior Class.

Review of preceding work. Special study of the effective delivery of original sermons and addresses, both written and extemporaneous. Also, reading of the Daily Lessons to the instructor, in preparation for each student's appointments in the chapel services.

Daily private practice is required of every student; and each element of the progressive vocal culture must be mastered before he is regarded as competent to advance in the course.

Fourth Year Course

Graduates in good standing of any Theological School may be admitted to the Fourth Year Course. The year will be divided into two terms, to be known as the Michaelmas and Easter terms.

The choice of subjects of study is left optional with the student, except that he will be required to take one or more subjects, under the direction of the Professor, in at least three departments each term, and to notify the Dean in writing before the beginning of each half year, with a statement of the subjects he has elected to pursue.

He will be required to pass an examination at the end of each term in the subjects he has studied, and will receive from the Seminary at the end of the year a certificate of the work he has done, if he reaches the prescribed standing.

He will be under the same general rules as to discipline and attendance at Chapel as other students.

The following scheme of studies for the year 1903–04 has been approved and will be offered in the several departments:

Old Testament—Professor C. W. E. Body, D.D., D.C.L.

Columbia University.

The General Theological Seminary is affiliated with Columbia University under the following agreement:

1. Columbia University will admit without tuition fee such students of high standing in the General Theological Seminary as may be recommended by the Dean of that institution, to attend such courses of instruction in Columbia University as may be agreed upon from time to time by the President of the University and the Dean of the Seminary.

2. Columbia University will accept in partial fulfilment of the requirements established for the degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy, work done in the Seminary by students qualified to become candidates for those degrees at Columbia University under the following conditions:

(a) In every case the major subject of study shall be taken at Columbia University.

(b) The minor subjects of study, which, at the option of the student, may be taken at the Seminary, are:

Oriental Languages,
New Testament Greek,
Ecclesiastical History,
Philosophy of Religion and Ethics.

(c) All examinations for the degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy shall be conducted by Columbia University.

3. The Dean of the General Theological Seminary shall be ex-officio a member of the University Council of Columbia University with the privileges of the floor but without the right to vote.

4. The General Theological Seminary shall admit, without fee for tuition, such students of high standing in the Senior Class of Columbia College and in the Graduate Schools of Columbia University as may be recommended by the President to such instruction at the Seminary as may be agreed upon by the Dean of the Seminary and the President of Columbia University.

5. The Library of Columbia University and the Library of the Seminary shall be open on equal terms to the students of both institutions.

Prizes

THE McVICKAR PRIZES.

There are two Annual Prizes of Thirty Dollars and Twenty Dollars, founded in 1850 by the late Rev. John McVickar, D.D., and the late Rev. Henry McVickar, to be awarded by the Executive Committee of the Associate Alumni, among the members of the Senior Class during the Easter recess in each year, under such an arrangement of time and place as may be agreeable to the Faculty of the Seminary, namely:

1. Of Thirty Dollars,* being known as the "Greek Alumni Prize,"† to be tested in open competition, by oral and written examinations (though as far as may be by the pen, after the manner of the English University Examinations for Honors) on the Greek Scriptures generally, including the Septuagint, and if oral, "ad aperturam libri;" also in one or more of the Greek Fathers—such authors being designated, to those competing for the prize, at least six months before.

2. Of Twenty Dollars,* to be known as the "Alumni Prize in Ecclesiastical History," the examination in the same to be conducted as above—in part at least by the pen; and to have special reference to the early history and canonical independence of the Church of England, as being "sui juris," in all Ecclesiastical matters, a distinct and independent branch of the Church of CHRIST.

Those intending to compete for the above prizes are to give their names as candidates to the Dean, or other presiding officer, at least a month before the Easter holidays; and between such only the competition is to be held, and each prize awarded.

The above prizes are to be paid over annually, before the Commencement, by the Treasurer of the Seminary, to the Students to whom they have been respectively awarded by said Committee, as certified by its Chairman; but in case, from any cause, the distribution of the above prizes should not take place, then the interest of the fund is to be paid over to the Dean, or other presiding officer of the Seminary, to be distributed by him, at his discretion, among necessitous and deserving Students.

* The Associate Alumni has promised to increase these prizes, this year, to Fifty dollars, each.

The names of students receiving prizes are entered on record in a book kept in the Library for that purpose, entitled "The Alumni Prize Record," and are also entered in the Annual Report made by the Faculty to the Trustees.

SOCIOLOGICAL PRIZES.

The Class of 1891 of the General Theological Seminary offers three annual prizes of $100 each, open to all undergraduate students of the Seminary in good standing, to be awarded to the author of the best original essay on some sociological subject, such subject to be selected by a committee appointed by the Class, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary. No student who has been awarded one of the prizes shall be eligible to compete for the subsequent prizes. The judges to determine the merits of the various essays shall be appointed every year by the Committee of the Class of 1891, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary.

The dates upon which the essays are to be submitted and awarded are as follows:

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1904.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1904.

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1905.—Award to be made Commencement, 1905.

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1906.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1906.

The subject for the essay for 1906 is "The Social Value of the Biblical Idea of the Kingdom of God."

Each Essay is to contain at least 20,000 words, and no prize will be awarded if, in the opinion of the judges, the work does not attain their standard of excellence. This standard is to take into consideration research and originality. The essays should be in manuscript or typewritten on one side only of sheets eight by ten inches, and there should be left a sufficient margin on the left side for binding.

The essays submitted become the property of the General Theological Seminary; and the Committee of the Class of 1891 reserves the right of publishing the prize essay, or any of the other competing essays.

The Committee of the Class of 1891 consists of

The Rev. Frank S. Spalding, M.A., B.D., President.
The Rev. Willis Hatfield Hazard, Ph.D.
The Rev. Paul F. Swett, Secretary.

THE SEYMOUR PRIZE.

(Next competition, 1904.)

This prize for the encouragement of extemporaneous preaching, and the committing to memory of certain portions of the Book of Common Prayer, was founded by an unknown benefactor of the Seminary, in the year 1874, and was named by him, in honor of the Rev. George F. Seymour, D.D., LL.D., then Professor of Ecclesiastical History, "The Seymour Prize."

The Prize, as at present arranged, is a gold watch of the best American manufacture, with the inscription engraved on the inside, "Instant in season, out of season," the name of the prize, the year in which it was gained, and the full name of the person to whom it is awarded.

The competition shall take place every second year, beginning with 1876, on the third Saturday in January, and is open to matriculated students of the Senior and Middle Classes.

In order to be qualified to contend for this prize, the founder prescribed that the student must be able to recite from memory the entire service for the Burial of the Dead, except the rubrics, inasmuch as the clergy are frequently called upon to perform this office when it is impossible to use the book.

The judges who shall award the prize shall be three in number, Presbyters, not Professors nor instructors in the Seminary, to be selected by the Dean, or Acting Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition.

The judges shall assign the theme to be discussed, in the form of a proposition or text of Scripture, not more than one hour before the exercises begin.

The order in which the speakers are called shall be determined by lot, the Judges drawing the names of the competitors, and calling them in the order in which their names are drawn.

Each competitor, when he has concluded his sermon or address shall immediately retire from the room where the exercises are held, nor shall he be allowed to be present at any time while his fellow-contestants are speaking. The time allowed the several speakers shall be the same for all, and shall be determined on each occasion by the Judges.

The Judges shall meet immediately after the exercises are ended, and award the prize. In case they decide that no one of the efforts is of sufficient merit to deserve the prize, then the interest which has accrued shall be added to the principal, and go to enlarge the endowment.

Degrees

BACHELOR IN DIVINITY.

The degree of Bachelor in Divinity is held to represent a scholarly acquaintance with the three languages, Hebrew, Greek and Latin.

The following persons are eligible for the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity:

I. The members of the Graduating Class in each year who shall have attained an average grade of not less than ninety per cent. in their studies during their entire Seminary course, and whom the Faculty may recommend as being, in their judgment, worthy to receive that distinction.

II. Graduates of any incorporated Theological School of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have attained an average grade of not less than eighty-five per cent. during their entire Seminary course, and who shall pass a satisfactory examination in the higher branches of at least two departments of Theology, to be selected by the Faculty.

All candidates for the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity must present, one month before the degree is to be conferred, a theological thesis satisfactory to the Faculty.

The Degree of Bachelor in Divinity will not be conferred upon anyone who is not in Priest's Orders and in good standing, nor will it, in any event, be conferred honoris causa.

DOCTOR IN DIVINITY.

The Degree of Doctor in Divinity will be conferred upon Alumni of the General Theological Seminary in Priest's Orders and upon Clergymen in Priest's Orders of the Protestant Episcopal Church in good standing, who shall have presented to the Dean evidence of their having received the degree of Bachelor in Divinity from some incorporated Theological Institution of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and who shall give evidence satisfactory to the Faculty of advanced study in various departments of Theology, including one major and two minor subjects, approved by the Faculty, with the presentation of a thesis showing such originality of thought or extent of research as shall, in the opinion of the Faculty, justify them in recommending the candidate for the Degree. The Faculty shall have power to accept, for either or both of the minor subjects, such departments cognate to the study of Theology as may be approved by the Faculty.

NORTHEAST CORNER OF THE CAMPUS

Applications to become a candidate for this Degree must be sent in to the Dean not later than October 1st in any Academical year. Each application must specify fully the nature of the course of study proposed under the prescribed major and minor divisions. Such applications will then be submitted to the Faculty for revision and approval.

Intending candidates should bear in mind the following general principles:

The course of study must in all cases be such as to represent capacity for original work. It must be the equivalent of from two to three years' continuous study. Candidates are advised to spend, if possible, at least one year in study in the Seminary.

The two minor subjects taken together should represent about one-third of the work.

Among subjects cognate to Theology from which selection may be made, the following are suggested: Philosophy, Anthropology, Ethics, Sociology, Biblical Archæology, Comparative Religions, Semitic Languages, Patristic Latin and Greek.

The Degree of Doctor in Divinity may be conferred by the Board of Trustees, without examination, for the authorship of some published theological work, which, in the judgment of the Faculty, furnishes a sufficiently important contribution to Theological Science to be rewarded by this distinction; such judgment to be certified in writing in each case to the Board of Trustees by the Faculty. The Board may also confer the Degree, in its discretion, upon the Dean or any Professor of the Seminary, or upon any Alumnus thereof elected to the Episcopate, whose election shall have been confirmed.

The Faculty may, for sufficient reasons, at any time when the Board of Trustees is not in session, recommend to the Standing Committee of the Board of Trustees, the name or names of any clergymen, who, in their judgment, ought to have the degree of Doctor in Divinity conferred upon them, and if the Standing Committee approve the recommendation, it may thereupon authorize the Dean to confer the Degree in the presence of the Faculty, at such time and place as he may select.

EXAMINATION FOR DEGREES BY COMMISSION.

Candidates for degrees who are unable, on account of residence at a great distance from the Seminary, or for other sufficient cause, to present themselves for examination in person, may be examined by commission, according to such a system as may be devised and approved by the Faculty.

HOODS.

Any clergyman upon whom this Seminary has conferred a degree is entitled to wear the hood pertaining to his degree; and when he is formally admitted to his degree at an Annual Commencement, the form of admission will include vesting him with the appropriate hood, which shall be provided by the Seminary.

The Hood of the Bachelor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of black ribbed silk, lined with purple silk.

The Hood of the Doctor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of scarlet cloth, lined with purple silk.

The fees for degrees (excepting those conferred honoris causa) are Fifteen Dollars in the case of a Bachelor and Twenty-five Dollars in the case of a Doctor. These fees must be paid to the Treasurer of the Seminary previous to the degree's being conferred, and shall cover the cost of the appropriate hood.

All graduates of the Seminary who have not received a degree in Divinity, are entitled, after ordination, to wear a black stuff hood, with a purple border, not more than one inch wide, of the pattern known as the Literate's hood in England.

These hoods can be procured from the Bursar, for Five Dollars each.

The Bishop Paddock Lectureship

This Lectureship was founded in 1880, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, by Mr. GEORGE A. JARVIS, of Brooklyn, moved thereto by gratitude to God for the goodness and mercy that had followed him all the days of his life, and impressed by a deep sense of the good which would, with God's blessing, grow out of an endowment for the encouragement of "the defence and confirmation of the Gospel" by godly and well-learned men.

He named it after his former beloved pastor and ever-endeared friend, the Right Rev. Benjamin Henry Paddock, D.D., Bishop of Massachusetts.

The Lecturer is to be appointed by the Dean of the General Theological Seminary, the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Bishop of Connecticut, and the Bishop of Long Island, and their successors in office, or such of them as may accept such trust, who are designated and constituted "THE BOARD OF APPOINTMENT." He must be an ordained minister in good standing of this Church, or of some Church in communion with it; and shall deliver at such time and place as may be required, a Course of Lecture Sermons, in number not less than four, nor more than seven. And no previous Lecturer shall be eligible unless at least seven years shall have intervened between the two courses.

The subjects of the Lectures are to be such as appertain to the defence of the religion of Jesus Christ, as revealed in the Holy Bible and illustrated in the Book of Common Prayer, against the varying errors of the day, whether materialistic, rationalistic, or professedly religious; and also to its defence and confirmation in respect of such central truths as the Trinity, the Atonement, Justification, and the Inspiration of the Word of God: and of such central facts as the Church's divine order and Sacraments, her historical Reformation, and her rights and power as a pure and national Church. And other subjects may be chosen, if unanimously approved by the Board of Appointment as being both timely and also within the true intent of this Lectureship.

Fellowships

THE JOHN H. TALMAN FELLOWSHIP.

This fellowship was founded in 1881, by Miss Caroline Talman, of New York, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of her father, "The John H. Talman Fellowship."

The entire income of the endowment, after keeping the Talman room in the Seminary properly furnished, is to be paid to the holder of the Fellowship in quarterly payments, excepting that, during a vacancy in the said Fellowship, it is to be added to the endowment, or paid by order of the Dean of the Seminary to some necessitous student thereof, who on Sundays and Holy Days shall assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

This fellowship may be held for five years, and no longer, by any unmarried graduate of the Seminary in Holy Orders, who shall be appointed by the Faculty, with the approval or on the nomination of the Rector, if there be one, of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in this city; but such appointment must be renewed from year to year on evidence that the holder of the Fellowship is fulfilling the purposes of the endowment.

The holder of the Fellowship is to have access to the Library, admission to all the lectures, and free use of the Talman room, with the understanding that he shall leave the furniture in as good condition as he received it, ordinary wear and tear alone excepted. He must remain unmarried, reside in the Seminary buildings, pursue, under the supervision of the Faculty, such studies as meet their approval, and be subject to be called upon from time to time to give such evidence of his fidelity and proficiency in his studies as the Faculty may require. He shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour a day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; and on Sundays and Saints' days assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

If he shall pursue any profession or employment otherwise than by permission of the Faculty and Standing Committee of the Seminary, or shall fail at any time to comply with its Rules and Regulations, he shall forfeit his right to the benefit of the Fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty.

THE EMMA C. MAYO FELLOWSHIPS.

Three Fellowships were founded by a legacy of Miss Emma Carrington Mayo, of Elizabeth, N. J., amounting to twenty-four thousand dollars.

The incumbents must be alumni of the Seminary, and be appointed by the Provincial Superior in America of the Society of Mission Priests of St. John the Evangelist, of Cowley, England, subject to the approval of the Faculty of the Seminary. They shall have access to the Library, and to all the lectures of the Seminary; shall remain unmarried; shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour each day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; may reside in the Seminary, in rooms rented from the authorities at their own expense, or elsewhere, as they may prefer; shall pursue a course of study under the direction of the Faculty for the term of five years, at the end of which period the incumbency shall expire by limitation in each Fellowship, and a successor in each, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof; except that the term of either one of the Fellowships may be extended by the said Provincial Superior with consent of the Faculty.

The holders of the Fellowships may be permitted by the Faculty to pursue their studies abroad for such part of their incumbency as the Faculty shall approve and direct. If either of the incumbents of the Fellowships shall violate any of the foregoing conditions, or pursue any profession or employment inconsistent with the full, fair and faithful performance of his duties and obligations as above set forth, he shall forfeit his right to the benefits of the Fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty, and a successor, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof.

THE SALLIE EIGENBRODT FELLOWSHIP.

This Fellowship was founded by the Rev. William E. Eigenbrodt, D.D., by legacy in 1894, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of his sister, "The Sallie Eigenbrodt Fellowship."

The nomination to be always in the hands of the Dean of the Seminary.

In case of a vacancy in the Fellowship the income to be added, under the direction of the Dean, to the principal, or applied by him to assist indigent students in the Seminary.

The Missionary Society

The object of this Society is to gather information concerning the Missions of the Church, and to further a missionary spirit among the Students. It is a chapter of the Church Students' Missionary Association. A room in Jarvis Hall is devoted to its use.

Meetings.—Meetings are held every Tuesday evening throughout the Seminary year. The first meeting of each month is devoted to business; at the other meetings missionary addresses are given.

Services.—At the Celebration of the Holy Eucharist on the first Wednesday of each month special prayers for missions are said, and a special offering is taken to be expended in the cause of missions. A Missionary Litany is said every Monday at noon, and a short Service of Intercession is held every Friday at 1.15.

Work.—Four Missionary Study Classes are conducted among the students. The Society has the oversight of one of the Newsboys' Lodging Houses of the City, and helps in the support of the C. S. M. A. missionary in China and of the Assyrian Mission.

General Information

THE General Theological Seminary was founded in 1817, for the education of Candidates for Holy Orders, and was designed to be an institution which should "have the united support of the whole Church of these United States, and be under the superintendence and control of the General Convention," with a Board of Trustees representing all the Dioceses.

SITUATION.

The Seminary buildings are situated on Chelsea Square, in the City of New York, bounded by Ninth and Tenth Avenues, Twentieth and Twenty-first Streets. They are built of stone and brick, in the most solid and substantial manner, and will accommodate one hundred and seventy-five students with rooms. There is no more healthy site in the city. The advantages which a large city presents for the training of young men for the sacred Ministry are not less numerous and important than those which invite to it such large numbers to prepare for the professions of Law and Medicine. They are here brought into contact with the best forms of Church life and work and are surrounded by influences which broaden their minds, refine their manners, and tend to elevate their characters. They may engage in manifold kinds of Church work, contributing to their support, and affording them, under the direction of wise and faithful pastors, the opportunity of adding to sacred, solid learning, the teachings of personal experience in parochial activities.

ADMISSION.

Persons applying for admission as regular students must be (a.) Candidates for Priests' Orders, with full qualifications, in the Protestant Episcopal Church, or

(b.) Graduates in Arts of some University or College, in which the learned languages are duly studied, and produce satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for the Holy Ministry. See further statements on the second page of cover.

To be admitted to the Middle or Senior Classes, applicants must pass a satisfactory examination, in the studies which have been pursued by those classes.

Students from other Theological Seminaries of the Church may be admitted ad eundem, on presenting a certificate of honorable dismission and good standing.

Clergymen can be received only as Special Students or as Graduates.

Special Students.

Students who have already studied portions of the Seminary Course, or their equivalents, or who have a dispensation from Hebrew, or who are unable to keep up with the regular studies of the classes, may be admitted as Special Students. They are under the same rules in regard to attendance and examinations in the departments which they are pursuing as the regular students. At the conclusion of their studies they are given a Testimonial for the work they have done.

Seminary Year.

The Seminary year begins on the Wednesday in the September Ember Week, and ends with the exercises of the Commencement, which are held on the Wednesday before Whitsun Day. There is a suspension of lectures and recitations from Christmas Eve to the Feast of the Epiphany, both inclusive, and from the Thursday before Easter to the Saturday after Easter, both inclusive; also on Ash Wednesday, and on all days of Thanksgiving or Fasting appointed by the Ecclesiastical or Civil authority.

Chapel Services.

The Morning Prayer is said at 8.30 A.M. every day except on Sundays, the Litany on Wednesdays and Fridays at 12 M., and the Evening Prayer at 5.30 P.M. every day throughout the Seminary year

Upon these services each student, unless specially excused by the Dean, is required to attend. The Holy Communion is administered on every Sunday at 7.30 A.M. and on every Wednesday, Friday, Saint's Day and Holy Day, and on Tuesdays in Lent, at 7 A.M.

In Memoriam.—The Trustees, in perpetual memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Verplanck Hoffman, to whom the Seminary owes the chapel, have ordered that its bells be annually rung, under the direction of the Dean, on the days when they entered into the rest of Paradise, viz.: on the sixth day of October and the eighteenth day of February; and shall also be rung on the twenty-first day of March, the birthday of the Very Rev. Eugene Augustus Hoffman, D.D. (Oxon.), LL.D., D.C.L. (died June 17th, 1902), in commemoration of his munificent benefactions to the Seminary, and of his twenty-three years of efficient administration as its revered Dean.

EXAMINATIONS.

The students are examined by the Professors at the end of each term. The examinations are in writing, except that, for reasons of weight, the Faculty may, in special cases or subjects, otherwise direct. At the close of the Academic Year, the questions and answers are submitted to a Committee of the Board of Trustees for such examination and consideration as they may deem proper. A grade of seven (7) must be attained.

TESTIMONIALS.

Students who have satisfactorily completed the full course of study receive a Diploma, signed by the Dean and Faculty and countersigned by the Secretary of the Board of Trustees. This Diploma is conferred by the Senior Bishop present at the Commencement

SCHOLARSHIPS.

There are forty-four endowed Scholarships, granting about one hundred and seventy-five dollars a year each, to aid necessitous Students.

The Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New York also gives annual scholarships varying from seventy-five to two hundred and twenty-five dollars, the amount depending for the first year on the grade of the entrance examination, and for the second and third years on the student's grade for the preceding year. No scholarship is given to any student whose grade falls below seven. It should be remembered that these scholarships are intended to assist only those students who have no other available means of support. Printed forms of application may be procured from the Bursar, in the latter part of September in each year.

Graduate Course—Instituted in 1883.

This course is designed to meet the wants of those who wish to pursue an advanced course of general theological study, or to apply themselves to special subjects of reading and investigation in any of the departments of Theology, or of any question—whether critical, practical, or philosophical, which may engage the attention of Christian scholars or pastors, under the personal advice and direction of the Professors, and with the advantages of the large library of the Seminary and other libraries in the city.

It is open to the Alumni of the Seminary, and to graduates of other Theological Schools of the Church, who shall present testimonials of their fidelity and proficiency in study from the school from which they have been graduated, and who express the purpose to remain through the year, unless unexpectedly or unavoidably prevented.

The instruction will be given by the Faculty, and by Lecturers who have made a specialty of the subjects which they are invited to discuss. Special facilities are afforded for private reading and research.

Graduate students will, at the beginning of each Academical year, arrange with the Dean as to the studies they propose to pursue during the year.* Those not attending lectures by the Professors are required to make a semi-annual report to the Dean, at the close of each term, of their progress in the studies they have selected. They are also required to present to him, before the end of the Seminary year, a thesis on some subject in Divinity connected with their special studies.

These students will be, as far as the funds permit, given Scholarships, and permitted to reside in the Seminary buildings under the same rules as other students. Certain lectures of Columbia and New York Universities are open to them free of charge.

* See Scheme of Studies for Fourth Year Course, pages 32-34.

Fellowships.

Five Fellowships have been endowed to encourage the pursuit of higher Theological knowledge. See pages 47 and 48. No one will be appointed a Fellow who has not made such proficiency in the original languages of the Bible and in general Theological scholarship, as shall fit him to improve the opportunities which these Fellowships offer. Each Fellow is required to pursue the study of one major and at least one minor subject in Theology, to be selected or approved by the Dean, and to present to him, at or before the end of the year, a report of his progress in each main department.

Library.

The Library occupies the new fire-proof building, Hobart Hall. It is especially complete in some departments of Theology, and is admirably arranged with a card catalogue of authors and subjects, so as to render its very valuable collection of books available for consultation and use by the students. The number of volumes, according to the last report submitted to the Trustees in May, 1903, was 33,966.

It is open daily (Sundays excepted) from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. and from 7 P.M. to 10 P.M. for the consultation and delivery of books. It is supplied with most of the American and some of the English Church periodicals and papers.

No books can be taken from the Library except by the Professors and students of the Seminary; but it is accessible for consultation of the books to all persons who may desire the privilege, under the direction of the Librarian.

The students have also the privilege of using the New York Public, the Columbia University, New York University, and New York Historical Society Libraries.

⁂ Copies of Diocesan Journals and of any pamphlets pertaining to the history of the Church, Dioceses, or Parishes, if sent to the Library, will be preserved with care for future references.

⁂ The Alumni are earnestly requested to send copies of everything they may publish.

Rooms and Expenses.

The tuition is free. The rooms are furnished with the exception of bed-clothing. The charge for board, coal, light, and care of room is two hundred and twenty-five dollars a year, payable in advance semi-annually, in September and January. No deduction is made except for absence caused by sickness prolonged for more than a month. Students living out of the Seminary are charged twenty-five dollars a year, payable in advance in September. Other expenses of students are personal and will vary, according to the habits of the individual, from one to three hundred dollars a year. Each student is required to provide himself with an academical black gown and Oxford cap.

Provision for the Sick.

There are two free beds and two free rooms in St. Luke's Hospital, to which the Dean has the right to nominate any person connected with the Seminary.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

The next Seminary year will begin on Wednesday, September 20, 1905. Applicants for admission should present themselves for examination in Sherred Hall on that day, at 9 A. M., provided with pen and ink. If they wish rooms reserved for them, they must send their full names to the Dean before that date. The rooms cannot be occupied until the day before the Seminary opens, and, except by special arrangement, they will not be reserved after the day of the Annual Entrance Examination.

REGULAR STUDENTS

The requirements for the admission of regular students are as follows:—

I. (a) Evidence of having been admitted as Candidates for Priest's Orders with full qualifications, according to the Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States; or

(b) evidence (1) that they are graduates in Arts of some recognized University or College in which the learned languages are duly studied, and (2) satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for the Holy Ministry.

These testimonials must be presented to the Dean at or before the time of the Entrance Examination.

Students admitted under provision (b) are expected to become Candidates for Priest's Orders at the earliest possible date.

II. To pass a written examination in the following, or their equivalents:

i. G. G. Green's Hand-book to the Grammar of the New Testament.
ii. The first twelve chapters of the Acts of the Apostles in the original.
iii. Maclear's Class Books of the History of the Old and New Testament.
iv. An English Essay (to be written in the presence of the examiners on a subject to be assigned at the time).

Applicants for admission to the Middle or Senior Classes, except students with an honorable dismission from another Theological Seminary of the Church, are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the studies which have been pursued by the Class to which they seek admission.

Clergymen are not admitted as regular students to the Junior, Middle, or Senior Class.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

The Faculty may receive Clergymen and Candidates for Orders as Special Students in the Seminary, to pursue such studies as they can profitably engage in, without being members of any of the three Classes. This privilege shall be granted only to persons who have pursued studies equivalent to those they wish to omit, or who are unable to keep up with the regular studies of the Classes. No entrance examination is required of Special Students, but they must give evidence that they are sufficiently prepared to enter on the studies which they desire to pursue. Such students shall not be allowed to compete for any prize. The Faculty may award to them certificates of proficiency in any departments of study upon which they have sustained an examination.

FOURTH YEAR AND GRADUATE COURSES

EVIDENCES OF NATURAL AND REVEALED RELIGION

PROFESSOR HAYES

The work of the class-room is carried on by means of lectures and discussions, and the students are required to do systematic reading on the subjects outlined in the lectures, and to prepare papers on assigned topics. In considering views that are opposed to Christianity, reference is made to works of their more notable exponents and also to the cruder forms in which they commonly appear.

Junior Class

The nature of faith is studied from biographies and writings of various Christian believers, in which the inner life is revealed, the aim being to show that man is essentially religious, and that religion involves the use of all our powers, reason, feeling and will. And the person of Christ is set forth as corresponding to our religious needs, appealing to heart and mind, and claiming our allegiance.

Opportunity will be given for Juniors to read Butler's Analogy in a voluntary class.

Numerous biographies and devotional works; Walpole, Vital Religion; Liddon, Some Elements of Religion; James, The Varieties of Religious Experience; Stearns, The Evidence of Christian Experience; Robbins, A Christian Apologetic.

Middle Class

The aim of this course is to show that faith in God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, as made manifest in the personal revelation of the Logos, is consistent with knowledge and is the highest act of man's reason. The topics treated are as follows: an exposition of the theistic arguments, considered as attempts at the analysis and rational justification of our religious consciousness; an examination of the doubts as to the validity of our knowledge of God raised in various forms by Hume, by the critical philosophy of Kant, and by modern agnosticism; an examination of the Ritschlian theology and its theory of knowledge; an examination of materialistic and naturalistic theories with special reference to some questions in regard to evolution and to the relations between mind and body, and a comparison of these theories with the Christian view as to nature and man and the Christian postulate of God; an examination of pantheistic theories, and a comparison of them with the Christian view.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE

Illingworth, Personality Human and Divine, and Reason and Revelation; Orr, The Christian View of God and the World, and Ritschlianism; Fisher, Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief; Flint, Theism, and Agnosticism; Ward, Naturalism and Agnosticism; Martineau, A Study of Religion; J. Caird, Philosophy of Religion; Caldecott, Philosophy of Religion; Weber or Erdmann, History of Philosophy; Jevons, Evolution; Griffith-Jones, The Ascent through Christ.

Senior Class

The Resurrection of Christ; miracles; answers to prayer; revelation and inspiration.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE

Milligan, The Resurrection of our Lord; Fisher, Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief; Bruce, Apologetics; articles in Hasting's Dictionary of the Bible; Illingworth, Divine Immanence; Worlledge, Prayer; Westcott, Introduction to the Study of the Gospels; Lee, The Inspiration of Holy Scripture; Sanday, Inspiration.

SCHEME OF STUDY

HEBREW AND GREEK LANGUAGES

PROFESSOR SHEPARD

Junior Class

A thorough study is made of the elements of Hebrew Grammar with exercises in translation and composition, and ten or twelve chapters from one of the Historical Books are read.

Juniors, who have already mastered the elements of Hebrew, are offered a more advanced course or allowed to enter the courses of the middle year.

TEXT-BOOKS

Middle Class

Selected portions of the Historical and Poetical Books of the Old Testament are read, illustrative of the lectures in the Department of Biblical Learning.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE

Gesenius-Kautzsch, Hebrew Grammar (Collins and Cowley translation); Davidson, Hebrew Syntax; Driver, Hebrew Tenses.

The Greek language, as such, is not taught in the Seminary, but some instruction is given to the students who need it. Seminars may be arranged for the reading of Patristic Greek.

ELOCUTION

MR. TENNEY

Junior Class

Training and development of the voice, including:

1. Drill in proper breathing, and in the use of the muscles involved in voice production.

2. Producing the voice so as to avoid throatiness and fatigue and to secure power and purity of tone. In this practice the singing of single notes and of the scale is employed to give the standard for a pure speaking tone.

3. Drill in enunciation, inflection, emphasis, tone color, rhythm and thorough control of expression.

4. Correction of natural defects and false habits of utterance.

5. Application of the foregoing to the reading of the Services and especially of the Lessons; also to public speaking, with outline and practice of gesture.

Middle Class

Constant review of the work of the Junior Year. Thorough study of the proper rendering of the Church Services, with criticism by the instructor, of the reading of each student in individual lessons.

Senior Class

Review of preceding work. Special study of the effective delivery of original sermons and addresses, both written and extemporaneous.

Two different exercises a week in preaching, for the two divisions, both of which may be attended by any member of the class.

Daily private practice is required of every student; and each element of the progressive vocal culture must be mastered before he is regarded as competent to advance in the course.

Elective Courses

These courses, announced on pages 40-42, are designed primarily to provide for qualified students of the Middle and Senior classes the opportunity to pursue certain studies besides those of the regular courses. If any student who has completed the Junior year desires to take up any one of these courses, in place of a prescribed course, he may qualify himself to do so by getting the approval of the professor to whose department the elective cause belongs, and by passing a satisfactory examination in any prescribed course, except those in Old Testament Interpretation, Pastoral Theology and Elocution.

In the substitution of an elective course foi a prescribed course in the same department, the time of the examination may be fixed by the professor; but in all other cases, except for urgent reasons and by special vote of the Faculty, the examination will be held at the opening of the term or year to which the prescribed course belongs.

The pass-mark given for these examinations will not affect the student's standing, the mark attained in the substituted elective course being recorded instead.

For courses of reading in preparation for any such examination, students are referred to the professors.

Any of these elective courses may, by permission of the faculty, be taken in addition to the prescribed courses of the Middle or Senior year without affecting the student's general standing.

Any of these courses may be taken by graduate students, under the conditions described on page 38.

Graduate Course

This course is designed to meet the wants of those who wish to pursue an advanced course of general theological study, or to apply themselves to special subjects of reading and investigation, in any of the departments of Theology, under the personal advice and direction of the Professors, and with the advantages of the large library of the Seminary and other libraries in the city.

It is open to the Alumni of the Seminary and to graduates of other Theological Schools of the Church.

Graduate students at the beginning of each half year will submit in writing, for the approval of the Dean and Faculty, a statement of the subjects they have elected to pursue.

Students who desire to take a full graduate course, known as a Fourth-Year Course, will be required to take one or more subjects, under the direction of the Professor, in at least three departments each term. They will be required to pass an examination at the end of each term in the subjects they have studied, and will receive from the Seminary at the end of the year a Fourth-Year Course Certificate if they reach the prescribed standing.

Columbia University

The General Theological Seminary is affiliated with Columbia University under the following agreement:

1. Columbia University will admit without tuition fee such students of high standing in the General Theological Seminary as may be recommended by the Dean of that institution, to attend such courses of instruction in Columbia University as may be agreed upon from time to time by the President of the University and the Dean of the Seminary.

2. Columbia University will accept in partial fulfilment of the requirements established for the degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy, work done in the Seminary by students qualified to become candidates for those degrees at Columbia University under the following conditions:

(a) In every case the major subject of study shall be taken at Columbia University.

(b) The minor subjects of study, which, at the option of the student, may be taken at the Seminary, are:

Oriental Languages,
New Testament Greek,
Ecclesiastical History,
Philosophy of Religion and Ethics.

(c) All examinations for the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy shall be conducted by Columbia University.

3. The Dean of the General Theological Seminary shall be ex-officio a member of the University Council of Columbia University with the privileges of the floor but without the right to vote.

4. The General Theological Seminary shall admit, without fee for tuition, such students of high standing in the Senior Class of Columbia College and in the Graduate Schools of Columbia University as may be recommended by the President to such instruction at the Seminary as may be agreed upon by the Dean of the Seminary and the President of Columbia University.

5. The Library of Columbia University and the Library of the Seminary shall be open on equal terms to the students of both institutions.

The Bishop Paddock Lectureship

This Lectureship was founded in 1880, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, by Mr. GEORGE A. JARVIS, of Brooklyn, moved thereto by gratitude to God for the goodness and mercy that had followed him all the days of his life, and impressed by a deep sense of the good which would, with God's blessing, grow out of an endowment for the encouragement of "the defence and confirmation of the Gospel" by godly and well-learned men.

He named it after his former beloved pastor and ever-endeared friend, the Right Rev. Benjamin Henry Paddock, D.D., Bishop of Massachusetts.

The Lecturer is to be appointed by the Dean of the General Theological Seminary, the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Bishop of Connecticut, and the Bishop of Long Island, and their successors in office, or such of them as may accept such trust, who are designated and constituted "THE BOARD OF APPOINTMENT." He must be an ordained minister in good standing of this Church, or of some Church in communion with it; and shall deliver at such time and place as may be required, a Course of Lecture Sermons, in number not less than four, nor more than seven. And no previous Lecturer shall be eligible unless at least seven years shall have intervened between the two courses.

The subjects of the Lectures are to be such as appertain to the defence of the religion of Jesus Christ, as revealed in the Holy Bible and illustrated in the Book of Common Prayer, against the varying errors of the day, whether materialistic, rationalistic, or professedly religious; and also to its defence and confirmation in respect of such central truths as the Trinity, the Atonement, Justification, and the Inspiration of the Word of God; and of such central facts as the Church's divine order and Sacraments, her historical Reformation, and her rights and power as a pure and national Church. And other subjects may be chosen, if unanimously approved by the Board of Appointment as being both timely and also within the true intent of this Lectureship.

Degrees

BACHELOR IN DIVINITY

The degree of Bachelor in Divinity is held to represent a scholarly acquaintance with the three languages, Hebrew, Greek and Latin.

The following persons are eligible for the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity:

I. The members of the Graduating Class in each year who shall have attained an average grade of not less than ninety per cent. in their studies during their entire Seminary course, and whom the Faculty may recommend as being, in their judgment, worthy to receive that distinction.

II. Graduates of any incorporated Theological School of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have attained an average grade of not less than eighty-five per cent. during their entire Seminary course, and who shall pass a satisfactory examination in the higher branches of at least two departments of Theology, to be selected by the Faculty.

All candidates for the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity must present, one month before the degree is to be conferred, a theological thesis satisfactory to the Faculty.

The Degree of Bachelor in Divinity will not be conferred upon anyone who is not in Priest's Orders and in good standing, nor will it, in any event, be conferred honoris causa.

DOCTOR IN DIVINITY

The Degree of Doctor in Divinity will be conferred upon Alumni of the General Theological Seminary in Priest's Orders, and upon other Clergymen in Priest's Orders of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have presented to the Dean evidence of their having received the degree of Bachelor in Divinity from some incorporated Theological Institution of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and who shall give evidence satisfactory to the Faculty of advanced study in various departments of Theology, including one major and two minor subjects, approved by the Faculty, with the presentation of a thesis showing such originality of thought or extent of research as shall, in the opinion of the Faculty, justify them in recommending the candidate for the Degree. The Faculty shall have power to accept for either or both of the minor subjects, such departments cognate to the study of Theology as may be approved by the Faculty.

Any Clergyman who desires to become a candidate for this Degree, must send his application to the Dean. Each application must specify fully the nature of the course of study proposed under the prescribed major and minor divisions. Such applications will then be submitted to the Faculty for revision and approval.

Intending candidates should bear in mind the following general principles:

The course of study must in all cases be such as to represent capacity for original work. It must be the equivalent of from two to three years continuous study. Candidates are advised to spend, if possible, at least one year in study in the Seminary.

The two minor subjects taken together should represent about one-third of the work.

Among subjects cognate to Theology from which selection may be made, the following are suggested: Philosophy, Anthropology, Ethics, Sociology, Biblical Archæology, Comparative Religions, Semitic Languages, Patristic Latin and Greek.

The candidate may, with the approval of the Faculty, present his subjects for examination separately and in any order.

The examiner shall have power to conduct the examinations either by written papers or by oral examination or by both. Or again by prescribing a thesis covering the whole of the subject, or part of it, together with a written or oral examination thereupon.

Candidates for degrees who are unable, on account of residence at a great distance from the Seminary, or for other sufficient cause, to present themselves for examination in person, may be examined by commission, according to such a system as may be devised and approved by the Faculty.

The Degree of Doctor in Divinity may be conferred by the Board of Trustees, without examination, for the authorship of some published theological work, which, in the judgment of the Faculty, furnishes a sufficiently important contribution to Theological Science to be rewarded by this distinction; such judgment to be certified in writing in each case to the Board of Trustees by the Faculty. The Board may also confer the Degree, in its discretion, upon the Dean or any Professor of the Seminary, or upon any Alumnus thereof elected to the Episcopate, whose election shall have been confirmed.

The Faculty may, for sufficient reasons, at any time when the Board of Trustees is not in session, recommend to the Standing Committee of the Board of Trustees the name or names of any clergymen who, in their judgment, ought to have the degree of Doctor in Divinity conferred upon them, and if the Standing Committee approve the recommendation, it may thereupon authorize the Dean to confer the Degree in the presence of the Faculty, at such time and place as he may select.

HOODS.

Any clergyman upon whom this Seminary has conferred a degree is entitled to wear the hood pertaining to his degree; and when he is formally admitted to his degree at an Annual Commencement, the form of admission will include vesting him with the appropriate hood, which shall be provided by the Seminary.

The Hood of the Bachelor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of black ribbed silk, lined with purple silk.

The Hood of the Doctor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of scarlet cloth, lined with purple silk.

The fees for degrees (excepting those conferred honoris causa) are Fifteen Dollars in the case of a Bachelor and Twenty-five Dollars in the case of a Doctor. These fees must be paid to the Treasurer of the Seminary previous to the degree's being conferred, and shall cover the cost of the appropriate hood.

All graduates of the Seminary who have not received a degree in Divinity are entitled, after ordination, to wear a black stuff hood, with a purple border, not more than one inch wide, of the pattern known as the Literate's hood in England.

These hoods can be procured from the Bursar, for Five Dollars each.

Fellowships

THE JOHN H. TALMAN FELLOWSHIP

This fellowship was founded in 1881 by Miss Caroline Talman, of New York, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called,in memory of her father, "The John H. Talman Fellowship."

The entire income of the endowment, after keeping the Talman room in the Seminary properly furnished, is to be paid to the holder of the Fellowship in quarterly payments, excepting that, during a vacancy in the said Fellowship, it is to be added to the endowment, or paid by order of the Dean of the Seminary to some necessitous student thereof, who on Sundays and Holy Days shall assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

This fellowship may be held for five years, and no longer, by any unmarried graduate of the Seminary in Holy Orders, who shall be appointed by the Faculty, with the approval or on the nomination of the Rector, if there be one, of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in this city; but such appointment must be renewed from year to year on evidence that the holder of the Fellowship is fulfilling the purposes of the endowment.

The holder of the Fellowship is to have access to the Library, admission to all the lectures, and free use of the Talman room, with the understanding that he shall leave the furniture in as good condition as he received it, ordinary wear and tear alone excepted. He must remain unmarried, reside in the Seminary buildings, pursue, under the supervision of the Faculty, such studies as meet their approval, and be subject to be called upon from time to time to give such evidence of his fidelity and proficiency in his studies as the Faculty may require. He shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour a day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; and on Sundays and Saints' days assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

If he shall pursue any profession or employment otherwise than by permission of the Faculty and Standing Committee of the Seminary, or shall fail at any time to comply with its Rules and Regulations, he shall forfeit his right to the benefit of the Fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty.

THE EMMA C. MAYO FELLOWSHIPS

Three Fellowships were founded by a legacy of Miss Emma Carrington Mayo, of Elizabeth, N. J., amounting to twenty-four thousand dollars.

The incumbents must be alumni of the Seminary, and be appointed by the Provincial Superior in America of the Society of Mission Priests of St. John the Evangelist, of Cowley, England, subject to the approval of the Faculty of the Seminary. They shall have access to the Library, and to all the lectures of the Seminary; shall remain unmarried; shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour each day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; may reside in the Seminary, in rooms rented from the authorities at their own expense, or elsewhere, as they may prefer; shall pursue a course of study under the direction of the Faculty for the term of five years, at the end of which period the incumbency shall expire by limitation in each Fellowship, and a successor in each, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof; except that the term of either one of the Fellowships may be extended by the said Provincial Superior with consent of the Faculty.

The holders of the Fellowships may be permitted by the Faculty to pursue their studies abroad for such part of their incumbency as the Faculty shall approve and direct. If either of the incumbents of the Fellowships shall violate any of the foregoing conditions, or pursue any profession or employment inconsistent with the full, fair and faithful performance of his duties and obligations as above set forth, he shall forfeit his right to the benefits of the Fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty, and a successor, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof.

THE SALLIE EIGENBRODT FELLOWSHIP

This Fellowship was founded by the Rev. William E. Eigenbrodt, D.D., by legacy in 1894, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of his sister, "The Sallie Eigenbrodt Fellowship."

The nomination shall always be in the hands of the Dean of the Seminary.

In case of a vacancy in the Fellowship the income shall be added, under the direction of the Dean, to the principal, or applied by him to assist indigent students in the Seminary.

Prizes

THE McVICKAR PRIZES

There are two Annual Prizes of Thirty Dollars and Twenty Dollars, founded in 1850 by the late Rev. John McVickar, D.D., and the late Rev. Henry McVickar, to be awarded by the Executive Committee of the Associate Alumni, among the members of the Senior Class during the Easter recess in each year, under such an arrangement of time and place as may be agreeable to the Faculty of the Seminary, namely:

1. Of Thirty Dollars,* being known as the "Greek Alumni Prize,"† to be tested in open competition, by oral and written examinations (though as far as may be by the pen, after the manner of the English University Examinations for Honors) on the Greek Scriptures generally, including the Septuagint, and if oral, "ad aperturam libri," also in one or more of the Greek Fathers—such authors being designated, to those competing for the prize, at least six months before.

2. Of Twenty Dollars,* to be known as the "Alumni Prize in Ecclesiastical History," the examination in the same to be conducted as above—in part at least by the pen; and to have special reference to the early history and canonical independence of the Church of England, as being "sui juris," in all Ecclesiastical matters, a distinct and independent branch of the Church of CHRIST.

Those intending to compete for the above prizes are to give their names as candidates to the Dean, or other presiding officer, at least a month before the Easter holidays; and between such only the competition is to be held, and each prize awarded.

The above prizes are to be paid over annually, before the Commencement, by the Treasurer of the Seminary, to the Students to whom they have been respectively awarded by said Committee, as certified by its Chairman; but in case, from any cause, the distribution of the above prizes should not take place, then the interest of the fund is to be paid over to the Dean, or other presiding officer of the Seminary, to be distributed by him, at his discretion, among necessitous and deserving Students.

*The Society of the Associate Alumni has promised to increase these prizes, this year, to Fifty dollars each.

†Subjects for the examinations, 1905. The Epistle of St. Paul to the Ephesians. The Epistle of St. Ignatius to the Ephesians. The Books of Jonah and Micah in the Septuagint.

The names of students receiving prizes are entered on record in a book kept in the Library for that purpose, entitled "The Alumni Prize Record," and are also entered in the Annual Report made by the Faculty to the Trustees.

SOCIOLOGICAL PRIZES

The Class of 1891 of the General Theological Seminary offers three annual prizes of $100 each, open to all undergraduate students of the Seminary in good standing, to be awarded to the author of the best original essay on some sociological subject, such subject to be selected by a committee appointed by the Class, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary. No student who has been awarded one of the prizes shall be eligible to compete for a subsequent prize. The judges to determine the merits of the various essays shall be appointed every year by the Committee of the Class of 1891, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary.

The Judges for the ensuing year are:—

Rev. Wm. R. Huntington, D.D., Rector of Grace Church, New York.

Prof. W. M. Daniels, of Princeton University.

Prof. F. H. Giddings, of Columbia University.

The dates upon which the essays are to be submitted and awarded are as follows:

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1905.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1905.

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1906.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1906.

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1907.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1907.

The subject for the essay for 1905 is "The Social Value of the Biblical Idea of the Kingdom of God."

Each essay is to contain at least 10,000 words, and no prize will be awarded if, in the opinion of the judges, the work does not attain the proper standard of excellence. The essays should be in manuscript or typewritten on one side only of sheets eight by ten inches, and there should be left a sufficient margin on the left side for binding.

The essays submitted become the property of the General Theological Seminary; and the Committee of the Class of 1891 reserves the right of publishing the prize essay, or any of the other competing essays.

The Committee of the Class of 1891 consists of

The Rev. Frank S. Spalding, M.A., B.D., President.
The Rev. Willis Hatfield Hazard, Ph.D.
The Rev. Paul F. Swett, Secretary.

THE SEYMOUR PRIZE

(Next competition, 1906.)

This prize for the encouragement of extemporaneous preaching, and the committing to memory of certain portions of the Book of Common Prayer, was founded by an unknown benefactor of the Seminary, in the year 1874, and was named by him, in honor of the Rev. George F. Seymour, D.D., LL.D., then Professor of Ecclesiastical History, "The Seymour Prize."

The Prize, as at present arranged, is a gold watch of the best American manufacture, with the inscription engraved on the inside, "Instant in season, out of season," the name of the prize, the year in which it was gained, and the full name of the person to whom it is awarded.

The competition shall take place every second year, beginning with 1876, on the third Satu day in January, and is open to matriculated students of the Senior and Middle Classes.

In order to be qualified to contend for this prize, the founder prescribed that the student must be able to recite from memory the entire service for the Burial of the Dead, except the rubrics, inasmuch as the clergy are frequently called upon to perform this office when it is impossible to use the book.

The judges who shall award the prize shall be three in number, Presbyters, not Professors nor instructors in the Seminary, to be selected by the Dean, or Acting Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition.

The judges shall assign the theme to be discussed, in the form of a proposition or text of Scripture, not more than one hour before the exercises begin.

The order in which the speakers are called shall be determined by lot, the Judges drawing the names of the competitors, and calling them in the order in which their names are drawn.

Each competitor, when he has concluded his sermon or address, shall immediately retire from the room where the exercises are held, nor shall he be allowed to be present at any time while his fellow-contestants are speaking. The time allowed the several speakers shall be the same for all, and shall be determined on each occasion by the Judges.

The Judges shall meet immediately after the exercises are ended, and award the prize. In case they decide that no one of the efforts is of sufficient merit to deserve the prize, then the interest which has accrued shall be added to the principal, and go to enlarge the endowment.

THE GEORGE CABOT WARD (IN MEMORIAM) PRIZE

This is a prize of $40, to be awarded annually to a member of the Senior Class, for the best reading of the Bible and of the service of the Church.

The "best reading," according to the intention of the donor, is to be determined with special reference to reverence, distinctness, simplicity, naturalness, and the proper use of the voice.

The competition shall take place on some day in February, determined by the Dean.

Ten men only, chosen by the Dean and Instructor in Elocution, as best fitted for the contest, shall be eligible.

The judges who shall award the prize shall be three laymen of the Church, selected by the Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition.

The subject-matter chosen as a test for each student, shall consist of not less than twenty verses of Holy Scripture, and of such parts of the Prayer Book Offices, other than the prayers, as shall be determined on by the judges.

The prize shall be awarded by the judges immediately after the competition.

The Library

The Library of the Seminary numbers nearly forty thousand volumes exclusive of a large collection of pamphlets, and is shelved in an attractive reading room and two modern stacks.

No effort is spared to make the Library broad and well balanced in range, and to render the facilities for its use more numerous, and its resources more valuable. The dictionary catalogue and shelf arrangement make the literature of author and subject easily ascertainable, and for the special convenience of students the works of reference and general literature of the various Seminary courses are arranged in the study alcoves of the main reading room, in distinct groups.

In addition to the reading room and stacks, a special room is devoted to periodicals, of which the Library has a good representative collection. Another room contains the famous collection of Bibles, which is probably unsurpassed in the completeness of its Latin Texts.

Two Seminar rooms, supplied with collections of reference books, and works temporarily transferred from the main library, give opportunity for the use of large numbers of volumes during a long and uninterrupted period of time, by students doing special research work.

The Library is especially strong in Liturgics, American Church History and Patristics. With a view to maintaining its present position as a repository for the materials and records of American Church history, contributions are urgently solicited of any manuscript or printed matter, relating to the history and progress of the Church. Diocesan Journals, of which the Library now has a remarkable collection, and Parish papers, are especially desired and will be properly cared for. The Alumni are urged to bear this request in mind, and also to send the Library copies of all their own published works.

The Library is open daily, except Sundays, from nine A.M. to five P.M. and from seven to ten-thirty P.M. Students may borrow three books at a time, for a period of one month. Graduate students and Fellows are given special privileges. Persons not connected with the Seminary may consult the Library at any time under the direction of the Librarian, but are not permitted to borrow books.

Students of the Seminary also have the privilege of using the Library of Columbia University.

The Missionary Society

The object of this Society is to gather information concerning the Missions of the Church, and to further a missionary spirit among the Students. It is a chapter of the Church Students' Missionary Association. A room in Jarvis Hall is devoted to its use.

Meetings.—Meetings are held every Tuesday evening throughout the Seminary year. The first meeting of each month is devoted to business; at the other meetings missionary addresses are given.

Services.—At the Celebration of the Holy Eucharist on the first Wednesday of each month special prayers for Missions are said, and a special offering is taken to be expended in the cause of Missions. A Missionary Litany is said every Monday at noon, and a Devotional Address is given once a month at one o'clock.

Work.—Eight Missionary Study Classes are conducted among the students. The Society has the oversight of one of the Newsboys' Lodging Houses of the City, and helps in the support of the C. S. M. A. missionary in China and of the Assyrian Mission.

General Information

The General Theological Seminary was founded in 1817, for the education of Candidates for Holy Orders, and was designed to be an institution which should "have the united support of the whole Church of these United States, and be under the superintendence and control of the General Convention," with a Board of Trustees representing all the Dioceses.

SITUATION

The Seminary buildings are situated on Chelsea Square, in the City of New York, bounded by Ninth and Tenth Avenues, Twentieth and Twenty-first Streets. The buildings will accommodate one hundred and seventy-five students. The site is considered one of the healthiest in the city. There are obvious advantages incident to residence in New York. The students come into contact with church life at one of its great centres. There are opportunities for the study, at first hand, of religious and philanthropic activities as embodied in parochial organization and institutional and settlement work, which can hardly be rivalled elsewhere. And where it is necessary, students find it easy to obtain work which materially aids in self-support.

CHAPEL SERVICES

During the Academic year, Holy Communion is celebrated in the Chapel on every Sunday at 7.30 A.M., on Holy Days, and on every Wednesday and Friday, at 7 A.M. During Advent and Lent there is a daily Celebration. Morning Prayer is sung at 8.30 A.M., every day except Sunday, and Evening Prayer at 5.30 P.M. daily. On Wednesday and Friday the Litany is said at noon. Students are expected to attend Morning and Evening Prayer regularly, save when hindered by necessity.

During Advent and Lent, special sermons and devotional services are arranged year by year.

In Memoriam.—By order of the Trustees the chimes are rung, under direction of the Dean, on October 6th and February 18th, these being the days when the late Samuel Verplanck Hoffman and Glorvina Rossell, his wife, to whom the Seminary owes the Chapel, entered into rest.

The chimes are also rung on March 21st, the birthday of the late Eugene Augustus Hoffman, D.D., for twenty-three years Dean of the Seminary and generous benefactor.

SCHOLARSHIPS

There are forty-four endowed scholarships, the income of which varies from about $125 to $225, which have been founded to aid needy students.

The Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New York also gives annual scholarships, through the Dean, varying in amount according to the need and the standing of the student.

It is distinctly the policy of the Seminary that scholarship aid should be proportioned to the earnestness and success of the student in his scholastic work. No scholarship aid is given to any student whose grade falls below seven on a scale of ten. And it should be remembered that these scholarships are intended for the assistance of those who could not otherwise meet the expenses of their Seminary course.

Scholarships are apportioned at the beginning of October, and printed forms of application may be obtained from the Bursar at that time.

ADVANCED AND POST-GRADUATE WORK

It is the earnest wish of the authorities of the Seminary to encourage advanced and post-graduate work. Facilities are given to under-graduates to pursue elective work in certain Departments under conditions set forth elsewhere in the catalogue; and graduates are encouraged to return, under advice of their Bishops, for a fourth-year course of study. Clergymen, graduates or otherwise, wishing to come to the Seminary for special work are welcomed and, so far as possible, scholarship aid is given them when necessary.

ROOMS AND EXPENSES

The tuition is free. The rooms are furnished, with the exception of bed-clothing. The total charge, covering room and board, light, heat, and care of room, is $225, payable in advance semi-annually, in September and January. No deduction is made save for prolonged absence on account of sickness. Other personal expenses will, of course, vary according to the habits of the individual student. Every student is required to provide himself with cap and gown.

PROVISION FOR THE SICK

A regular physician, appointed by the Trustees, has daily office hours at the Seminary, and is in general charge of the physical culture of the students. His services are free to all students of the Seminary. There are two free beds and two free rooms in St. Luke's Hospital, to which the Dean has the right to nominate any person connected with the Seminary.

The Association was organized in October, 1832. Incorporated, 1889.

It is designed to embrace all the Graduates of the Seminary. Its objects are:—To cherish a spirit of mutual interest and union among its members; to advance the cause of theological learning and evangelical truth and piety, and to promote the advantage of the Institution with which it is connected.

The Annual Meeting is held on the day before the Commencement, when an essay is delivered. A triennial meeting is also held during the Session of the General Convention, when a sermon is preached before the Alumni.

The General Theological Seminary

Founded 1817

Requirements for Admission

The next Seminary year will begin on Wednesday, September 19, 1906. Applicants for admission should present themselves for examination in Sherred Hall on that day, at 9 a. m., provided with pen and ink. If they wish rooms reserved for them, they must send their full names to the Dean before that date. The rooms can not be occupied until the day before the Seminary opens, and, except by special arrangement, they will not be reserved after the day of the Annual Entrance Examination.

REGULAR STUDENTS

The requirements for the admission of regular students are as follows:

I. (a) Evidence of having been admitted as Candidates for Priest's Orders, with full qualifications, according to the Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States; or

(b) evidence (1) that they are graduates in Arts of some recognized University or College in which the learned languages are duly studied, and (2) satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for the Holy Ministry.

These testimonials must be presented to the Dean at or before the time of the Entrance Examination.

Students admitted under provision (b) are expected to become Candidates for Priest's Orders at the earliest possible date.

II. To pass a written examination in the following:

(i.) The first twelve chapters of the Acts of the Apostles or an equivalent portion of the Greek Testament.

(ii.) Greek Grammar. This requirement is met by a knowledge of the grammars in use in colleges or of such manuals as Huddilston's "Essentials of New Testament Greek," or Green's "Hand-Book to the Grammar of the Greek Testament."

(iii.) Biblical history.

(iv.) An English essay (to be written in the presence of the examiners, on a subject to be assigned at the time).

Applicants for admission to the Middle or Senior Classes, except students with an honorable dismission from another theological seminary of the Church, are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the studies which have been pursued by the class to which they seek admission.

Clergymen are not admitted as regular students to the Junior, Middle or Senior Classes.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

The Faculty may receive clergymen and candidates for Orders as Special Students in the Seminary, to pursue such studies as they can profitably engage in, without being members of any of the three classes. No entrance examination is required of Special Students, but they must give evidence that they are sufficiently prepared to enter on the studies which they desire to pursue. Such students shall not be allowed to compete for any prize. The Faculty may award to them certificates of proficiency in any departments of study upon which they have sustained an examination.

Elective Courses and Graduate Work

For information see pages 18-36 of this catalogue.

Seminary Telephone number, 641 Chelsea, New York.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY

PROFESSOR DENSLOW

Junior Course

Homiletics. Lectures and criticism of sermons. Three hours a week, second term.

The lectures present these topics chiefly: the preacher, the sermon, sermon-making and style. The principles taught are applied in the making of sermon-outlines and in the criticism of both published and manuscript sermons.

The books chiefly used are: Broadus, Preparation and Delivery of Sermons; Dupanloup, The Ministry of Preaching; Potter, The Art of Extemporary Preaching; Baldwin, How to Write.

Middle Year Course

Liturgics. Lectures and reading. Two hours a week, second term.

The lectures present the outlines of early liturgical history and a fuller consideration of the origins and revisions of the Book of Common Prayer.

The books chiefly used are: Warren, Liturgy of the Ante-Nicene Church; Duchesne, Christian Worship; Maclean, Early Christian Worship; Pullan, The Book of Common Prayer; Batiffol, History of the Roman Breviary; Burbidge, Liturgies and Offices of the Church.

Senior Courses

Liturgics. Lectures, reading and essays. Three hours a week, first term.

The lectures present a commentary on the Book of Common Prayer, including a thorough examination of each Office and the discussion of many questions of rubric and ceremonial. Each student writes an essay on an assigned subject in Liturgics.

The books chiefly used are: Daniel, The Prayer Book, etc.; Luckock, The Divine Liturgy; Proctor and Frere, New History of the Book of Common Prayer.

Pastoral Care. Lectures and reading. Three hours a week, second term.

The lectures consider in detail the duties of the parish priest. The Sunday-school, guilds, institutional work, preaching, parochial visiting and the personal life of the priest are some of the subjects discussed.

Students are urged to read such books as Newbolt's Speculum Sacerdotum, Parnell's Ars Pastoria, Furse's The Beauty of Holiness, Gott's Parish Priest of the Town.

Statutory Sermons

Each student is required to present during the three years nine written sermons, which are examined and criticized by the professor, and in many instances discussed with the writer.

Elective Course

Seminar in Sermon-construction. One hour a week, first term, 1905-1906.

PROFESSOR KINSMAN

Instruction in the History courses is given mainly by lecture. In addition to attendance at lectures, students are required to do courses of systematic reading and to prepare each term several papers on assigned subjects.

JUNIOR COURSES

The Church during the First Three Centuries. Two hours a week, first term.

The subjects dealt with in lecture are: the sources of our knowledge of the primitive Church, the status of Christianity in the Roman Empire, its development in great centers, the lives and writings of the early Fathers, the relation of Christian to Jewish and Greek thought, the ante-Nicene theology. Reading-lists are expected to show familiarity with most of the Christian literature of the first two centuries and with a number of recent works in English representing different schools of historical criticism.

Conciliar Period. Two hours a week, second term.

Lectures in this course deal with the successive stages of Christological controversy, the relation of these to each other and to the faith of the primitive Church, the Donatist and Pelagian controversies, the dogmatic decisions of the first six General Councils, the relations of Christianity and paganism, the growth of the Patriarchates, and the lives of the leaders of the Church. Students are expected to make a special study of two representative theologians of the period, one Latin and one Greek.

MIDDLE YEAR COURSE

The Church of the Middle Ages and the Continental Reformation. Four hours a week, second term.

A portion of the work in this course is done by examination on assigned work in text-book, the greater part by lectures supplemented by varied collateral reading. The subjects dealt with are as follows:

Eastern Church. 1. History of the Greek Church from the time of Justinian. 2. Mohammedanism and its effects upon Eastern Christianity. 3. The Russian Church. 4. The Schism between East and West.

Latin Christianity. 1. Stages in the growth of the Roman Papacy. 2. Western Monasticism and the Mendicant Orders. 3. Scholasticism and the Mediæval Doctors. 4. Decadence of the Papacy after the thirteenth century. 5. The Renaissance.

Continental Reformation. 1. The Saxon Reformation, Luther and Melancthon. 2. The Swiss Reformation, Zwingli and Calvin. 3. The Roman Reformation, the Jesuits and the Council of Trent.

Senior Courses

History of the Church of England. Two hours a week, first term.

Instruction is chiefly by lecture with varied collateral reading, partly by examination on assigned portions of a text-book. The course deals with: 1. History of Celtic Christianity. 2. Conversion of the English. 3. The Church of England in the Middle Ages. 4. English Reformation; the struggle with Rome, the struggle with Geneva. 5. Anglicanism, as expressed in its formularies. 6. Leaders of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

Christian History of the Last Two Centuries. Two hours a week, second term.

1. Roman Catholicism since the Council of Trent. 2. The Eastern Church. 3. Religious history of modern Germany. 4. Calvinism and its reactions. 5. The three great movements of modern Anglicanism.

ECCLESIASTICAL POLITY AND LAW

PROFESSOR SEABURY

Middle Year Course

Nature and Constitution of the Church, with particular reference to the evidence of Holy Scripture. Lectures and required reading. Two hours a week, second term.

Text-book: Seabury, Introduction to the Study of Ecclesiastical Polity.

Senior Course

Constitution and Laws of the Church, with particular reference to the evidence of History. Lectures and required reading. Three hours a week, first term.

Text-books: Seabury, Lectures on Haddan's Apostolical Succession, and Notes on the Constitution of 1901; Constitution and Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.

JUNIOR COURSE

The Gospel Facts. Lectures, reading and essays. Two hours a week, second term.

Similar to the Senior Course as given this year. It is intended to transfer the course on "The Evidence of Christian Experience," which has hitherto been the Junior Course, to Senior Year; and "The Gospel Facts" will be taken up with both the Junior and Senior Classes this year and next.

MIDDLE YEAR COURSE

The Philosophy of Religion. Lectures, reading, essays and discussions. Four hours a week, first term.

The aim of this course is to show that faith in God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, as made manifest in the personal revelation of the Logos, is consistent with knowledge and is the highest act of man's reason. The topics treated are as follows: an exposition of the theistic arguments, considered as attempts at the analysis and rational justification of our religious consciousness; an examination of the doubts as to the validity of our knowledge of God, raised in various forms by Hume, by the critical philosophy of Kant, and by modern agnosticism; an examination of the Ritschlian theology and its theory of knowledge; an examination of materialistic and naturalistic theories, with special reference to some questions in regard to evolution and to the relation between mind and body, and a comparison of these theories with the Christian view as to nature and man and the Christian postulate of God; an examination of pantheistic theories, and a comparison of them with the Christian view.

The books chiefly used are: Illingworth, Personality Human and Divine, and Reason and Revelation; Orr, The Christian View of God and the World, and Ritschlianism; Fisher, Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief; Weber or Erdman, History of Philosophy; Jevons, Evolution.

Senior Course

The Gospel Facts. Lectures, reading and essays. Two hours a week, second term.

The main topics discussed are: the Resurrection of Christ, miracles, revelation and inspiration.

The books chiefly used are the following: Milligan, The Resurrection of our Lord; Fisher, Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief; Bruce, Apologetics; articles in Hasting's Dictionary of the Bible; Lee, The Inspiration of Holy Scripture; Sanday, Inspiration.

Elective Courses

Studies in the Philosophy of Religion. Reading, discussions and lectures. Two hours a week, first term.

This course covers the same general ground as the Middle Year Course, but is more advanced.

Seminar in the Philosophy of Religion. Two hours fortnightly, first term.

Designed for students who wish to make a careful study of special problems.

The Evidence of Christian Experience. Lectures, reading and essays. Two hours a week, second term.

This course is a study of faith as exhibited in the lives and writings of Christian believers. It aims to show the nature of faith as involving the use of all our powers, reason, will and love, and the fitness of the Christian revelation to meet our deepest needs. The subject is treated with reference to various recent discussions of the psychology of religion; and the students are expected to read a number of these, a variety of biographies, and Walpole, Vital Religion, or the Personal Knowledge of Christ.

Studies in Comparative Religion. Lectures, reading and essays. Two hours a week, second term.

HEBREW AND COGNATE LANGUAGES

Junior Course

Elementary Hebrew. Four hours a week, first term, and three hours a week, second term.

In the first term the class makes as thorough a study as the time permits of the elements of Hebrew grammar, with exercises in translation and composition. In the second term the class reads selected chapters from some of the Historical Books, with exercises in sight reading and composition, with a view to the acquiring of a vocabulary and of a practical familiarity with the forms of the language.

Middle Year Course

Studies in the Hebrew of the Poets and Prophets. Two hours a week, first term.

This course is designed to carry on and complete the work of Junior Year in preparing students to use the Hebrew Bible with facility in their study of Old Testament Exegesis.

Among the books recommended are: Gesenius-Kautzsch, Hebrew Grammar; Davidson, Hebrew Syntax; Driver, Hebrew Tenses; and the best available commentaries upon the books read.

The scheme of lectures is so arranged that Juniors who have already mastered the elements of Hebrew can be admitted to the Middle Year courses in Hebrew and Old Testament Exegesis.

Elective Courses

These are one-term courses, and ordinarily only one can be given in the first term and only two in the second. The first three courses may be made either one or two hours a week.

Rapid Reading of one or more Books of the Old Testament. This course is designed to aid men wishing to gain additional facility in the reading of the Hebrew Language.

Studies in the Psalter. Selected Psalms are carefully examined with reference to questions of text, line of thought, authorship, New Testament quotations, etc.

Studies in Textual Criticism. Comparison of parallel passages in the Massoretic Text, and of the Hebrew with the Septuagint Version.

Biblical Aramaic. Two hours a week, one term.

Reading of the Aramaic portions of Daniel and Ezra. This course is recommended to those who are proficient in Biblical Hebrew or who intend to do further work in the Semitic languages.

Text-book, Strack, Grammatik des Biblischen Aramaisch, with references to Kautzsch.

Instruction will be given to those wishing to enter upon the study of Assyrian, Syriac or Arabic, when the time of the professor permits. Courses in the department of Semitic Languages in Columbia University are open to the students of the Seminary.

GREEK

MR. BLODGETT

A course in the elements of the Greek Grammar with exercise in the translation of the New Testament is provided for those students whose preparation in this respect has been insufficient.

ETHICS

MR. HUNT

Junior Course

Ethical Origins. Lectures and essays. Two hours a week, second term.

The aim of this course is to provide both a general and a particular introduction to Christian ethics. Ethical development is studied historically on the basis of the data found in the Old Testament and in early ethnic codes.

Middle Year Course

Christian Ethics. Lectures and essays. Two hours a week, first term.

The object of the course is a systematic presentation of the ethical teaching of Jesus Christ. Comparisons and contrasts are drawn between the teaching of Jesus Christ and that of various ethical schools and writers. The relation of this teaching to Christian Theology and to various types of ethical theory is also studied.

Senior Course

Applied Ethics. Two hours a week, second term.

The course aims at the practical application of the distinctive principles of Christian ethics to the problems of modern life. Current topics in personal and social ethics are used as the subject matter of this course. Special reference is made to the books recommended at the General Convention of 1904 in the Report of the Standing Commission on the Relations of Capital and Labor.

ECCLESIASTICAL MUSIC

MR. GALE

Junior Course

Voice production; the Chapel music; the grammar of music, notation, keys, scales, intervals, simple chords; sight-singing, ear-training; Gregorian chanting; notes on Plain-song; the Priest's part in choral Matins, Evensong and Litany; the choral portion of Merbecke's Plain-song Communion Service.

One hour a week through the year. Required of Juniors.

Middle Course

The Chapel music; vocal exercises; grammar of music, reviewed; elementary harmony; the Priest's part in the choral Offices, reviewed; advanced sight-singing; two-part singing; the study of some anthems representative of the best periods; notes on the evolution of Church music.

One hour a week through the year. Open to Middlers as a voluntary course.

Senior Course

The Chapel music; vocal exercises; the Priest's part in all the choral Offices (the students ultimately receiving ample individual attention); notes upon the training of boys' voices, choir technic, congregational singing, "Gregorian" versus "Anglican" chanting, the choral Service, and other practical matters.

One hour a week through the year. Open to Seniors as a voluntary course.

ELOCUTION

Voice Training. One hour a week in class (two sections), and individual instruction to each student in turn, through the year.

This course includes: 1. Proper breathing and the actual use of the muscles involved in voice production. 2. Producing and placing the voice so as to secure power and purity of tone and to avoid fatigue and harshness. In this practice the singing of single notes and of the scale is employed to give the standard for a pure speaking tone. 3. Enunciation, inflection, emphasis, tone-color, rhythm and thorough control of expression. In this practice the natural expression of refined conversation is referred to as the origin of the forms of public expression. 4. Correction of natural defects and false habits of utterance. 5. Application of the foregoing to the reading of the Services and the Lessons; also to public speaking. 6. Practice of gesture.

MIDDLE YEAR COURSE

The Church Services. One hour a week in class (two sections), and individual instruction to each student in turn, through the year.

Thorough study of the reading of the Prayer-book and of the Lectionary, with criticism by the instructor of the reading of each student in private lessons. Review of voice training.

SENIOR COURSE

Delivery of Sermons. One hour a week in class (two sections), and individual instruction to each student in turn, through the year.

Study and practice of the effective delivery of original sermons and addresses, both written and extemporaneous. Review of voice training.

Daily private practice is required of every student; and each element of the progressive vocal culture must be mastered before he is regarded as competent to advance in the course. The regular semi-annual examinations include questions on the technic of elocution and tests in vocal exercises, reading, speaking and gestures.

Text-book, Tenney, Manual of Elocution and Expression.

Elective Courses

These courses, announced in the scheme of study, are designed primarily to provide for qualified students of the Middle and Senior Classes the opportunity to pursue certain studies besides those of the regular courses. If any student who has completed the Junior year desires to take up any one of these courses, in place of a prescribed course, he may qualify himself to do so by getting the approval of the professor to whose department the elective course belongs, and by passing a satisfactory examination in any prescribed course, except those in Old Testament Interpretation, Pastoral Theology and Elocution.

If an elective course be substituted for a prescribed course in the same department, the time of the examination may be fixed by the professor; but in all other cases, except for urgent reasons and by special vote of the Faculty, the examination will be held at the opening of the term or year to which the prescribed course belongs.

The pass-mark given for these examinations will not affect the student's standing, the mark attained in the substituted elective course being recorded instead.

For courses of reading in preparation for any such examination, students are referred to the professors.

Any of these elective courses may, by permission of the faculty, be taken in addition to the prescribed courses of the Middle or Senior year without affecting the student's general standing.

Any of these courses may be taken by graduate students, subject to the approval of the Dean and Faculty.

Graduate Students

Alumni of the Seminary and graduates of other theological schools of the Church may be enrolled as graduate students. At the beginning of each half year they shall submit in writing, for the approval of the Dean and Faculty, a statement of the courses they have elected to pursue.

Graduate students who take courses for a year in at least three departments each term and pass the required examinations are entitled to receive a Fourth Year Certificate.

Columbia University

The General Theological Seminary is affiliated with Columbia University under the following agreement:

1. Columbia University shall admit without tuition fee such students of high standing in the General Theological Seminary as may be recommended by the Dean of that institution, to attend such courses of instruction in Columbia University as may be agreed upon from time to time by the President of the University and the Dean of the Seminary.

2. Columbia University shall accept, in partial fulfilment of the requirements established for the degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy, work done in the Seminary by students qualified to become candidates for those degrees at Columbia University under the following conditions:

(a) In every case the major subject of study shall be taken at Columbia University.

(b) The minor subjects of study, which, at the option of the student, may be taken at the Seminary, are: Oriental Languages, New Testament Greek, Ecclesiastical History, Philosophy of Religion, Ethics.

(c) All examinations for the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy shall be conducted by Columbia University.

3. The Dean of the General Theological Seminary shall be ex-officio a member of the University Council of Columbia University with the privileges of the floor but without the right to vote.

4. The General Theological Seminary shall admit, without fee for tuition, such students of high standing in the Senior Class of Columbia College and in the Graduate Schools of Columbia University as may be recommended by the President to such instruction at the Seminary as may be agreed upon by the Dean of the Seminary and the President of Columbia University.

5. The Library of Columbia University and the Library of the Seminary shall be open on equal terms to the students of both institution.

The Bishop Paddock Lectureship

This Lectureship was founded in 1880, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, by George A. Jarvis, of Brooklyn, moved thereto by gratitude to God for the goodness and mercy that had followed him all the days of his life, and impressed by a deep sense of the good which would, with God's blessing, grow out of an endowment for the encouragement of "the defence and confirmation of the Gospel" by godly and well-learned men. He named it after his former beloved pastor and ever-endeared friend, Benjamin Henry Paddock, D.D., Bishop of Massachusetts.

The Lecturer is to be appointed by the Dean of the General Theological Seminary, the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Bishop of Connecticut, and the Bishop of Long Island, and their successors in office, or such of them as may accept such trust, who are designated and constituted "The Board of Appointment." He must be an ordained minister in good standing of this Church, or of some Church in communion with it; and shall deliver at such time and place as may be required a Course of Lecture Sermons, in number not less than four nor more than seven. And no previous Lecturer shall be eligible unless at least seven years shall have intervened between the two courses.

The subjects of the Lectures are to be such as appertain to the defence of the religion of Jesus Christ, as revealed in the Holy Bible and illustrated in the Book of Common Prayer, against the varying errors of the day, whether materialistic, rationalistic, or professedly religious; and also to its defence and confirmation in respect of such central truths as the Trinity, the Atonement, Justification, and the Inspiration of the Word of God; and of such central facts as the Church's divine order and Sacraments, her historical Reformation, and her rights and power as a pure and national Church. And other subjects may be chosen, if unanimously approved by the Board of Appointment as being both timely and also within the true intent of this Lectureship.

Degrees

BACHELOR IN DIVINITY

The degree of Bachelor in Divinity is held to represent a scholarly acquaintance with the three languages, Hebrew, Greek and Latin.

The following persons are eligible for the degree of Bachelor in Divinity:

I. The members of the Graduating Class in each year who shall have attained an average grade of not less than ninety per cent in their studies during their entire Seminary course, and whom the Faculty may recommend as being, in their judgment, worthy to receive that distinction.

II. Graduates of any incorporated theological school of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have attained an average grade of not less than eighty-five per cent during their entire Seminary course, and who shall pass a satisfactory examination in at least two departments of Theology, to be approved by the Faculty.

All candidates for the degree of Bachelor in Divinity must present, one month before the degree is to be conferred, a theological thesis satisfactory to the Faculty.

The degree of Bachelor in Divinity will not be conferred upon anyone who is not in Priest's Orders and in good standing, nor will it, in any event, be conferred honoris causa.

DOCTOR IN DIVINITY

The degree of Doctor in Divinity will be conferred upon Alumni of the General Theological Seminary in Priest's Orders, and upon other clergymen in Priest's Orders of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have presented to the Dean evidence of their having received the degree of Bachelor in Divinity from some incorporated theological institution of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and who shall give evidence satisfactory to the Faculty of advanced study in one major and two minor subjects, approved by the Faculty, with the presentation of a thesis showing such originality of thought or extent of research as shall, in the opinion of the Faculty, justify them in recommending the candidate for the degree. The Faculty shall have power to accept, for either or both of the minor subjects, such departments cognate to the study of Theology as may be approved by the Faculty.

Any clergyman who desires to become a candidate for this degree, must send his application to the Dean. Each application must specify fully the nature of the course of study proposed under the prescribed major and minor divisions. Such applications will then be submitted to the Faculty for revision and approval.

Intending candidates should bear in mind the following general principles:

The course of study must in all cases be such as to represent capacity for original work. It must be the equivalent of from two to three years' continuous study. Candidates are advised to spend, if possible, at least one year in study at the Seminary.

The two minor subjects taken together should represent about one-third of the work.

Among subjects cognate to Theology from which selection may be made, the following are suggested: Philosophy, Anthropology, Ethics, Sociology, Biblical Archæology, Comparative Religions, Semitic Languages, Patristic Latin and Greek.

The candidate may, with the approval of the Faculty, present his subjects for examination separately and in any order.

The examiners shall have power to conduct the examinations either by written papers or by oral examination or by both; or, again, by prescribing a thesis covering the whole of the subject, or part of it, together with a written or oral examination thereupon.

Candidates for degrees who are unable, on account of residence at a great distance from the Seminary, or for other sufficient cause, to present themselves for examination in person, may be examined by commission, according to such a system as may be devised and approved by the Faculty.

The degree of Doctor in Divinity may be conferred by the Board of Trustees, without examination, for the authorship of some published theological work, which, in the judgment of the Faculty, furnishes a sufficiently important contribution to Theology to be rewarded by this distinction; such judgment to be certified in writing in each case to the Board of Trustees by the Faculty. The Board may also confer the degree, in its discretion, upon the Dean or any Professor of the Seminary, or upon any alumnus thereof elected to the Episcopate, whose election shall have been confirmed.

The Faculty may, for sufficient reasons, at any time when the Board of Trustees is not in session, recommend to the Standing Committee of the Board of Trustees the name of any clergyman who, in their judgment, ought to have the degree of Doctor in Divinity conferred upon him, and if the Standing Committee approve the recommendation, it may thereupon authorize the Dean to confer the degree in the presence of the Faculty at such time and place as he may select.

HOODS

Any clergyman upon whom this Seminary has conferred a degree is entitled to wear the hood pertaining to his degree; and when he is formally admitted to his degree, the form of admission will include vesting him with the appropriate hood, which shall be provided by the Seminary.

The hood of the Bachelor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of black ribbed silk, lined with purple silk.

The hood of the Doctor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of scarlet cloth, lined with purple silk.

The fees for degrees (excepting those conferred honoris causa) are fifteen dollars in the case of a Bachelor and twenty-five dollars in the case of a Doctor. These fees must be paid to the Treasurer of the Seminary previous to the degrees being conferred, and shall cover the cost of the appropriate hood.

All graduates of the Seminary who have not received a degree in Divinity are entitled, after ordination, to wear a black stuff hood, with a purple border, not more than one inch wide, of the pattern known in England as the Literate's hood.

These hoods can be procured from the Bursar for five dollars each.

Fellowships

THE JOHN H. TALMAN FELLOWSHIP

This fellowship was founded in 1881 by Caroline Talman, of New York, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of her father, "The John H. Talman Fellowship."

The entire income of the endowment, after keeping the Talman room in the Seminary properly furnished, is to be paid to the holder of the fellowship in quarterly payments, excepting that, during a vacancy in the said fellowship, it is to be added to the endowment, or paid by order of the Dean of the Seminary to some necessitous student thereof, who on Sundays and Holy Days shall assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

This fellowship may be held for five years, and no longer, by any unmarried graduate of the Seminary in Holy Orders, who shall be appointed by the Faculty, with the approval or on the nomination of the Rector, if there be one, of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in this city; but such appointment must be renewed from year to year on evidence that the holder of the fellowship is fulfilling the purposes of the endowment.

The holder of the fellowship is to have access to the Library, admission to all the lectures, and free use of the Talman room, with the understanding that he shall leave the furniture in as good condition as he received it, ordinary wear and tear alone excepted. He must remain unmarried, reside in the Seminary buildings, pursue, under the supervision of the Faculty, such studies as meet their approval, and be subject to be called upon from time to time to give such evidence of his fidelity and proficiency in his studies as the Faculty may require. He shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour a day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction, and on Sundays and Saints' days assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

If he shall pursue any profession or employment otherwise than by permission of the Faculty and Standing Committee of the Seminary, or shall fail at any time to comply with its rules and regulations, he shall forfeit his right to the benefit of the fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty.

THE EMMA C. MAYO FELLOWSHIPS

Three fellowships were founded by a legacy of Emma Carrington Mayo, of Elizabeth, New Jersey, amounting to twenty-four thousand dollars.

The incumbents must be alumni of the Seminary, and be appointed by the Provincial Superior in America of the Society of Mission Priests of St. John the Evangelist, of Cowley, England, subject to the approval of the Faculty of the Seminary. They shall have access to the Library, and to all the lectures of the Seminary; shall remain unmarried; shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour each day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; may reside in the Seminary, in rooms rented from the authorities at their own expense, or elsewhere, as they may prefer; shall pursue a course of study under the direction of the Faculty for the term of five years, at the end of which period the incumbency shall expire by limitation in each fellowship, and a successor in each, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof; except that the term of any of the fellowships may be extended by the said Provincial Superior with consent of the Faculty.

The holders of the fellowships may be permitted by the Faculty to pursue their studies abroad for such part of their incumbency as the Faculty shall approve and direct. If any incumbents of these fellowships shall violate any of the foregoing conditions, or pursue any profession or employment inconsistent with the full, fair and faithful performance of his duties and obligations as above set forth, he shall forfeit his right to the benefits of the fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty.

THE SALLIE EIGENBRODT FELLOWSHIP

This fellowship was founded by William E. Eigenbrodt, D.D., by legacy in 1894, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of his sister, "The Sallie Eigenbrodt Fellowship."

The nomination shall always be in the hands of the Dean of the Seminary.

In case of a vacancy in the fellowship the income shall be added, under the direction of the Dean, to the principal, or applied by him to assist indigent students in the Seminary.

Prizes

THE McVICKAR PRIZES

There are two Annual Prizes of thirty dollars and twenty dollars, founded in 1850 by the late John McVickar, D.D., and the late Rev. Henry McVickar, to be awarded by the Executive Committee of the Associate Alumni, to members of the Senior Class. The examination for these prizes shall be held during the Easter recess in each year, at such time and place as may be agreeable to the Faculty of the Seminary.

1. A prize of thirty dollars,* being known as the "Greek Alumni Prize," to be tested in open competition, by oral and written examinations (though as far as may be by the pen, after the manner of the English University Examinations for Honors) on the Greek Scriptures generally, including the Septuagint, and if oral, "ad aperturam libri," also in one or more of the Greek Fathers—such authors being designated to those competing for the prize at least six months before.

2. A prize of twenty dollars,* to be known as the "Alumni Prize in Ecclesiastical History," the examination in the same to be conducted as above—in part at least by the pen; and to have special reference to the early history and canonical independence of the Church of England, as being "sui juris," in all ecclesiastical matters, a distinct and independent branch of the Church of CHRIST.

Those intending to compete for the above prizes are to give their names as candidates to the Dean, or other presiding officer, at least a month before the Easter holidays; and between such only the competition is to be held and each prize awarded. The examinations for the year 1905-06 will be held on Saturday, April 21, 1906. The Greek Examination will be held in the morning, and the Ecclesiastical History Examination in the afternoon.

The above prizes are to be paid over annually before the Commencement by the Treasurer of the Seminary to the students to whom they have been respectively awarded by said Committee, as certified by its Chairman; but in case from any cause the distribution of the above prizes should not take place, then the interest of the fund is to be paid over to the Dean, or other presiding officer of the Seminary, to be distributed by him at his discretion among necessitous and deserving students.

*The Society of the Associate Alumni has increased these prizes for the year 1905-06, so that in each subject there will be a first prize of thirty dollars and a second prize of twenty dollars.

The names of students receiving prizes are entered on record in a book kept in the Library for that purpose, entitled "The Alumni Prize Record," and are also entered in the Annual Report made by the Faculty to the Trustees.

SOCIOLOGICAL PRIZES

The Class of 1891 of the General Theological Seminary offers three annual prizes of one hundred dollars each, open to all undergraduate students of the Seminary in good standing, to be awarded to the author of the best original essay on some sociological subject, such subject to be selected by a committee appointed by the Class, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary. No student who has been awarded one of the prizes shall be eligible to compete for a subsequent prize. The judges to determine the merits of the various essays shall be appointed every year by the Committee of the Class of 1891, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary.

The dates upon which the essays are to be submitted and awarded are as follows:

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1906.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1906.

Essay to be submitted, March 1, 1907.—Award to be made, Commencement, 1907.

The subject for the essay for 1906 is "The Social Value of the Biblical Idea of the Kingdom of God."

Each essay is to contain at least 10,000 words, and no prize will be awarded if, in the opinion of the judges, the work does not attain the proper standard of excellence. The essays should be in manuscript or typewritten on one side only of sheets eight by ten inches, and there should be left a sufficient margin on the left side for binding.

The essays submitted become the property of the General Theological Seminary; and the Committee of the Class of 1891 reserves the right of publishing the prize essay, or any of the other competing essays.

The Committee of the Class of 1891 consists of

The Rt. Rev. Franklin S. Spalding, D.D., President.
The Rev. Willis Hatfield Hazard, Ph.D.
The Rev. Paul F. Swett, Secretary.

THE SEYMOUR PRIZE

(Next competition, 1906)

This prize for the encouragement of extemporaneous preaching, and the committing to memory of certain portions of the Book of Common Prayer, was founded by an unknown benefactor of the Seminary in the year 1874, and was named by him, in honor of the Rt. Rev. George F. Seymour, D.D., LL.D., then Professor of Ecclesiastical History, "The Seymour Prize."

The prize, as at present arranged, is a gold watch of the best American manufacture, with the inscription engraved on the inside, "Instant in season, out of season," the name of the prize, the year in which it was gained, and the full name of the person to whom it is awarded.

The competition shall take place every second year, beginning with 1876, on the third Saturday in January, and is open to matriculated students of the Senior and Middle Classes.

In order to be qualified to contend for this prize the founder prescribed that the student must be able to recite from memory the entire service for the Burial of the Dead, except the rubrics, inasmuch as the clergy are frequently called upon to perform this office when it is impossible to use the book.

The judges who shall award the prize shall be three in number, Presbyters, not Professors nor Instructors in the Seminary, to be selected by the Dean, or Acting Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition. They shall assign the theme to be discussed, in the form of a proposition or text of Scripture, not more than one hour before the exercises begin. The order in which the speakers are called shall be determined by lot, the judges drawing the names of the competitors and calling them in the order in which their names are drawn.

Each competitor, when he has concluded his sermon or address, shall immediately retire from the room where the exercises are held, nor shall he be allowed to be present at any time while his fellow-contestants are speaking. The time allowed the several speakers shall be the same for all, and shall be determined on each occasion by the judges, who shall meet immediately after the exercises are ended, and award the prize. In case they decide that no one of the efforts is of sufficient merit to deserve the prize, then the interest which has accrued shall be added to the principal, and go to enlarge the endowment.

THE GEORGE CABOT WARD (IN MEMORIAM) PRIZE

This is a prize of forty dollars, to be awarded annually to a member of the Senior Class, for the best reading of the Bible and of the Service of the Church.

The "best reading," according to the intention of the donor, is to be determined with special reference to reverence, distinctness, simplicity, naturalness, and the proper use of the voice.

The competition shall take place on some day in February, determined by the Dean. Ten men only, chosen by the Dean and Instructor in Elocution, as best fitted for the contest, shall be eligible.

The judges who shall award the prize shall be three laymen of the Church, selected by the Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition. The prize shall be awarded by the judges immediately after the competition. The subject-matter chosen as a test for each student shall consist of not less than twenty verses of Holy Scripture, and of such parts of the Prayer Book Offices, other than the prayers, as shall be determined by the judges.

ASSOCIATE ALUMNI PRIZES

The Associate Alumni offer prizes available during the Seminary year of 1905-1906 for "Excellence in knowledge of the history and contents of the English Bible," which will be open to competition by students of the Middle Class only. The prizes will be thirty dollars first prize and twenty dollars second prize.

The time of holding the examinations for these prizes has been fixed by the Executive Committee of the Associate Alumni as April 21, 1906, being Saturday in Easter-week.

Scholarships

There are forty-four endowed scholarships, the income of which varies from about $125 to $225, which have been founded to aid needy students.

The Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New York also gives annual scholarships, through the Dean, varying in amount according to the need and the standing of the student.

It is distinctly the policy of the Seminary that scholarship aid should be proportioned to the earnestness and success of the student in his scholastic work. No scholarship aid is given to any student whose grade falls below seven on a scale of ten. And it should be remembered that these scholarships are intended for the assistance of those who could not otherwise meet the expenses of their Seminary course.

Scholarships are apportioned at the beginning of October, and printed forms of application may be obtained from the Bursar at that time.

The Library

The Library of the Seminary numbers nearly forty thousand volumes, exclusive of a large collection of pamphlets, and is shelved in an attractive reading room and two modern stacks.

No effort is spared to make the Library broad and well balanced in range, and to render the facilities for its use more numerous, and its resources more valuable. The dictionary catalogue and shelf arrangement make the literature of author and subject easily ascertainable, and for the special convenience of students the works of reference and general literature of the various Seminary courses are arranged in the study alcoves of the main reading-room, in distinct groups.

In addition to the reading room and stacks, a special room is devoted to periodicals, of which the Library has a good representative collection. Another room contains the famous collection of Bibles, which is probably unsurpassed in the completeness of its Latin Texts.

Two Seminar rooms, supplied with collections of reference books, and works temporarily transferred from the main library, give opportunity for the use of large numbers of volumes during a long and uninterrupted period of time, by students doing special research work.

The Library is especially strong in Liturgics, American Church History and Patristics. With a view to maintaining its present position as a repository for the materials and records of American Church history, contributions are urgently solicited of any manuscript or printed matter relating to the history and progress of the Church. Diocesan Journals, of which the Library now has a remarkable collection, and Parish papers, are especially desired and will be properly cared for. The Alumni are urged to bear this request in mind, and also to send the Library copies of all their own published works.

The Library is open daily, except Sundays, from nine a.m. to five p.m. and from seven to ten-thirty p.m. Students may borrow three books at a time, for a period of one month. Graduate students and Fellows are given special privileges. Persons not connected with the Seminary may consult the Library at any time under the direction of the Librarian, but are not permitted to borrow books.

Students of the Seminary have also the privilege of using the Library of Columbia University.

The Missionary Society

The object of this Society is to gather information concerning the Missions of the Church, and to further a missionary spirit among the students. It is a chapter of the Church Students' Missionary Association. A room in Jarvis Hall is devoted to its use.

Meetings.—Meetings are held every Tuesday evening throughout the Seminary year. The first meeting of each month is devoted to business; at the other meetings missionary addresses are given.

Services.—At the Celebration of the Holy Eucharist on the first Wednesday of each month special prayers for Missions are said, and a special offering is taken to be expended in the cause of Missions. A Missionary Litany is said every Monday at noon, and a devotional address is given once a month at one o'clock.

Work.—Six Missionary Study Classes are conducted among the students. The Society helps in the support of the C. S. M. A. Missionary in China and of the Assyrian Mission.

General Information

The General Theological Seminary was founded in 1817, for the education of Candidates for Holy Orders, and was designed to be an institution which should "have the united support of the whole Church of these United States, and be under the superintendence and control of the General Convention," with a Board of Trustees representing all the Dioceses.

SITUATION

The Seminary buildings are situated on Chelsea Square, in the City of New York, bounded by Ninth and Tenth Avenues, Twentieth and Twenty-first Streets. The buildings will accommodate one hundred and seventy-five students. The site is considered one of the healthiest in the city. There are obvious advantages incident to residence in New York. The students come into contact with church life at one of its great centres. There are opportunities for the study, at first hand, of religious and philanthropic activities as embodied in parochial organization and institutional and settlement work, which can hardly be rivalled elsewhere. And where it is necessary, students find it easy to obtain work which materially aids in self-support.

CHAPEL SERVICES

During the academic year, Holy Communion is celebrated in the Chapel on every Sunday at 7.30 a.m.; on Holy Days, and on every Wednesday and Friday at 7 a.m. During Advent and Lent there is a daily Celebration. Morning Prayer is sung at 8.30 a.m. every day except Sunday, and Evening Prayer at 5.30 p.m. daily. On Wednesday and Friday the Litany is said at noon. Students are expected to attend Morning and Evening Prayer regularly, save when hindered by necessity.

During Advent and Lent special sermons and devotional services are arranged year by year.

In Memoriam.—By order of the Trustees the chimes are rung, under direction of the Dean, on October 6th and February 18th, these being the days when the late Samuel Verplanck Hoffman and Glorvina Rossell, his wife, to whom the Seminary owes the Chapel, entered into rest.

The chimes are also rung on March 21st, the birthday of the late Eugene Augustus Hoffman, D.D., for twenty-three years Dean of the Seminary and generous benefactor.

ADVANCED AND GRADUATE WORK

It is the earnest wish of the authorities of the Seminary to encourage advanced and graduate work. Facilities are given to undergraduates to pursue elective work in certain Departments under conditions set forth elsewhere in the catalogue; and graduates are encouraged to return, under advice of their Bishops, for a fourth-year course of study. Clergymen, graduates or otherwise, wishing to come to the Seminary for special work are welcomed, and, so far as possible, scholarship aid is given them when necessary.

ROOMS AND EXPENSES

The tuition is free. The rooms are furnished, with the exception of bed-clothing. The total charge, covering room and board, light, heat, and care of room, is $225, payable in advance semi-annually, in September and January. No deduction is made save for prolonged absence on account of sickness. Other personal expenses will, of course, vary according to the habits of the individual student. Every student is required to provide himself with cap and gown.

PROVISION FOR THE SICK

A regular physician, appointed by the Trustees, has daily office hours at the Seminary, and is in general charge of the physical culture of the students. His services are free to all students of the Seminary. There are two free beds and two free rooms in St. Luke's Hospital, to which the Dean has the right to nominate any clergyman or student of the Seminary.

The Association was organized in October, 1832, and incorporated 1889.

It is designed to embrace all the Graduates of the Seminary. Its objects are:—To cherish a spirit of mutual interest and union among its members; to advance the cause of theological learning and evangelical truth and piety, and to promote the advantage of the Institution with which it is connected.

The Annual Meeting is held on the day before the Commencement, when an essay is delivered. A triennial meeting may be held during the Session of the General Convention, when a sermon is preached before the Alumni.

The General Theological Seminary

Founded 1817

Requirements for Admission

The next Seminary year will begin on Wednesday, September 18, 1907. Applicants for admission should present themselves for examination in Sherred Hall on that day, at 9 a. m., provided with pen and ink. If they wish rooms reserved for them, they must send their full names to the Dean before that date. The rooms can not be occupied until the day before the Seminary opens, and, except by special arrangement, they will not be reserved after the day of the Annual Entrance Examination.

REGULAR STUDENTS

The requirements for the admission of regular students are as follows:

I. (a) Evidence of having been admitted as Candidates for Priest's Orders, with full qualifications, according to the Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States; or

(b) evidence (1) that they are graduates in Arts of some recognized University or College in which the learned languages are duly studied, and (2) satisfactory evidence of religious and moral character, of attachment to the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of being communicants of the same, and of such qualifications as fit them for entrance on a course of preparation for Holy Orders.

These testimonials must be presented to the Dean at or before the time of the Entrance Examination.

Students admitted under provision (b) are expected to become Candidates for Priest's Orders at the earliest possible date.

II. To pass a written examination in the following:

(i.) The first twelve chapters of the Acts of the Apostles or an equivalent portion of the Greek Testament.

(ii.) Greek Grammar. This requirement is met by a knowledge of the grammars in use in colleges or of such manuals as Huddilston's Essentials of New Testament Greek, or Green's Hand-Book to the Grammar of the Greek Testament.

Applicants for admission to the Middle or Senior Class, except students with an honorable dismission from another theological seminary of the Church, are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the studies which have been pursued by the class to which they seek admission.

Clergymen are not admitted as regular students to the Junior, Middle or Senior Class.

STUDENTS ELECTING A SPECIAL COURSE

The Faculty may receive clergymen and candidates for Orders to pursue such studies as they can profitably engage in, without being members of any of the three classes. No entrance examination is required of such students, but they must give evidence that they are sufficiently prepared to enter on the studies which they desire to pursue. The Faculty may award to them certificates of proficiency in any departments of study upon which they have sustained an examination.

Elective Courses and Graduate Work

Seminary Telephone number, 641 Chelsea, New York.

Scheme of Study

OLD TESTAMENT

PROFESSOR BATTEN

Junior Course

Old Testament History. Three hours a week, second term.

Text-book: The Revised Version of the Holy Bible. Books of reference: Kent, A History of the Jewish People; Smith, Old Testament History; Kittel, History of the Hebrews; Kent, Students' Old Testament; G. A. Smith, Historical Geography of the Holy Land; Driver, Introduction to the Literature of the Old Testament.

Middle Year Course

The Prophetical Books. Three hours a week, second term.

The aim in this course is the mastery of the contents and interpretation of the great prophets, especially with reference to the historical connection of each prophecy. Some of the prophets are read very carefully in the original tongue, while others are passed over more rapidly, the student then using the English text. The theology of the prophets receives due attention in the course of study, the object being to lay the foundation for the science of Biblical Theology.

Text-book: Baer and Delitzsch's Text of the Hebrew Bible. Books of reference: Modern commentaries, both English and German; the various works on Introduction; the Bible Dictionaries; Batten, The Hebrew Prophet.

Senior Course

The Poetical and Wisdom Literature of the Old Testament. Four hours a week, first term.

The description of the Middle Year Course, with a change of terms, applies equally here. In addition to the contents, interpretation and theology, the character of Hebrew poetry and of Hebrew philosophy is carefully studied.

Text-book: The Bible in Hebrew and in English. The books of reference are too numerous to mention, as they include all the principal books and articles covering this part of the Holy Scriptures.

MR. BLODGETT

The following courses on the Old Testament in English are required of regular students dispensed from Hebrew.

Middle Year Course

Old Testament Prophecy to the Close of the Exile. Three hours a week, second term.

The period covered is that of the literary prophets from the time of Amos to the end of the Exile, with introductory lectures upon the development of the religion of Israel in the pre-prophetic period. The aim of the course is to gain knowledge of the contents of the several prophetic books, their critical introduction and theology, together with the ministry of the prophetic authors.

Senior Course

The Post-Exilic Period. Three hours a week, first term.

This is a study of the Jewish literature, history and theology from the close of the Exile to the time of our Lord. It is designed to consider not only the later prophetical writings of the Old Testament, but as much as possible of the extra-canonical literature, and the theology and religious institutions of later Judaism.

NEW TESTAMENT

PROFESSOR EDMUNDS

JUNIOR COURSE

The Synoptic Gospels. Three hours a week through the year.

The Synoptic Gospels are the chief study, and are read and compared in Gardiner's Greek Harmony with the aid of the standard grammars, commentaries, dictionaries of the Bible, lives of Christ and kindred works, the student being required to do a considerable amount of outside reading. The work is so ordered as to bring into relief the main outlines of the earthly Life of our Lord. In the latter part of the year attention is directed to the principles of Textual Criticism, the History of the Canon, and questions relating to the Origin of the Gospels.

MIDDLE YEAR COURSE

Selected Epistles. Three hours a week through the year.

The books read in the regular classes are the First Epistle to the Corinthians, the Epistle to the Romans, the Epistle to the Ephesians and the Epistle to the Hebrews. The effort is made to center the work around the life and teaching of St. Paul.

SENIOR COURSE

The Gospel according to St. John. Two hours a week, second term.

The Gospel according to St. John is taken up, and the various problems connected with it, such as date, authorship, historicity and relation to the Synoptic Gospels, are made the subject of careful study.

PROFESSOR ROPER

COURSE FOR JUNIORS DISPENSED FROM HEBREW

The First Epistle of St. Peter. Three hours a week, first term.

PROFESSOR KINSMAN

COURSE FOR JUNIORS DISPENSED FROM HEBREW

The Acts of the Apostles. Three hours a week, second term.

MR. HAMILTON

COURSE FOR JUNIORS

New Testament Greek. A course in the elements of the Greek Grammar with exercise in the translation of the New Testament is provided for those students whose preparation in this respect has been insufficient.

DOGMATIC THEOLOGY

PROFESSOR ROPER

Junior Course

Introduction to the Study of Dogmatic Theology. Lectures and reading. Two hours a week, second term.

Explanation is given of the terms religion, theology, doctrine, dogma, revelation, faith and authority, with lectures upon the formation and the history of the Creeds.

Text-book, Liddon, Lectures upon the Divinity of Our Lord.

Middle Year Course

The Doctrines of God, of the Holy Trinity and of Creation. Lectures, essays and reading. Three hours a week, first term.

Main lecture topics: The nature and attributes of God; the Person of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; the doctrine of the Holy Trinity studied historically; the use and significance of technical terms; the biblical doctrine of creation; the nature and ministry of angels; man's place in the universe; the unity of the race; biblical psychology; the Image of God in man; election and predestination; the fact and effect of the Fall; the biblical conception of sin.

Senior Year Course

The Incarnation, the Atonement, Grace and the Sacraments Eschatology. Lectures, essays and reading. Three hours a week through the year.

Main lecture topics: The Christology of the great Councils; the Virgin Birth of our Lord; the title "Son of Man"; modern Christology; kenotic controversies; the significance of our Lord's temptation and of His example; the conservative, illuminative and ethical force of the doctrine of the Incarnation; the Atoning Death of the Saviour; the Resurrection and Ascension; the Atonement studied historically; the Holy Spirit and the doctrine of grace; the Church the sphere of the Spirit's action; the Kingdom of God; Holy Baptism;

Holy Communion; the lesser sacraments; justification; conversion; assurance; merit and satisfaction; biblical eschatology; the final issues; the Intermediate State; conditional immortality; universalism.

Elective Courses

The Holy Eucharist. Seminar. Two hours a week, second term.

Introduction to the Study of the History of Doctrine. Lectures and seminar. Two hours a week, first term, 1907-1908.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY

PROFESSOR DENSLOW

Junior Course

Homiletics. Lectures and criticism of sermons. Three hours a week, first term.

The lectures present these topics chiefly: the preacher, the sermon, sermon-making and style. The principles taught are applied in the making of sermon-outlines and in the criticism of both published and manuscript sermons.

The books chiefly used are: Broadus, Preparation and Delivery of Sermons; Dupanloup, The Ministry of Preaching; Potter, The Art of Extemporary Preaching; Pattison, The Making of the Sermon; Baldwin, How to Write.

Middle Year Courses

Liturgics. Lectures and reading. Three hours a week through the year.

The earlier lectures present the outlines of early liturgical history and a fuller consideration of the origins and revisions of the Book of Common Prayer.

This course is followed by a commentary on the Book of Common Prayer, including a thorough examination of each Office and the discussion of many questions of rubric and ceremonial.

The books chiefly used are: Warren, Liturgy of the Ante-Nicene Church; Duchesne, Christian Worship; Maclean, Early Christian Worship; Pullan, The Book of Common Prayer; Batiffol, History of the Roman Breviary; Burbidge, Liturgies and Offices of the Church; Cornford, The Book of Common Prayer with Historical Notes; Daniel, The Prayer Book, etc.; Luckock, The Divine Liturgy; Proctor and Frere. New History of the Book of Common Prayer.

Senior Course

Pastoral Care. Lectures and reading. Two hours a week, second term.

The lectures consider in detail the duties of the parish priest. The Sunday-school; guilds, institutional work, preaching, parochial visiting and the personal life of the priest are some of the subjects discussed.

Students are urged to read such books as Newbolt's Speculum Sacerdotum, Parnell's Ars Pastoria, Furse's The Beauty of Holiness, Gott's Parish Priest of the Town, Butler's The Churchman's Manual of Methods in Sunday Schools.

Statutory Sermons

Each student is required to present during the three years nine written sermons, which are examined and criticized by the professor, and in many instances discussed with the writer.

ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY

PROFESSOR KINSMAN

Instruction in the History courses is given mainly by lecture. In addition to attendance at lectures, students are required to do systematic reading and to prepare each term several papers on assigned subjects.

JUNIOR COURSES

The Church during the First Three Centuries. Three hours a week, first term.

The subjects dealt with in lectures are: 1. Sources of knowledge of the Primitive Church. 2. The Apostolic Age. 3. Status of Christianity in the Roman Empire. 4. The Churches of the great cities. 5. Lives and writings of the Early Fathers. 6. Relation of Christian to Jewish and Greek Thought. 7. Ante-Nicene Theology. 8. Age of Constantine. 9. Arianism and the Council of Nicaea. Reading-lists are expected to show familiarity with most of the Christian literature of the first two centuries and with a number of recent works in English representing different schools of historical criticism.

Conciliar Period. Three hours a week, second term.

Lectures in this course deal with: 1. Successive stages of Christological controversy. 2. Relation of these to each other and to the faith of the Primitive Church. 3. Donatist and Pelagian controversies. 4. Dogmatic decisions of the first six General Councils. 5. Relations of Christianity and paganism. 6. Growth of the Patriarchates. 7. The lives of the leaders of the Church. 8. Age of Gregory the Great. Students are expected to make a special study of two representative theologians of the period, one Latin and one Greek.

American Church History. Ten hours in this course will be taken for lectures in the history of Christianity in America, and in particular of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Middle Year Course

The Church of the Middle Ages and the Continental Reformation. Three hours a week, second term.

A portion of the work in this course is done by examination on assigned work in text-book, the greater part by lectures supplemented by varied collateral reading. The subjects dealt with are as follows:

Eastern Church. 1. History of the Greek Church from the time of Justinian. 2. Mohammedanism and its effects upon Eastern Christianity. 3. The Russian Church. 4. The Schism between East and West.

Latin Christianity. 1. Stages in the growth of the Roman Papacy. 2. The Holy Roman Empire. 3. Western Monasticism and the Mendicant Orders. 4. Scholasticism and the Mediæval Doctors. 5. Decadence of the Papacy after the thirteenth century. 6. The Renaissance.

Continental Reformation. 1. The Saxon Reformation; Luther and Melancthon. 2. The Swiss Reformation; Zwingli and Calvin. 3. The Roman Reformation; the Jesuits and the Council of Trent.

Developments subsequent to the Continental Reformation. 1. Religious history of modern Germany. 2. Calvinism and its reactions. 3. Roman Catholicism since the Council of Trent.

Senior Course

History of the Church of England. Three hours a week, first term.

Instruction is chiefly by lecture with varied collateral reading, partly by examination on assigned portions of a text-book. The course deals with: 1. History of Celtic Christianity. 2. Conversion of the English. 3. The Church of England in the Middle Ages. 4. English Reformation; the struggle with Rome, the struggle with Geneva. 5. Anglicanism, as expressed in its formularies. 6. Leaders of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. 7. The three great movements of modern Anglicanism.

Elective Courses

1906-1907

The Church in Ephesus. Two hours a week, first term.

The Church in Smyrna. Two hours a week, second term.

1907-1908

Studies in the Apostolic Age. Two hours a week, first term.

The Church in Jerusalem. One hour a week, second term.

Critical Study of Eusebius' Church History, Book V. One hour a week, second term.

PROFESSOR SEABURY

SENIOR COURSES

Nature and Constitution of the Church, with particular reference to the evidence of Holy Scripture. Lectures and required reading. Two hours a week, first term.

Text-book: Seabury, Introduction to the Study of Ecclesiastical Polity.

Constitution and Laws of the Church, with particular reference to the evidence of History. Lectures and required reading. Two hours a week, second term.

Text-books: Seabury, Lectures on Haddan's Apostolical Succession, and Notes on the Constitution of 1901; Constitution and Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.

CHRISTIAN APOLOGETICS

JUNIOR COURSE

The Christian Revelation. Lectures, reading and papers. Three hours a week, first term.

The main topics discussed are: The character of Jesus Christ, the Resurrection, miracles, revelation and inspiration.

The books chiefly used are: Fisher, Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief; articles in Hastings' Dictionary of the Bible; Robbins, A Christian Apologetic; Simpson, Our Lord's Resurrection; Dods, The Bible, its Origin and Nature; Lee, The Inspiration of Holy Scripture; Sanday, Inspiration.

MIDDLE YEAR COURSE

Christian Theism. Lectures, reading, papers and discussions. Three hours a week, second term.

The aim of this course is to show that faith in God, the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, is consistent with knowledge and is the highest act of man's reason. The topics treated are: An exposition of the theistic arguments, considered as attempts at the analysis and rational justification of our religious consciousness; an examination of doubts as to the validity of our knowledge of God; an examination of the Ritschlian theology and its theory of knowledge; of materialistic and naturalistic theories, with special reference to some questions in regard to evolution and to the relation between mind and body; of pantheistic theories; and a comparison of these views with the Christian view as to nature, man and God.

The books chiefly used are: Illingworth, Personality Human and Divine, and Reason and Revelation; Orr, The Christian View of God and the World, and Ritschlianism; Fisher, Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief; Weber or Erdmann, History of Philosophy; Jevons, Evolution. The students are also referred to works of the most notable exponents of the various theories criticised.

Senior Course

Christian Experience. Lectures, reading and papers. Two hours a week, second term.

This course is a study of faith as exhibited in the lives and writings of Christian believers. It aims to show the nature of faith as involving the use of all our powers, reason, will and love, and the fitness of the Christian revelation to meet our deepest needs. The subject is treated with reference to various recent discussions of the psychology of religion; and the students are expected to read a number of these, a variety of biographies, and Walpole, Vital Religion.

Note.—As this course has already been taken by the present Senior Class, the course now required of Juniors will be substituted for it this year. The elective courses are given this year in the reverse order to that noted below.

Elective Courses

Comparative Studies in Religions. Lectures, reading and papers. Two hours a week, first term.

Studies in the Philosophy of Religion. Reading, discussions and lectures. Two hours a week, second term.

This course covers the same general ground as the Middle Year Course, but is more advanced.

JUNIOR COURSE

Elementary Hebrew. Three hours a week through the year.

In the first term the class makes as thorough a study as the time permits of the elements of Hebrew grammar, with exercises in translation and composition. In the second term the class reads selected chapters from some of the Historical Books, with exercises in sight reading and composition, with a view to the acquiring of a vocabulary and of a practical familiarity with the forms of the language.

MIDDLE YEAR COURSE

Studies in the Hebrew of the Poets and Prophets. Three hours a week, first term.

This course is designed to carry on and complete the work of Junior Year in preparing students to use the Hebrew Bible with facility in their study of Old Testament Exegesis.

Among the books recommended are: Gesenius-Kautzsch, Hebrew Grammar; Davidson, Hebrew Syntax; Driver, Hebrew Tenses; and the best available commentaries upon the books read.

The scheme of lectures is so arranged that Juniors who have already mastered the elements of Hebrew can be admitted to the Middle Year courses in Hebrew and Old Testament Exegesis.

ELECTIVE COURSES

These are one-term courses, and ordinarily only one can be given in the first term and only two in the second. The first three courses may be made either one or two hours a week.

Rapid Reading of one or more Books of the Old Testament This course is designed to aid men wishing to gain additional facility in the reading of the Hebrew language.

Studies in the Psalter. Selected Psalms are carefully examined with reference to questions of text, line of thought, authorship, New Testament quotations, and so on.

Studies in Textual Criticism. Comparison of parallel passages in the Massoretic Text, and of the Hebrew with the Septuagint Version.

Biblical Aramaic. Two hours a week, one term.

Reading of the Aramaic portions of Daniel and Ezra. This course is recommended to those who are proficient in Biblical Hebrew or who intend to do further work in the Semitic Languages.

Text-book, Strack, Grammatik des Biblischen Aramaisch, with references to Kautzsch.

Instruction will be given to those wishing to enter upon the study of Assyrian, Syriac or Arabic, as far as the time of the professor permits. Courses in the department of Semitic Languages in Columbia University are open to the students of the Seminary.

CHRISTIAN ETHICS

MR. HUNT

Middle Year Course

Ethical Origins. Lectures and essays. Two hours a week, first term.

The aim of this course is to provide both a general and a particular introduction to Christian ethics. Ethical development is studied historically on the basis of the data found in the Old Testament and in early ethnic codes.

Senior Courses

Christian Ethics. Lectures and essays. Three hours a week, first term.

The object of the course is a systematic presentation of the ethical teaching of Jesus Christ. Comparisons and contrasts are drawn between the teaching of Jesus Christ and that of various ethical schools and writers. The relation of this teaching to Christian Theology and to various types of ethical theory is also studied.

Applied Ethics. Three hours a week, second term.

The course aims at the practical application of the distinctive principles of Christian ethics to the problems of modern life. Current topics in personal and social ethics are used as the subject matter of this course. Special reference is made to the books recommended at the General Convention of 1904 in the Report of the Standing Commission on the Relations of Capital and Labor.

Elective Courses, 1906-1907

The Historical Study of the Decalogue. Seminar, one hour a week, first term.

The Study of Social Questions. Seminar, one hour a week through the year.

This seminar is open to Seniors and graduate students. In the second term members of the Middle Class are admitted as listeners.

ECCLESIASTICAL MUSIC

Junior Course

Voice production; the Chapel music; the grammar of music, notation, keys, scales, intervals, simple chords; sight-singing, ear-training; Gregorian chanting; notes on Plain-song; the Priest's part in choral Matins, Evensong and Litany; the choral portion of Merbecke's Plain-song Communion Service.

One hour a week through the year. Required of Juniors.

Middle Year Course

The Chapel music; vocal exercises; grammar of music, reviewed; the Priest's part in the choral Offices, reviewed; advanced sight-singing; two-part singing; the study of some anthems representative of the best periods; notes on the evolution of Church music.

One hour a week through the year. Open to Middlers as a voluntary course.

Senior Course

The Chapel music; vocal exercises; the Priest's part in all the choral Offices (the students ultimately receiving ample individual attention); notes upon the training of boys' voices, choir technic, congregational singing, "Gregorian" versus "Anglican" chanting, the choral Service, and other practical matters.

One hour a week through the year. Open to Seniors as a voluntary course.

ELOCUTION

Voice Training. One hour a week in class (two sections), and individual instruction to each student in turn, through the year.

This course includes: 1. Proper breathing and the actual use of the muscles involved in voice production. 2. Producing and placing the voice so as to secure power and purity of tone and to avoid fatigue and harshness. In this practice the singing of single notes and of the scale is employed to give the standard for a pure speaking tone. 3. Enunciation, inflection, emphasis, tone-color, rhythm and thorough control of expression. In this practice the natural expression of refined conversation is referred to as the origin of the forms of public expression. 4. Correction of natural defects and false habits of utterance. 5. Application of the foregoing to the reading of the Services and the Lessons; also to public speaking. 6. Practice of gesture.

MIDDLE YEAR COURSE

The Church Services. One hour a week in class (two sections), and individual instruction to each student in turn, through the year.

Thorough study of the reading of the Prayer-book and of the Lectionary, with criticism by the instructor of the reading of each student in private lessons. Review of voice training.

SENIOR COURSE

Delivery of Sermons. One hour a week in class (two sections), and individual instruction to each student in turn, through the year.

Study and practice of the effective delivery of original sermons and addresses, both written and extemporaneous. Review of voice training.

Daily private practice is required of every student; and each element of the progressive vocal culture must be mastered before he is regarded as competent to advance in the course. The regular semi-annual examinations include questions on the technic of elocution and tests in vocal exercises, reading, speaking and gestures.

Requirements for Regular Students Dispensed from Hebrew

Students canonically dispensed from Hebrew who desire to graduate as regular students of the Seminary must take work equivalent in amount to the Hebrew required in the curriculum, as follows:

As an equivalent to the Hebrew required in the Department of the Literature and Interpretation of the Old Testament, a course of lectures on the several books of the Old Testament in English. See page 18.

As an equivalent to the Hebrew required in the Junior Year in the Department of Hebrew, courses of instruction in each term of the Junior Year on certain Books of the New Testament in Greek that are not otherwise taken up in course. See pages 19 and 20.

As an equivalent to the Hebrew required in the Middle Year in the Department of Hebrew, students may choose, with the approval of the Faculty, any one of the Elective Courses open to members of the Middle and Senior Classes.

Elective Courses

These courses, announced in the scheme of study, are designed primarily to provide for qualified students of the Middle and Senior Classes the opportunity to pursue certain studies besides those of the regular courses. If any student who has completed the Junior year desires to take up any one of these courses, in place of a prescribed course, he may qualify himself to do so by getting the approval of the professor to whose department the elective course belongs, and by passing a satisfactory examination in any prescribed course, except those in Old Testament Interpretation, Pastoral Theology and Elocution.

If an elective course be substituted for a prescribed course in the same department, the time of the examination may be fixed by the professor; but in all other cases, except for urgent reasons and by special vote of the Faculty, the examination will be held at the opening of the term or year to which the prescribed course belongs.

The pass-mark given for these examinations will not affect the student's standing, the mark attained in the substituted elective course being recorded instead.

For courses of reading in preparation for any such examination, students are referred to the professors.

Any of these elective courses may, by permission of the faculty, be taken in addition to the prescribed courses of the Middle or Senior year without affecting the student's general standing.

Any of these courses may be taken by graduate students, subject to the approval of the Dean and Faculty.

Graduate Students

Alumni of the Seminary and graduates of other theological schools of the Church may be enrolled as graduate students. At the beginning of each half year they shall submit in writing, for the approval of the Dean and Faculty, a statement of the courses they have elected to pursue.

Graduate students who take courses for a year in at least three departments each term and pass the required examinations are entitled to receive a Fourth Year Certificate.

Columbia University

The General Theological Seminary is affiliated with Columbia University under the following agreement:

1. Columbia University shall admit without tuition fee such students of high standing in the General Theological Seminary as may be recommended by the Dean of that institution, to attend such courses of instruction in Columbia University as may be agreed upon from time to time by the President of the University and the Dean of the Seminary.

2. Columbia University shall accept, in partial fulfilment of the requirements established for the degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy, work done in the Seminary by students qualified to become candidates for those degrees at Columbia University under the following conditions:

(a) In every case the major subject of study shall be taken at Columbia University.

(b) The minor subjects of study, which, at the option of the student, may be taken at the Seminary, are: Oriental Languages, New Testament Greek, Ecclesiastical History, Philosophy of Religion, Ethics.

(c) All examinations for the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy shall be conducted by Columbia University.

3. The Dean of the General Theological Seminary shall be ex-officio a member of the University Council of Columbia University with the privileges of the floor but without the right to vote.

4. The General Theological Seminary shall admit, without fee for tuition, such students of high standing in the Senior Class of Columbia College and in the Graduate Schools of Columbia University as may be recommended by the President to such instruction at the Seminary as may be agreed upon by the Dean of the Seminary and the President of Columbia University.

5. The Library of Columbia University and the Library of the Seminary shall be open on equal terms to the students of both institutions.

The Bishop Paddock Lectureship

This Lectureship was founded in 1880, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, by George A. Jarvis, of Brooklyn, moved thereto by gratitude to God for the goodness and mercy that had followed him all the days of his life, and impressed by a deep sense of the good which would, with God's blessing, grow out of an endowment for the encouragement of "the defence and confirmation of the Gospel" by godly and well-learned men. He named it after his former beloved pastor and ever-endeared friend, Benjamin Henry Paddock, D.D., Bishop of Massachusetts.

The Lecturer is to be appointed by the Dean of the General Theological Seminary, the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Bishop of Connecticut, and the Bishop of Long Island, and their successors in office, or such of them as may accept such trust, who are designated and constituted "The Board of Appointment." He must be an ordained minister in good standing of this Church, or of some Church in communion with it; and shall deliver at such time and place as may be required a Course of Lecture Sermons, in number not less than four nor more than seven. And no previous Lecturer shall be eligible unless at least seven years shall have intervened between the two courses.

The subjects of the Lectures are to be such as appertain to the defence of the religion of Jesus Christ, as revealed in the Holy Bible and illustrated in the Book of Common Prayer, against the varying errors of the day, whether materialistic, rationalistic, or professedly religious; and also to its defence and confirmation in respect of such central truths as the Trinity, the Atonement, Justification, and the Inspiration of the Word of God; and of such central facts as the Church's divine order and Sacraments, her historical Reformation, and her rights and power as a pure and national Church. And other subjects may be chosen, if unanimously approved by the Board of Appointment as being both timely and also within the true intent of this Lectureship.

The Rev. WILLIAM RALPH INGE, D.D.

The Rev. WILLIAM PORCHER DU BOSE, D.D.

BACHELOR IN DIVINITY

The degree of Bachelor in Divinity is held to represent a scholarly acquaintance with the three languages, Hebrew, Greek and Latin.

The following persons are eligible for the degree of Bachelor in Divinity:

I. The members of the Graduating Class in each year who shall have attained an average grade of not less than ninety per cent in their studies during their entire Seminary course, and whom the Faculty may recommend as being, in their judgment, worthy to receive that distinction.

II. Graduates of any incorporated theological school of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have attained an average grade of not less than eighty-five per cent during their entire Seminary course, and who shall pass a satisfactory examination in at least two departments of Theology, to be approved by the Faculty.

All candidates for the degree of Bachelor in Divinity must present, one month before the degree is to be conferred, a theological thesis satisfactory to the Faculty.

The degree of Bachelor in Divinity will not be conferred upon anyone who is not in Priest's Orders and in good standing, nor will it, in any event, be conferred honoris causa.

DOCTOR IN DIVINITY

The degree of Doctor in Divinity will be conferred upon Alumni of the General Theological Seminary in Priest's Orders, and upon other clergymen in Priest's Orders of the Protestant Episcopal Church who shall have presented to the Dean evidence of their having received the degree of Bachelor in Divinity from some incorporated theological institution of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and who shall give evidence satisfactory to the Faculty of advanced study in one major and two minor subjects, approved by the Faculty, with the presentation of a thesis showing such originality of thought or extent of research as shall, in the opinion of the Faculty, justify them in recommending the candidate for the degree. The Faculty shall have power to accept, for either or both of the minor subjects, such departments cognate to the study of Theology as may be approved by the Faculty.

Any clergyman who desires to become a candidate for this degree, must send his application to the Dean. Each application must specify fully the nature of the course of study proposed under the prescribed major and minor divisions. Such applications will then be submitted to the Faculty for revision and approval.

Intending candidates should bear in mind the following general principles:

The course of study must in all cases be such as to represent capacity for original work. It must be the equivalent of from two to three years' continuous study. Candidates are advised to spend, if possible, at least one year in study at the Seminary.

The two minor subjects taken together should represent about one-third of the work.

Among subjects cognate to Theology from which selection may be made, the following are suggested: Philosophy, Anthropology, Ethics, Sociology, Biblical Archæology, Comparative Religions, Semitic Languages, Patristic Latin and Greek.

The candidate may, with the approval of the Faculty, present his subjects for examination separately and in any order.

The examiners shall have power to conduct the examinations either by written papers or by oral examination or by both; or, again, by prescribing a thesis covering the whole of the subject, or part of it, together with a written or oral examination thereupon.

Candidates for degrees who are unable, on account of residence at a great distance from the Seminary, or for other sufficient cause, to present themselves for examination in person, may be examined by commission, according to such a system as may be devised and approved by the Faculty.

The degree of Doctor in Divinity may be conferred by the Board of Trustees, without examination, for the authorship of some published theological work, which, in the judgment of the Faculty, furnishes a sufficiently important contribution to Theology to be rewarded by this distinction; such judgment to be certified in writing in each case to the Board of Trustees by the Faculty. The Board may also confer the degree, in its discretion, upon the Dean or any Professor of the Seminary, or upon any alumnus thereof elected to the Episcopate, whose election shall have been confirmed.

The Faculty may, for sufficient reasons, at any time when the Board of Trustees is not in session, recommend to the Standing Committee of the Board of Trustees the name of any clergyman who, in their judgment, ought to have the degree of Doctor in Divinity conferred upon him, and if the Standing Committee approve the recommendation, it may thereupon authorize the Dean to confer the degree in the presence of the Faculty at such time and place as he may select.

HOODS

Any clergyman upon whom this Seminary has conferred a degree is entitled to wear the hood pertaining to his degree; and when he is formally admitted to his degree, the form of admission will include vesting him with the appropriate hood, which shall be provided by the Seminary.

The hood of the Bachelor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of black ribbed silk, lined with purple silk.

The hood of the Doctor in Divinity is of the Oxford shape, and of scarlet cloth, lined with purple silk.

The fees for degrees (excepting those conferred honoris causa) are fifteen dollars in the case of a Bachelor and twenty-five dollars in the case of a Doctor. These fees must be paid to the Treasurer of the Seminary previous to the degrees being conferred, and shall cover the cost of the appropriate hood.

All graduates of the Seminary who have not received a degree in Divinity are entitled, after ordination, to wear a black stuff hood, with a purple border, not more than one inch wide, of the pattern known in England as the Literate's hood.

These hoods can be procured from the Bursar for five dollars each.

Fellowships

THE JOHN H. TALMAN FELLOWSHIP

This fellowship was founded in 1881 by Caroline Talman, of New York, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of her father, "The John H. Talman Fellowship."

The entire income of the endowment, after keeping the Talman room in the Seminary properly furnished, is to be paid to the holder of the fellowship in quarterly payments, excepting that, during a vacancy in the said fellowship, it is to be added to the endowment, or paid by order of the Dean of the Seminary to some necessitous student thereof, who on Sundays and Holy Days shall assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

This fellowship may be held for five years, and no longer, by any unmarried graduate of the Seminary in Holy Orders, who shall be appointed by the Faculty, with the approval or on the nomination of the Rector, if there be one, of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in this city; but such appointment must be renewed from year to year on evidence that the holder of the fellowship is fulfilling the purposes of the endowment.

The holder of the fellowship is to have access to the Library, admission to all the lectures, and free use of the Talman room, with the understanding that he shall leave the furniture in as good condition as he received it, ordinary wear and tear alone excepted. He must remain unmarried, reside in the Seminary buildings, pursue, under the supervision of the Faculty, such studies as meet their approval, and be subject to be called upon from time to time to give such evidence of his fidelity and proficiency in his studies as the Faculty may require. He shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour a day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction, and on Sundays and Saints' days assist the Rector of the Church of the Beloved Disciple in its services.

If he shall pursue any profession or employment otherwise than by permission of the Faculty and Standing Committee of the Seminary, or shall fail at any time to comply with its rules and regulations, he shall forfeit his right to the benefit of the fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty.

THE EMMA C. MAYO FELLOWSHIPS

Three fellowships were founded by a legacy of Emma Carrington Mayo, of Elizabeth, New Jersey, amounting to twenty-four thousand dollars.

The incumbents must be alumni of the Seminary, and be appointed by the Provincial Superior in America of the Society of Mission Priests of St. John the Evangelist, of Cowley, England, subject to the approval of the Faculty of the Seminary. They shall have access to the Library, and to all the lectures of the Seminary; shall remain unmarried; shall, if required by the Faculty, devote one hour each day to teaching in the Seminary under their direction; may reside in the Seminary, in rooms rented from the authorities at their own expense, or elsewhere, as they may prefer; shall pursue a course of study under the direction of the Faculty for the term of five years, at the end of which period the incumbency shall expire by limitation in each fellowship, and a successor in each, duly appointed as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the income thereof; except that the term of any of the fellowships may be extended by the said Provincial Superior with consent of the Faculty.

The holders of the fellowships may be permitted by the Faculty to pursue their studies abroad for such part of their incumbency as the Faculty shall approve and direct. If any incumbents of these fellowships shall violate any of the foregoing conditions, or pursue any profession or employment inconsistent with the full, fair and faithful performance of his duties and obligations as above set forth, he shall forfeit his right to the benefits of the fellowship, and may be removed therefrom by a resolution of the Faculty.

THE SALLIE EIGENBRODT FELLOWSHIP

This fellowship was founded by William E. Eigenbrodt, D.D., by legacy in 1894, with an endowment of ten thousand dollars, and called, in memory of his sister, "The Sallie Eigenbrodt Fellowship."

The nomination shall always be in the hands of the Dean of the Seminary.

In case of a vacancy in the fellowship the income shall be added, under the direction of the Dean, to the principal, or applied by him to assist indigent students in the Seminary.

Prizes

THE McVICKAR PRIZES

There are two Annual Prizes of thirty dollars and twenty dollars, founded in 1850 by the late John McVickar, D.D., and the late Rev. Henry McVickar, to be awarded by the Executive Committee of the Associate Alumni, to members of the Senior Class. The examination for these prizes shall be held during the Easter recess in each year, at such time and place as may be agreeable to the Faculty of the Seminary.

1. A prize of thirty dollars,* being known as the "Greek Alumni Prize," to be tested in open competition, by oral and written examinations (though as far as may be by the pen, after the manner of the English University Examinations for Honors) on the Greek Scriptures generally, including the Septuagint, and if oral, "ad aperturam libri," also in one or more of the Greek Fathers—such authors being designated to those competing for the prize at least six months before.

2. A prize of twenty dollars,* to be known as the "Alumni Prize in Ecclesiastical History," the examination in the same to be conducted as above—in part at least by the pen; and to have special reference to the early history and canonical independence of the Church of England, as being "sui juris," in all ecclesiastical matters, a distinct and independent branch of the Church of CHRIST.

Those intending to compete for the above prizes are to give their names as candidates to the Dean, or other presiding officer, at least a month before the Easter holidays; and between such only the competition is to be held and each prize awarded.

The above prizes are to be paid over annually before the Commencement by the Treasurer of the Seminary to the students to whom they have been respectively awarded by said Committee, as certified by its Chairman; but in case from any cause the distribution of the above prizes should not take place, then the interest of the fund is to be paid over to the Dean, or other presiding officer of the Seminary, to be distributed by him at his discretion among necessitous and deserving students.

The names of students receiving prizes are entered on record in a book kept in the Library for that purpose, entitled "The Alumni Prize Record," and are also entered in the Annual Report made by the Faculty to the Trustees.

SOCIOLOGICAL PRIZES

The Class of 1891 of the General Theological Seminary offered three annual prizes of one hundred dollars each, open to all undergraduate students of the Seminary in good standing, to be awarded to the author of the best original essay on some sociological subject, such subject to be selected by a committee appointed by the Class, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary. No student who has been awarded one of the prizes shall be eligible to compete for a subsequent prize. The judges to determine the merits of the various essays shall be appointed every year by the Committee of the Class of 1891, with the approval of the Dean and Faculty of the Seminary. Two of these prizes have already been awarded.

The subject for the essay for 1907 is "The Social Value of the Biblical Idea of the Kingdom of God." The essay must be submitted March 1, 1907, and the award will be made at Commencement.

Each essay is to contain at least 10,000 words, and no prize will be awarded if, in the opinion of the judges, the work does not attain the proper standard of excellence. The essays should be in manuscript or typewritten on one side only of sheets eight by ten inches, and there should be left a sufficient margin on the left side for binding.

The essays submitted become the property of the General Theological Seminary; and the Committee of the Class of 1891 reserves the right of publishing the prize essay, or any of the other competing essays.

The Committee of the Class of 1891 consists of

The Rt. Rev. Franklin S. Spalding, D.D., President.
The Rev. Willis Hatfield Hazard, Ph.D.
The Rev. Paul F. Swett, Secretary.

THE SEYMOUR PRIZE

(Next competition, 1908)

This prize for the encouragement of extemporaneous preaching, and the committing to memory of certain portions of the Book of Common Prayer, was founded by an unknown benefactor of the Seminary in the year 1874, and was named by him, in honor of the Rt. Rev. George F. Seymour, D.D., LL.D., then Professor of Ecclesiastical History, "The Seymour Prize."

The prize, as at present arranged, is a gold watch of the best American manufacture, with the inscription engraved on the inside, "Instant in season, out of season", the name of the prize, the year in which it was gained, and the full name of the person to whom it is awarded.

The competition shall take place every second year, beginning with 1876, on the third Saturday in January, and is open to matriculated students of the Senior and Middle Classes.

In order to be qualified to contend for this prize the founder prescribed that the student must be able to recite from memory the entire service for the Burial of the Dead, except the rubrics, inasmuch as the clergy are frequently called upon to perform this office when it is impossible to use the book.

The judges who shall award the prize shall be three in number, Presbyters, not Professors nor Instructors in the Seminary, to be selected by the Dean, or Acting Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition. They shall assign the theme to be discussed, in the form of a proposition or text of Scripture, not more than one hour before the exercises begin. The order in which the speakers are called shall be determined by lot, the judges drawing the names of the competitors and calling them in the order in which their names are drawn.

Each competitor, when he has concluded his sermon or address, shall immediately retire from the room where the exercises are held, nor shall he be allowed to be present at any time while his fellow-contestants are speaking. The time allowed the several speakers shall be the same for all, and shall be determined on each occasion by the judges, who shall meet immediately after the exercises are ended, and award the prize. In case they decide that no one of the efforts is of sufficient merit to deserve the prize, then the interest which has accrued shall be added to the principal, and go to enlarge the endowment.

THE GEORGE CABOT WARD (IN MEMORIAM) PRIZE

This is a prize of forty dollars, to be awarded annually to a member of the Senior Class, for the best reading of the Bible and of the Service of the Church.

The "best reading," according to the intention of the donor, is to be determined with special reference to reverence, distinctness, simplicity, naturalness, and the proper use of the voice.

The competition shall take place on some day in February, determined by the Dean. Ten men only, chosen by the Dean and Instructor in Elocution, as best fitted for the contest, shall be eligible.

The judges who shall award the prize shall be three laymen of the Church, selected by the Dean, at least two weeks before the day of competition. The prize shall be awarded by the judges immediately after the competition. The subject-matter chosen as a test for each student shall consist of not less than twenty verses of Holy Scripture, and of such parts of the Prayer Book Offices, other than the prayers, as shall be determined by the judges.

Scholarships

There are forty-four endowed scholarships, the income of which varies from about $125 to $225, which have been founded to aid needy students.

The Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New York also gives annual scholarships, through the Dean, varying in amount according to the need and the standing of the student.

It is distinctly the policy of the Seminary that scholarship aid should be proportioned to the earnestness and success of the student in his scholastic work. No scholarship aid is given to any student whose grade falls below seven on a scale of ten. And it should be remembered that these scholarships are intended for the assistance of those who could not otherwise meet the expenses of their Seminary course.

Scholarships are apportioned at the beginning of October, and printed forms of application may be obtained from the Bursar at that time.

The Library

The Library of the Seminary numbers nearly forty thousand volumes, exclusive of a large collection of pamphlets, and is shelved in an attractive reading room and two modern stacks.

No effort is spared to make the Library broad and well balanced in range, and to render the facilities for its use more numerous, and its resources more valuable. The dictionary catalogue and shelf arrangement make the literature of author and subject easily ascertainable, and for the special convenience of students the works of reference and general literature of the various Seminary courses are arranged in the study alcoves of the main reading room, in distinct groups.

In addition to the reading room and stacks, a special room is devoted to periodicals, of which the Library has a good representative collection. Another room contains the famous collection of Bibles, which is probably unsurpassed in the completeness of its Latin Texts.

Two Seminar rooms, supplied with collections of reference books, and works temporarily transferred from the main library, give opportunity for the use of large numbers of volumes during a long and uninterrupted period of time, by students doing special research work.

The Library is especially strong in Liturgics, American Church History and Patristics. With a view to maintaining its present position as a repository for the materials and records of American Church history, contributions are urgently solicited of any manuscript or printed matter relating to the history and progress of the Church. Diocesan Journals, of which the Library now has a remarkable collection, and Parish papers, are especially desired and will be properly cared for. The Alumni are urged to bear this request in mind, and also to send the Library copies of all their own published works.

The Library is open daily, except Sundays, from nine a.m. to five p.m. and from seven to ten-thirty p.m. Students may borrow three books at a time, for a period of one month. Graduate students and Fellows are given special privileges. Persons not connected with the Seminary may consult the Library at any time under the direction of the Librarian, but are not permitted to borrow books.

Students of the Seminary have also the privilege of using the Library of Columbia University.

The Missionary Society

The object of this Society is to gather information concerning the Missions of the Church, and to further a missionary spirit among the students. It is a chapter of the Church Students' Missionary Association. A room in Hobart Hall is devoted to its use.

Meetings.—Meetings are held twice a month through the Seminary year. The first meeting of each month is devoted to business; at the other missionary addresses are given.

Services.—At the Celebration of the Holy Eucharist on the first Wednesday of each month special prayers for Missions are said, and a special offering is taken to be expended in the cause of Missions. A Missionary Litany is said every Monday at noon, and a devotional address is given once a month at one o'clock.

Work.—Six Missionary Study Classes are conducted among the students. The Society helps in the support of the C. S. M. A. Missionary in China and of the Assyrian Mission.

General Information

The General Theological Seminary was founded in 1817, for the education of Candidates for Holy Orders, and was designed to be an institution which should "have the united support of the whole Church of these United States, and be under the superintendence and control of the General Convention," with a Board of Trustees representing all the Dioceses.

SITUATION

The Seminary buildings are situated on Chelsea Square, in the City of New York, bounded by Ninth and Tenth Avenues, Twentieth and Twenty-first Streets. The buildings will accommodate one hundred and seventy-five students. The site is considered one of the healthiest in the city. There are obvious advantages incident to residence in New York. The students come into contact with church life at one of its great centres. There are opportunities for the study, at first hand, of religious and philanthropic activities as embodied in parochial organization and institutional and settlement work, which can hardly be rivalled elsewhere. And where it is necessary, students find it easy to obtain work which materially aids in self-support.

CHAPEL SERVICES

During the academic year the Holy Communion is celebrated in the Chapel on every Sunday at 7.30 a.m., and on all other days at 7 a.m. Morning Prayer is sung at 8.30 a.m. every day except Sunday, and Evening Prayer at 5.30 p.m. daily. On Wednesday and Friday the Litany is said at noon. Students are expected to attend Morning and Evening Prayer regularly, save when hindered by necessity.

During Advent and Lent special sermons and devotional services are arranged year by year.

In Memoriam.—By order of the Trustees the chimes are rung, under direction of the Dean, on October 6th and February 18th, these being the days when the late Samuel Verplanck Hoffman and Glorvina Rossell, his wife, to whom the Seminary owes the Chapel, entered into rest.

The chimes are also rung on March 21st, the birthday of the late Eugene Augustus Hoffman, D.D., for twenty-three years Dean of the Seminary and generous benefactor.

ADVANCED AND GRADUATE WORK

It is the earnest wish of the authorities of the Seminary to encourage advanced and graduate work. Facilities are given to undergraduates to pursue elective work in certain Departments under conditions set forth elsewhere in the catalogue; and graduates are encouraged to return, under advice of their Bishops, for a fourth-year course of study. Clergymen, graduates or otherwise, wishing to come to the Seminary for special work are welcomed, and, so far as possible, scholarship aid is given them when necessary.

ROOMS AND EXPENSES

The tuition is free. The rooms are furnished, with the exception of bed-clothing. The total charge, covering room and board, light, heat, and care of room, is $225, payable in advance semi-annually, in September and January. No deduction is made save for prolonged absence on account of sickness. Other personal expenses will, of course, vary according to the habits of the individual student. Every student is required to provide himself with cap and gown.

PROVISION FOR THE SICK

A regular physician, appointed by the Trustees, has daily office hours at the Seminary, and is in general charge of the physical culture of the students. His services are free to all students of the Seminary. There are two free beds and two free rooms in St. Luke's Hospital, to which the Dean has the right to nominate any clergyman or student of the Seminary.

The Association was organized in October, 1832, and incorporated in 1889. It is designed to embrace all the graduates of the Seminary. Its objects are: To cherish a spirit of mutual interest and union among its members, to advance the cause of theological learning and evangelical truth and piety, and to promote the advantage of the Institution with which it is connected.

The Annual Meeting is held on the day before the Commencement, when an essay is delivered. A triennial meeting may be held during the session of the General Convention, when a sermon is preached before the Alumni.

The Seminary still needs larger endowments and additional buildings to enable it to meet the demands upon it.

A lecture hall can be built for $80,000, and may be made a memorial.

A dormitory to accommodate sixteen students can be built for $50,000, and may be made a memorial.

A house for a Professor can be built for $35,000.

The following are the most pressing of its needs for endowments:

1. To endow unendowed Professorships, each, at least . . $100,000
2. To complete the endowment of two Professorships, each . 75,000
3. To endow Lectureships, each 15,000
4. To endow Fellowships, each . . . . . 10,000 to 15,000
5. To endow Scholarships, each 5,000

The Library has an endowment of six thousand dollars only. This endowment ought to be increased to one hundred thousand dollars.

The Seminary looks to its friends, and to Churchmen in every part of the country, to supply these needs. Will not its Alumni and friends make appeals in its behalf?

Form of a Bequest of Money

I give and bequeath to the General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, a corporation created by the laws of the State of New York, for its corporate purposes, the sum of .....dollars.

Form of a Devise of Real Estate

I give and devise to the General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, a corporation created by the laws of the State of New York, for its corporate purposes, all (Here describe lands or property devised.)
